Committee's Report On High School

The committee, appointed at the last meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association, consisting of Mrs. Robert F. Duer, Chairman, Mrs. H. P. Dashiell, Mrs. Thomas Pinto, Mr. John E. Holland and Mr. Thomas Nichols, to visit Washington High School and submit to the Association the result of their investigation is as follows:

The full committee met at the High School on Friday, the 23rd ulto., and were cordially received by the Principal and the other teachers and were invited to visit and inspect the different rooms in the school. School was in session at the time and our committee had the opportunity to observe the attendance, which was very good.

We found the school building in fairly good condition, but needing paint and a thorough cleaning. The building is very crowded and is entirely too small in every respect for the accomplishment of the greatest good for the children. The Manual Training teacher, we are informed, could instruct double the number of pupils at a time, if he had room to accommodate them. Likewise, the teacher of Domestic Science has room entirely inadequate for proper training of those pupils in her department.

On the whole, the committee was favorably impressed with the conditions at the school, considering the congested condition, due to being greatly overcrowded, and we would suggest that the Association appoint a committee to wait upon the school board to urge the construction or purchase of some building suitable for a primary school, or improve the present building, as the entire building now in use is needed for the higher grades exclusively, in order that the school might conform to the State Board requirements for an accredited High School.

Mr. Lano Marries An English Lady

Mr. and Mrs. James Milden, an English family who sojourned for a short time in Somerset county, now residing at Sagerstown, Pa., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sarah Maude, to Mr. Jesse Louis Lano, of Princess Anne, on April 22nd, 1920.

Miss Milden is a true and accomplished daughter of our mother country, but it is quite evident that a greater love exists for our good old U. S. A. Mr. Lano is a prominent young business man of this town, and a member of the firm of Frank Lano & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Lano will reside at "Bonaventure," which was originally a part of "Arcadia."

Old Fashioned Spelling Bee

The Civic Club of Princess Anne will hold an old fashioned spelling bee in the Court House on Monday night, May 10th, beginning at 7.30 o'clock.

This spelling bee is given to you:
"No nothing novel, 'tis nothing new;
We send you each a little sack,
Please either send or bring it back
With as many cents as you are years old—
We promise the numbers will never be told.
The money received will help sprinkle the streets,
Provided you come or watch the others quake,
You may either spell or watch the others quake,
But remember the best speller gets the cake!"

Personal invitations cannot be sent to all, but all are invited. If you are unable to be present send sack to chairman, Mrs. William H. Gale.

NOT WELCOMED WITH BRASS BAND

Oystermen And Crabbers "Displeased" With Gordon Milbourne

"There is one member of the Legislature," says the Baltimore News, "who was not met at the station upon his home-coming from the last session with a brass band and his 'fellow-citizens' patting him on the back. Nor was the fatted calf killed when Gordon E. Milbourne set foot in his native town in Crisfield. On the contrary, he claims that he is the target for a broadside of abuse that is being heaped upon him daily."

"Now, it appears that Milbourne is chairman of the House Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries Committee in the Legislature. While in that august body at the last session he is said to have earned the enmity of some constituents by a willingness to have a tax of something like one-third of a cent a dozen placed on soft crabs, and something like 3 cents a barrel on oysters."

"Milbourne took this stand, so he affirms, because the State Conservation Commission was short of funds to the tune of $54,000. It was his contention that the Commission did a noble work in protecting the oyster beds and crab fields (or wherever the crabs gather during the summer months) and that the men who were protected should be willing to make the Commission self-sustaining."

"Not so the fishermen and crab collectors. Milbourne, they contended, was trying to 'work a hardship' on them by even giving ear to any such proposition as 'taxation.' And this, despite the fact that soft crabs and oysters were selling the last year for about three times what they ever brought before."

"The bill to tax the oystermen and fishermen died in committee and never came to the floor for a vote. Now Milbourne is being attacked on all sides in Crisfield as a man opposed to his people. They want protection for their oyster beds and crab fields, but did not want to pay for that protection; and Milbourne feels that he is unjustly accused when he tried to continue that protection."

The World Church Drive

All the churches of the 30 denominations co-operating in the financial campaign of the Interchurch World Movement launched the campaign for $336,777,572 at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon the 25th ulto., simultaneously in Baltimore and throughout the country. Several denominations which are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement already have held their financial campaigns and are participating in the survey and other phases of the movement.

One of the purposes for raising this vast sum is to make it possible to guarantee to the average minister a living wage. The average minister in Maryland is said to receive about $1,014 a year, according to the statistics gathered on this subject, while the average amount paid by each communicant toward the preacher's salary is $4.26 a year. The average in California is the highest, with $11,800, and New Jersey comes second, with $1,276. Only 71 ministers in the entire country are said to be receiving $555 or more. Kentucky ranks lowest, with an average of $562 a year, and Arkansas next lowest, with $564.

Mrs. S. P. Woodcock Dead

Mrs. Samuel P. Woodcock died at her home on Camden avenue, Galesburg, last Tuesday night after an illness of nearly a year. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Smith. She was married in 1886 to Samuel P. Woodcock. At that time she was the widow of Albert Wood.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Woodcock is survived by the following sons and daughters: The Misses Alice and Emma Wood, of Salisbury; Mrs. A. B. Lansing, of St. Louis; S. Franklin Woodcock and Miss Mamie Woodcock, of Salisbury; surviving brothers and sisters are: E. C. Smith, of Salisbury; Edward Smith, George Smith, Mrs. Emma Moore, Mrs. Edward Pyle and Mrs. Wilbur F. Jackson, all of Baltimore.

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Woodcock home, the Rev. J. M. Henson officiating. Burial was in Parsons Cemetery, Salisbury.

April Weather

The weather report for the month of April as compiled by Mr. James R. Stewart, co-operative observer of Princess Anne, follows:

Maximum temperature 81 degrees, on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd; minimum temperature 27 degrees on the 11th; total precipitation 3.69 inches; clear days 9; partly cloudy, 14; cloudy, 7. Killing frosts on the 11th and 15th; thunder storms on the 20th and 21st; high wind on the 7th; ice on the 9th and 11. The prevailing wind was northwest.

DR. STEPHENS RE-ELECTED

Action of State Board a Surprise to Governor Ritchie

Dr. M. Bates Stephens has been re-elected State Superintendent of Education for a term of four years, beginning June 1, 1920, when his present term expires. Action was taken last Wednesday at a meeting of the State Board of Education in the temporary administration building on West Madison street, Baltimore.

All the members of the School Board as now constituted were present, except Dr. John M. T. Finney, who is in New Orleans. The vote for Dr. Stephens was unanimous.

Prior to the taking of the vote a by-law was adopted providing that the office should be filled not less than 80 nor more than 90 days before June 1, when the State Superintendent begins the term for which he is chosen. This by-law was adopted because the new school law, passed in 1916, contained no time clause for the election of the State Superintendent. It does, however, provide that the superintendents of county schools shall be chosen before June 1, in order to give the men opportunity to familiarize themselves with the duties of their position before taking office on August 1. The new rule was intended, it was said, to make the practices conform in so far as the interim is concerned.

Yesterday, (Monday) Van Lear Black and Thomas H. Chambers, two new members of the State Board of Education, assumed their duties along with Dr. Finney who has been re-appointed. The new board meets to organize on the last Wednesday in May. It had been assumed that Dr. Stephens would be re-elected at this meeting, as it was generally understood that a majority, if not all the members of the State Board, were favorable in his retention.

Governor Ritchie said Wednesday he was not opposed to the retention of Dr. Stephens, although he had no inkling of the intention of the State Board of Education. His attitude was one of inquiry into the school situation. He is said, however, to be interested in the meeting of the School Board and he is expected to issue a statement concerning it after he has been informed of all the facts.

Philip D. Laird Dead

Former Public Service Commissioner Philip D. Laird died last Wednesday at his home at Rockville, Md., after an illness of several months. Mr. Laird was 73 years old, a lawyer of prominence and a former speaker of the House of Delegates.

Mr. Laird is survived by a widow, who was Miss Ella M. Magruder before her marriage.

Mr. Laird was born at Cambridge, Dorchester county, and attended Dorchester County Academy and Rugby Academy, Baltimore county. He later studied law and was admitted to the Dorchester county bar. In 1874 he moved to Virginia, but returned to Maryland three years later and settled at Rockville.

At the age of 26 he was a Democratic Presidential elector and was elected to the House of Delegates in 1886, 1888 and 1890. In 1892 he was appointed Land Commissioner by Governor Brown. He became a member of the Public Service Commission in 1910, when it was organized, and served with it continuously until he was forced to resign about two years ago because of poor health. He was named chairman of the Commission four years ago by Governor Harrington.

New Fairbanks Picture Tonight

There's absolutely no secret about the wonderful ability Douglas Fairbanks displays in doing his hazardous stunts and the way he does them, for Doug is just like a boy who has never grown up. He is constantly trying new perilous feats that keep everyone around his studio in a constant state of breathless suspense.

During the making of his latest production for the "Big Four," "When the Clouds Roll By," which will be shown at the Auditorium tonight—Tuesday, Doug decided that one scene would be improved if he performed a standing back somersault. But he had never done such a stunt and did not know quite how to go about it. For days and days he practiced in his gymnasium at the studio and incidentally got some rather severe falls. Still he would not give up. And when the day finally arrived for the filming of this particular "set" he did his back somersault without the slightest bit of trouble.

The April term of the Circuit Court for Dorchester County convened Monday of last week in Cambridge. Judges Pattison, Duer and Bailey presiding. Judge Duer delivered the address to the grand jury.

SANDY SPRINGS BANK LOOTED

Six Men Enter Institution and Shoot Down Francis M. Hallowell

That the bandits who robbed the First National Bank at Sandy Springs, Md., Monday of last week, after killing Francis M. Hallowell, one of the directors, were determined to shoot to kill if molested is proven by the fact that they spent Sunday at Fulton, Howard county, practicing pistol shooting.

The bandits, six in number, parked their cars in a meadow at Fulton and remained there all day. Toward noon they drew a target on an old newspaper and pinned it to a tree. Each member of the gang fired at least 25 shots at the target.

While police and deputy sheriffs were scouring the state for the bandits bank officials and the Fidelity and Deposit Company adjusters audited the books of the bank last Tuesday afternoon to ascertain just how much money was stolen. The bank was insured against burglary and holdup by the Fidelity and Deposit Company, therefore, will not stand the loss.

The savings institution connected with the bank reported a loss of $3000, and $2000 in money was taken of the national bank's funds. In addition to this, however, it was ascertained this afternoon that the bandits stole six safe deposit boxes from the vault which contained Liberty Bonds and other notes and other securities belonging to depositors of the bank. The Liberty Bonds taken will total $2000, it was said at the bank.

Four of the safe deposit boxes, broken and their contents gone, were found this afternoon on the banks of the Patuxent River at Schnell's Bridge by members of Sheriff George E. Nicholson's posse.

In addition to the $5000 offered by the County Commissioners and the $5000 by the bank officials for the capture of the bandits, the Fidelity and Deposit Company Friday afternoon of $1000 and ten per cent. of the money recovered.

The bank officials who were assaulted by the bandits are none the worse from their experiences today. Asa M. Stabler, the president, is nursing a badly lacerated head. Alvin G. Thomas, Francis Miller, Fred L. Thomas and Miss Sallie Brooks were at their posts Tuesday morning as usual.

Mrs. Barnes Gives Birthday Party

Mrs. Gordon H. Barnes entertained a large birthday party at her home, King's Creek, on Saturday, April 10th, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Indiana R. Howeth, who celebrated her 76th anniversary.

The dining room was decorated with palms, ferns and spring flowers, the color scheme being yellow. After a lovely dinner, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, they were all escorted into the living room where music was rendered by Mrs. Samuel S. Barnes, the first piece being "That Wonderful Mother of Mine." As Mrs. Howeth was married the last year of the Civil War they also played and sang "Lee's Surrender," "The Bonnie Blue Flag," and other selections. Mrs. Barnes' guests were her brothers, sisters and their families, including Mr. and Mrs. R. Weldon Howeth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Howeth and Mrs. Roland E. Boyer, of Baltimore; Mrs. James Ferebee and daughter, Ruth Miles, of Elizabeth City, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scott and daughter, Elizabeth, of Pocomoke City, and Mrs. Howeth's granddaughter, Mrs. Guy Winston, of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. Henry F. Barnes. Mrs. Howeth received many congratulations.

Agricultural Association Meetings

Meetings in all the communities of the county will be held by the County Agricultural Association in an effort to get all the farmers of the county to enroll in the association. There are now nearly two hundred farmers enrolled in the association. Last week meetings were held at Jamestown and Marion Station.

Meetings this week will be held at Westover Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the school house; Quinton school house, Thursday evening, May 6th, at eight o'clock.

It is urged that all farmers in these communities attend these meetings and hear the purposes of the association discussed. The wage scale for farm labor, which has been adopted by the association, will be considered. The schedule which appeared in the last issue of this paper was incorrect. Instead of setting out tomato plants at 25 cents an hour, should have been setting out plants at 30 cents an hour.

All nature now rejoices with her thousand happy voices, while the woods are filled with the fragrance of blossoming trees and bushes.

EDUCATION BOARD APPOINTED

Governor to Order Survey of Schools—Black Succeeds Thos. H. Bock.

A State-wide survey of the schools to find out "if anything is the matter with them" will be his chief concern for the next year and a half, Governor Ritchie told the clubwomen, at their annual meeting which convened at the Young Women's Christian Association, Baltimore, last Wednesday morning.

The Governor made it clear that he meant business. It would be a "real, honest and sincere survey," he declared, to put Maryland, as regards schools and education, in the very front rank of States.

"I want to make something on education lines the outstanding feature of my administration," he stated.

Outside, however, of announcing his plan to make a survey, the Governor was rather non-committal on school conditions as they exist at present and if any among his audience expected from him any light on the fight that is being waged on the State Superintendent of Education, they were doomed to disappointment. He said he would approach the whole matter of the schools with an open mind, saying he had no prejudice and no feeling in regard to the schools.

"It is more or less green and virgin soil to me. All I know is that I want to see the best that can possibly be done for the growing generation of the State. I want to see our boys and I want to see our girls receive the best possible education we can give them," he said.

The Governor on Wednesday reappointed Dr. John M. T. Finney a member of the State Board of Education, and to succeed Thos. H. Bock of Princess Anne, long a member, whose term has expired, he named Van Lear Black of Baltimore. Mr. Black's term is for the full time of six years, and Dr. Finney, named to succeed himself, is appointed for a like period.

Thomas H. Chambers of Federalburg, whom Governor Harrington appointed when Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Lewis of Westminster resigned last year, and who failed to qualify, has been reappointed by Governor Ritchie. Mr. Chambers is also named for a full term.

Much interest has attached to these appointments because of the recent fight made under cover against the retention of Dr. M. Bates Stephens as State Superintendent of Schools. No candidate has yet appeared for Dr. Stephens' place, which is to be filled up on the organization of the new board May 1. Dr. Stephens has been State Superintendent since 1900. Dr. Henry M. Fitzhugh of Carroll, Clayton Purnell of Allegany, William T. Warburton of Cecil and Sterling Galt of Frederick are the hold-over members of the State board.

Washington High School Notes

On Thursday, April 29th, the Boy Scouts of the Washington High School defeated the Salisbury Scouts at a game of base ball by a score of 4 to 2. The game was played in Salisbury.

Friday afternoon May Day was celebrated by the pupils of the sixth and seventh grades. Appropriate exercises were held, in the course of which the pupils presented their teacher, Miss Caton, with a May basket.

Last Friday afternoon the girls of the Washington High School met the girls of the Crisfield High School in a game of basket ball. The game, which was played on the Washington High School court, was an easy victory for the home team, the final score being 23 to 8 in favor of Washington High School. The W. H. S. line-up was as follows: Centers, E. Bailey, H. Holden; forwards, D. Adams, D. Baltz; guards, N. Bounds, M. Dashiell.

The pupils in the Manual Training Department are busy preparing for the annual manual training exhibit. As many useful and attractive articles have been made, including toy automobiles—which will actually run—and spacious Morris chairs, which are guaranteed to make a pipe and a corner by the fireside seem the most desirable things in the world, the exhibit promises to be most interesting and successful.

The faculty of the Washington High School will meet the High School team in a game of basket ball some time during the next week. The High School team, fresh from its victory over Crisfield, is anticipating a "walk-over." They maintain that mental gymnastics do not bring about physical prowess and are contemplating the coming slaughter with amusement and a touch of pity. The faculty is very reticent about the whole matter. Probably they are regretting their daring at having challenged such a splendid team. The public is urged to come out and root for the weaker team.

BOND ISSUE FOR PRINCESS ANNE

Commission Named In The Law To Improve Water System

A Bill entitled an Act to authorize and empower the President and Commissioners of Princess Anne, in Somerset County, State of Maryland, to issue bonds and to appropriate the proceeds arising from the sale thereof towards repairing, rebuilding, reconstructing, enlarging, extending and improving the system of water supply and distribution in the town of Princess Anne, and naming a commission to take charge of and conduct said improvements and reconstruction.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That the President and Commissioners of Princess Anne, or a majority of them, are hereby authorized and empowered to employ a competent engineer or expert in the construction of municipal water supply systems at a reasonable compensation, and to lay out or re-lay out and to repair, reconstruct, improve, enlarge and extend the system of water supply and distribution now in use in said town, and said Commissioners herein named shall have the power to contract for the building or rebuilding, construction or reconstruction of said water supply system or any part thereof and shall have power to require the person or persons to whom any such contract may be awarded to execute a bond to the said President and Commissioners of Princess Anne with security or sureties and with penalty approved by said President and Commissioners of Princess Anne and conditioned for the faithful performance of his or their contract or contracts, in accordance with the specifications as supplied by the Commissioners herein named, provided that the said construction or reconstruction, enlargement or improvement of the said water supply system herein provided for shall not exceed in cost, in the aggregate, said sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, and provided further that when so

MOLLIE

By MILDRED WHITE

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

"David," said Eleanor, "I warn you, do not propose to me again. It's getting to be the habit with you, and I am at the end of my patience. You know very well that I do not love you; if I did, I would have married you long ago. Frankly, you are not a lovable man, David, or rather, you are too humble to inspire deep admiration. Women do not wish to be 'unreasonably' adored, David. I tell you this for your own good. They admire independence in a man, it wins respect. Now, David, haven't you adored me 'unreasonably'? No matter how I have treated you, and I admit that my whims have been inexorable—you have promptly forgiven them all, David, and such devotion is tiresome. Please stop it. Devote your mind to your work—and forget me."

Eleanor's black eyes gazed up at her patient lover relentlessly. She nodded to him without a softening smile, and bent determinedly over her desk. David sighed and turned slowly to cross the floor to where his own desk stood. He reflected, as he fell into his easy chair, that Eleanor was right. No woman respects a man's utter self abnegation. But it had been impossible to give anything save entire devotion to Eleanor, from the moment she had first entered the office twenty years ago and the vision of her there had filled his honest heart with daily joy. David had been a medical prodigy until the time of her coming; since then his hopeful dreams had faded with a new and successful ambition, and he had risen rapidly in his place. Eleanor had accepted his attentions, the little pleasures he delighted to give her until David asked her to marry him. Eleanor did not wish to marry David. She told him so and was aggrieved that he should thus bring their friendship to a close. The dark-eyed, witch-like little creature had long cherished an ideal of the one who must masterfully win her heart. A dominating, yet tenderly winning prince, who, all unheeding of various other admiring suitors, would come to her and claim her.

David, bending patiently over his work, his wistful, gray eyes turned often in silent appeal toward her—David had no part in this picture. He would not, he told himself wearily, annoy Eleanor again with his protestations, and he looked up absently at a young girl who stood before him. She was the new stenographer, he remembered, awaiting his orders. So David proceeded to give them. The girl lingered for a moment, copy book in hand, her wide blue eyes full of unspoken sympathy. Uncomfortably David realized that she, as well as the rest of the office force, was aware of his secret and hopeless affection.

During days which followed, Mollie, the new girl, was often at David's side. She formed a habit of leaving a fresh flower or two on his desk, or of staying after hours, unasked, to help him with an accumulation of work. David liked the girl. There was something so unaffectedly boyish about her. A chummy, yet wholly respectful attendance which charmed Mollie's sincere admiration for David became an office watchword.

"If old Dave says so, it's all right," her companions would jibe.

"He is so wonderful," the new girl ingenuously confided to Eleanor, "full of quiet power like the great men who do things in movies."

"David!" Eleanor exclaimed, "David like that!"

"And his hair," Mollie went on dreamily, "don't you love the way it sort of whitens at the sides, and the look in his gray eyes as if he'd suffered and all, and borne it?"

Eleanor turned to look unbelievably in the girl's pretty rose flushed face.

"Mollie," she said slowly, "Mollie, it cannot be that you are falling in love with David Morse."

"The girl tossed her head. "Why not?" she asked defiantly.

Eleanor was unusually thoughtful during the remainder of the day. She looked askance at the little stenographer when upon the following morning she placed a single carnation upon David's desk. And when David, true to his new determination, was about to pass Eleanor at closing time without a word of good-by, she arose suddenly and came with proffered hands toward him.

"David," murmured Eleanor, her audience charmed him. "David, would you like to walk home with me to-night, I—I have missed you so."

"Like!" cried David joyously. And clasped closely the proffered hands.

"Well, Lady Eleanor's got her David back again," taunted one of Mollie's companions.

The little stenographer smiled slyly.

"All she needed was a jolt," she said.

Malucky Simile.

"I am as innocent as a child of the charge of cheating that there hog, old, provoked an acquaintance.

"Well," replied "Cap" Johnson of Ramsey Ridge, Ark., "as I've got 14 children and am totally well educated in the possibilities and probabilities of the little games, I'll just say that your dealer don't fetch you nothing but—"

FREDERICK WOMAN WAS FRIEND OF BARBARA FRITCHIE

Mrs. Addie James, Oldest Of Maryland's Salvation Army "Lasses."

IS TRUE TO CREED

Frederick, Md., April 24.—A friend of Barbara Fritchie, whose heroic action during the Civil War has been perpetuated in verse, and a woman who has taken an active part in two wars, Mrs. Addie James, of 506 North Market street, this city, has the honor of being the oldest Salvation Army "lassie" in Maryland, if not in the entire country. Though she is in her 84th year, Mrs. James is active and loyal in her support of the one church she has known.

Mrs. James was a young woman when she came here two years before the Civil War broke out. She immediately became popular in society and made many friends. During the four years of bloody turmoil which followed the outbreak of the Civil War, she was unceasing in caring for the soldiers, blue-clad and gray-garbed, who continually streamed through this city.

She was a witness of the battle fought within the limits of old Frederick; she heard the boom of the great guns on the historic Gettysburg field and she often saw the figure of the gallant Stonewall Jackson. She was always among the first to minister to the wounded of the great struggle of half a century ago and when the war with Germany broke out, although too old to nurse America's boys she made scores of them happy with the clothing she knitted and sent to them.

Then, almost 30 years ago, there came to Frederick a little band of Salvation Army Workers. It was not long before Mrs. James, seeing the great work done by the members of this band, became one of their most ardent members. For a number of years she took an active part in their services and true to the spirit of the organization, has been a loyal member ever since. There hangs on her wall now the picture of the first commander of the Army in America.

For almost 20 years the Salvation Army was unable to maintain a corps of workers in this city, but Mrs. James, the true Salvationist, held to her first convictions. When asked of what church censuses she was a "Salvationist." Through the period of 30 years she remained true to the Army standard of militant righteousness although she attended various churches.

Through these years other organizations have come and gone here and have tried to do the same work on a smaller scale. But the spirit of the Salvation Army has lived in the heart and conduct of Mrs. James.

With the same indomitable zeal this true Salvationist did her bit in the great war just ended. Although her age prevented her from taking an active part in caring for the brave khaki clad boys who fell on the field of battle, her heart was with them as her fingers deftly wielded the needles and other articles to shield the which she used to make sweaters, soldiers against the biting winds. Whole days, from early in the morning until the sun had long disappeared, did she spend in knitting these necessary articles for the young fighters.

A Voice From Sioux City, Iowa, says

Worth Its Weight In Gold

You cannot mistake the words of Mr. W. W. Northrup, of 908 Fourth Street, Sioux City, Iowa. He is enthusiastic about his present health and the merits of PE-RU-NA and wants everyone to know it. Here is a recent letter from him:—

"PE-RU-NA is worth its weight in gold and then some. I used to think it only a woman's remedy but have changed my mind. I had a cough, especially in the morning. After using half a bottle of PE-RU-NA was much better. I would cough up chunks of phlegm and mucus, my eyes itched and bothered me. Judging from the symptoms given in your almanac it was catarrh. My stomach is in much better condition since using your medicine."

"Use this testimonial, if you wish. Don't hesitate to advertise the merits of PE-RU-NA."
(Signed) W. W. NORTHROP.

There are thousands just like Mr. Northrup, skeptical at first but convinced by a trial of PE-RU-NA.

DON'T BE AN UNBELIEVER.

If your trouble is of a catarrhal nature, try PE-RU-NA, then tell your friends. It is fine after an attack of grip or Spanish Flu.

WEALTH IN DETROIT RIVER

Waters Said to Conceal Valuables That Would Easily Be Worth Millions of Dollars.

While thousands are striving to stretch the shrinking dollar to meet the H. C. L. in Detroit these days, a fortune lies unclaimed in the bed of Detroit river. No one can estimate, even approximately, the value of the submerged treasure in dollars, but it is safe to assume that it will run into the millions.

Marine divers testify to the tons of copper ingot, coal, machinery, unsalvaged vessels and money scattered along the river bed from Windmill Point to Detroit River light. The banks and shelving beaches of the harbor line at and above Belle Isle are in shallow water, but the bank of the undivided river section below the island is built out to deep water, and explorations are more difficult than near Belle Isle.

In recent years it has been known that money and jewelry to the value of $500,000 has been lost in the river. One man lost $500 in a wallet while trying to escape federal officers by jumping overboard from a boat. A wealthy woman dropped a $7,000 necklace from a passenger boat when the string of gems broke as she leaned over the boat's rail.

James McCabe, immigration inspector, who patrols the Canadian border for Chinese smugglers, admits that within the past ten years smugglers drowned Chinese to escape immigration officers who pursued the smuggler's boats, and in nearly every case the drowned Chinese had large sums of money concealed in their clothing. Neither the bodies nor the money have been recovered because the feet of the drowned Chinese were weighted with iron.

The engines of sunken wrecks if salvaged, would be as good as new today, marine engineers say, and their sale would bring large profits to salvagers.

A rumor is current in local marine circles that a syndicate is forming to operate in Detroit river at a certain point, kept secret, in the hope of recovering lost treasures. Just what treasures the syndicate seeks is not revealed.

Detroit police department officials say that the river holds the loot of many burglaries in Detroit. The thugs and cracksmen who dropped the loot into the river, evidently noted carefully the direction of the currents so that at some opportune time they could return to recover their spoils.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 4, 1920

If the girls of Princess Anne decline to cultivate the back yard, just try the effect of giving them a stylish new garden costume.

Sugar shortage again ties up home cooking, but so long as the soda fountains are able to keep running nothing will be done about it.

The time has rapidly gone by when you can boom trade by putting your most expensive stuff in the window and tagging it with top prices.

The women who mourn about the lack of servants, made housework unpopular by refusing for many years to touch a bit of it themselves.

The people who are selling their Liberty Bonds because they are so low, will be buying them in again when they are high and everybody wants 'em.

Formerly it took great learning to become a clergyman. Now you have to understand poultry keeping and other means of eking out your scanty salary.

The dealers who persist in putting up goods two or three dollars with each new lot that comes in, should prepare to hold over their stock for an indefinite period.

Landlords reported not willing to repair their property under present conditions, but anyway if their houses tumble down they'll have to clean up the ruins.

THE "SCHOOLMARM" TYPE

It is claimed that one reason why the teaching profession is unpopular, is that many girls think they will lose their youth early if they enter teaching, and acquire an "old maidish" appearance.

Handling a room full of irrepressible kids does involve nervous strain, and many teachers show this worry in their tired faces. But when a teacher seems to be losing her youth as a result of devotion to duty, the people of her community are in some measure to blame.

Teachers are often neglected socially. They should receive such manifestations of personal interest and social attentions that they will get as much enjoyment out of life as anyone. Then they will forget the troubles of the school room and smooth out the wrinkles. They will stand just as good a chance to be attractive as any girl, plus having a lot more brains than the average.

A PAPER SAVING CAMPAIGN

The public has been exhorted and implored to save paper stock, to relieve the difficulties caused by shortage of news, print and other kinds of stock. As a result many people do save their newspapers and dispose of same to collectors. But most people still burn up large quantities of valuable paper in the form of old letters, handbills, circulars, etc.

This stock could be saved by a nation wide campaign and it would come very near relieving this entire shortage. Why not enlist the newspapers, as an interested party?

Suppose a national paper saving organization was formed and the newspapers in each city or town were asked to conduct the paper saving campaign in their territory. Probably the newspapers would be glad to assume this responsibility.

An appeal could be printed and it could be distributed in every community by school children or refuse collectors. The people could be instructed how to handle paper so as to keep it in salable shape. The easiest way is to take a box, lay strings across and lengthwise of it, then line the sides and ends with newspaper or wrapping paper. Then throw waste paper into this box until it is full and pressed down. Then wrap up the contents with the newspaper or wrappers with which the box was lined, tie up the package with the strings laid in the bottom of the box and you have a bale that can be set aside until enough collects to call the junk man, who will pay good money for it.

The scheme seems perfectly simple. All it needs is organization and publicity on a nation wide scale. It would add enormously to the paper supply, reduce the costs of one of the essentials of business and living and help the newspapers out of a bad hole.

Daily Killing Time

The Republican Congress now proposes to investigate the Federal Reserve Board, which is about like investigating the House of Gibraltar to see if it is solid. Not even the system that enabled the country to finance the greatest war of all time without a financial panic, is to escape the accusations of the "investigating" Congress. However, such an investigation is sure to give the Congress another good killing time and for not doing so.

HOUSE PAINTING

Careful householders used to have their buildings painted about every four or five years. Recently they have had fainting spells on getting estimates of the cost of the job. A great many of them have swallowed their customary pride and have allowed buildings to go unpainted.

This is taking risks for a structure built of so perishable a material as wood. If you leave a pile of lumber out in the weather for a single season, it shows decay. The house that was built to last a century may suffer serious damage in a few years of exposure. Also a town looks decadent when it neglects painting. The real estate owners of Princess Anne will prolong the life of their property, and advertise their town as up to date and wide awake, by keeping their buildings in good condition with house paint.

The Illusive Sugar Trail

According to information gathered by the National City Bank of New York the volume of sugar importations into the United States for the current fiscal year, which will end with June, will be the largest in the history of the country. This means raw sugar from Cuba and other outside sources, which has been and will be refined in the American refineries. The production of raw sugar inside the country last year was up to if not above the antebellum high record score. There is no real sugar shortage—the continuous boosting of the price of sugar is not because of shortage of the supply.

Another congressional investigating committee is endeavoring to find the answer to the long standing query as to why the President failed to buy the Cuban sugar crop after that step had been urged by George Zabriskie, president of the Sugar Equalization Board—the equalization board being a commission created by the Wilson administration. It is the fact of record that the Cuban sugar crop could have been purchased last summer, when the equalization board recommended that it should be purchased, at six cents the pound for the raw. The theory of Democratic senators, as indicated in the floor discussions of the sugar-price boost, is that the speculators are the villains of the game.

Sugar has practically doubled in retail price since the signing of the armistice. There has been no such advance in the price of any other commodity. There has been some actual recession in the retail prices of beef, pork, mutton, bread and several other food commodities. There is a mystery about sugar, which the general public wants explained.—Baltimore American.

Something New In Unions

Labor has no patent on the union idea.

A "Tenants' Union" is being formed in New York, with the purpose of striking against excessive rents. As planned, this union is to have 500,000 members. Where the union leaders say the rent is unfair, all the members will decline to rent dwellings from that owner.

Following out this idea one can see, in the future, employers' unions formed to strike against excessive wages; people's unions to strike against politicians who vote for excessive tax burdens; housewives' unions to strike against profiteering grocers and dressmakers. There is no end to the possible applications of the idea.

About Digestion

It is claimed that only half as much food is required when it is thoroughly masticated. Digestion begins in the mouth and a thorough mastication of the food is of the greatest importance. When needed take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the digestion and insure a regular movement of the bowels.

(Advertisement.)

DIG AND EAT DAY

Formerly cities and towns would wait for years for some needed civic improvement, because they could not get the money. Then by the time the people could afford to pay for it, the opportunity had often passed.

To-day many places are taking hold of improvement propositions by community work. At Reading, Mass., for instance, 2000 citizens have turned out on several days to lay out and construct a new park covering 11 acres. A jolly dinner was served at noon to all workers. One of many jobs accomplished was planting 2000 trees and shrubs.

This kind of thing accomplishes improvements that had been regarded as impossible. In a good many places they are improving their highways in this manner. Princess Anne should have a Dig and Eat Day for some of the public improvements needed.

Periodic Billious Attacks

Persons subject to billious attacks at regular intervals know about when to expect an attack. They find that they have no desire for food when an attack is due but usually eat because it is meal time. Skip one meal and take three of Chamberlain's Tablets and you may be able to avoid the attack. Persons subject to periodic billious attacks should not drink tea or coffee at any time.

TILGHMAN'S FISH FERTILIZERS

Help Solve the Farm Labor Problem

The farmer, as are many big manufacturers, is up against a shortage of labor. One of the big problems of present day farming is how to solve the labor problem. It is having the serious consideration and attention of not only the farmers themselves, but all economic experts who realize that the prosperity of the country depends upon keeping up and increasing farm production.

All authorities agree that one of the most practical ways to meet this situation is to increase the yield per acre. In other words, enable the farm owner and the help he has left to produce as much as formerly by intensive production. To bring this about the use of fertilizers is vitally necessary, for fertilizers enrich the soil, increase the yield and improve the quality.

It is much more economical to fertilize your present acreage and make your present labor more efficient than it is to plow up more acres, so use plenty of Tilghman's Fish Fertilizers and let it help you keep up your production despite your lack of help.

Among the important business transactions will be the election and consecration of seven or eight new bishops, the big centenary operations, and the decision as to church union with other Methodists.

The ministerial delegates from the Wilmington Conference are District Superintendents Watt, Wise and Mowbray, and the Rev. Dr. Henry G. Budd, principal of Wesley Collegiate Institute, Dover.

The lay delegates are Judge Henry C. Conrad, of Georgetown; J. W. Wheatley, of Easton; L. Atwood Bennett, of Salisbury, and Earnest C. Hardesty, of Wilmington.

First-Dead Arrive From France

The bodies of American soldiers, of whom all but 80 died in France, arrived last Wednesday in New York on the Army transport Mercury from Antwerp and Southampton.

Included among the bodies, which mark the first return of soldier dead from France, were those of four officers.

Awaiting the vessel at the Army piers in Hoboken was a detachment of the Graves Registration Service.

As soon as the 766 Army and civilian passengers left the Mercury the bodies were removed from the hold. The caskets, shrouded in American flags, were arranged in company formation on the pier.

Under a soldier guard of honor the caskets are being prepared for shipment home by rail. Each body will be accompanied by a guard of honor.

U. S. Cruisers On Guard In Mexico

Official despatches from Mexico stated that 600 Federal troops reached Vera Cruz Tuesday and were sent to Alvarado, a few miles south of Vera Cruz, where the Federal garrison had revolted and looted the town.

Banditry is reported near Guadalajara, where the Mexican Government Wednesday reported General Dieguez had 8,000 Federal troops. The bandits seized the power plant outside the city Monday of last week and shut off the light, power and water.

Crisfield Has Another Fire

Crisfield suffered its third disastrous fire so far this year early last Saturday when the plant of the Crisfield Shipbuilding Company was damaged to the extent of $40,000.

George Colburn, the night watchman, had used an oil stove to heat a lunch in a room adjoining the offices of the company and had left the stove lighted while making his rounds. In his absence the stove exploded, setting fire to the building. The office building, warehouses, machine shop, workshop and stables with their contents, except the horses, were destroyed together with considerable lumber stored in the yard.

Besides the loss of the shipbuilding company and Gates the United States Government lost supplies to the value of more than $5,000, which it had stored in one of the warehouses while vessels were undergoing repair at the plant.

FORESAW A LENGTHY SESSION

Little Lady Had Terrible Fear When the Congregation Began to Sing Number One.

The very small lady found a certain difficulty in maintaining an air of Christian resignation as she entered the church. To begin with, she had on a perfectly new summer frock, and she was quite aware that her hair, just combed out of curl papers, looked a little nicer than usual. Furthermore she was being allowed to come to church like a grown-up, as the chosen companion of an entirely grown-up uncle. It was the first time, too. So, at the beginning of things, she struggled to overcome an un-Christian pride, feeling at the same time quite sorry for children who were still allowed to go only to Sunday school.

Then, after what seemed a very long time of very long speeches, which obviously were not original because the rector read them out of a book, and much singing of music of a not particularly interesting sort, things began to seem a little dull. Try as she might, she couldn't escape a consciousness of the fact that the sun was shining brightly outside, and that it was getting on toward the hour when everyone would be going to take a swim or paddle in a canoe or do something else interesting. Then the congregation rose to sing a hymn, and the grown-up uncle gravely opened a hymnal and held it so that she might see the words. It was opened at hymn No. 1. She could see that, and she had heard the rector announce it.

The grown-up uncle observed restiveness on the part of the very small lady, which he translated as a desire to whisper. He leaned down to listen. "Uncle Henry," she said, "they—they don't go straight through the book, do they?"—Cincinnati Times-Star.

HAS REGULAR TIME TO EAT

Vegetable Plant in South Pacific Islands Demands Its Food and Seems to Appreciate It.

"Tul-tul," as the natives call it, is the most wonderful vegetable plant in the world.

It grows on certain South Pacific islands, and in appearance is like a giant turnip, but blood-red in color.

To the white man it is a very tough and tasteless vegetable. To the natives, however, it is a main item of their diet. They cook it and mix it with their coconut and breadfruit, for it is supposed to be very nourishing. They cultivate the plant in a rough sort of fashion in large ditches or swamps.

Its most peculiar feature is that it has to be fed, and for this purpose the native children go over the island collecting all decayed vegetable matter. This is soaked in plenty of salt water, and is then taken in armfuls to the plants and put in the center of the leaf stems or on the short, thick stem from which the leaves spread out on every side.

Slowly but surely the decayed matter disappears, the leaves stiffen and spread out erect—signs, apparently, that the plant has dined heartily, for it really is a case of feeding a plant. There is no opening of the stem or the leaves; the food is slowly and gradually absorbed in a silent and wonderful manner.

Bird Migration.

For many years the annual migration of the birds, although a perfectly familiar fact, was shrouded in mystery, says the New York Sun. Except in the case of a few birds like the robin, which winters not far south of its summer home, no one knew where the song birds or the shore birds went in the fall, or when they began their northward journey in the spring.

But the subject has been carefully and patiently studied by so many observers and naturalists that it is no longer impossible to answer these questions. The cliff swallows and black-poll warblers spend their winters in tropical South America; the golden plover, which nests on the Arctic sea, winters 8,000 miles away in the Argentine; the scarlet tanager is to be found in December and January in Ecuador and Peru, and the bobolink in southern Brazil.

For Historians to Worry Over.

Was Joan of Arc burned? The question will throw a bomb into human thinking. Documentary evidence of the most authoritative character completely negatives the story of her being burned—shows that she was alive and happily married several years after the date of her "execution" in Rouen, 1431. These documents are in the registry of the city of Mayence. They show she came thither in 1493. Her brothers, Pierre and Jean, recognized her. Her marriage contract to Robert d'Amboise, knight, and bearing her name, Jeanne d'Arc, is pucelle d'Orleans, has been discovered. What does it all mean? No question is more interesting save that perennial one—did Shakespeare write Shakespeare?

In Memory of Nell Gwynn.

There is always an orange in a plate placed on a chair near the door in the house of a friend in London. On the first of Christmas. The custom is to put the orange in memory of Nell Gwynn, who, when a well-known home-body, sold oranges in a little court near St. James' Palace. At one time she was a favorite of the king, and she was the first to give to the church the orange which she had used it.

Unusual Value—In Tires for the Smaller Cars

Not only is characteristic Goodyear merit conspicuous in Goodyear Tires for the smaller cars, but ordinarily the first cost is found to be not greater than that of other tires; often it is actually less.

The combination of unusual value in first cost and very low final cost, of course, is a result of Goodyear experience, expertness and care employed as insistently in the making of 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch tires as it is in the construction of the famous Goodyear Cord Tires used on the highest-priced automobiles.

For this reason more cars using these sizes were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

Get this unusual tire value to enjoy on your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car using one of these sizes, at the nearest Goodyear Service Station. Get these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at this station.

AUSTRIAN DESPOT IN ITALY

Excellent Reasons Why Commandant in Town of Buje Was Feared and Detested.

During the war, Austria, fearing and hating the Italians of Istria, placed every town under drastic military control.

It was the chief task of Colonel Vogelhuber, commander of Buje, to make the Italians feel his presence. They had felt it one day. Incensed by his latest decrees, they had come in crowds below his windows, discussing, gesticulating, angrily demanding an audience, until his troops had rammed them in the stomach with the butts of rifles and driven them off—off to their homes where they would find that during their absence a few more objects had mysteriously disappeared, woolen clothing, perhaps, or some pieces of furniture or a cherished picture. Not stolen, of course, but "requisitioned." It was neat.

He had had a good day but he would have a better evening. They had wanted an audience. Very well. That evening he would grant an audience to their leading citizens. More than that—he would dine them!

The leading citizens of Buje will not soon forget that dinner. The meal itself was excellent—infinitely better than any that they had had for months. It consisted of meats "requisitioned" from their own herds and flocks, grains from their own fields, wine from their own cellars. The host, Colonel Vogelhuber, sat at the head of the table, all smiles and benignity. He was solicitous that every one should have plenty. When the repast was finished, he rose.

He called the attention of the Italians of Buje to the fact that he had sent very few of them to Austrian internment camps. He emphasized his tolerance and liberality in this matter. His action, however, had been guided by a definite purpose. It might please them to be informed as to the purpose which he had had in mind.

"I do not care to intern you," he said, in a smiling climax, "because I prefer to execute you!"

"The troops of Italy are at present making some advance. I wish simply to announce to you now that before they ever reach Buje I shall have the pleasure of seeing every man of you shot. Good night, gentlemen. The pleasure has been mine."

Then, showing the yellow streak always present in such natures, he hastily summoned his soldiers, and every guest was escorted to the street at the point of a bayonet.

A gay, dashing wag was Vogelhuber. Dashing he was certainly, a few weeks later, when the Italian Bersagliere swept into Buje so suddenly that he did not have time to make good his promise, but found it prudent to run to save his own skin, even leaving a precious carload of stolen treasures behind him.—Willard Price, in World Outlook.

Thermometers Vary.

The readings of old mercury thermometers are often too high, while spirit thermometers with age are liable to give indications lower than the actual temperatures. Shrinkage of the bulb, forcing the mercury up the tube, has been suggested as the cause of the high readings. For the opposite effect, several theories have been offered—such as taking up some of the spirit in an invisible film wetting the bore of the tube, or chemical combination of the spirit with the glass or evaporation through invisible cracks—but it is now believed that an explanation simpler than the early ones is available. Mercury thermometers sealed off when almost filled, contain practically no air, the tubes thus being given the reduced internal pressure favoring shrinkage. But spirit thermometers are sealed with the bulbs in a freezing mixture, so that they may contain as much air as possible, and such bulbs are constantly subjected to an internal pressure greater than outside. This gives the tendency to expand, allowing the spirit to fall too low in the tube.

The Helicopter.

A new flying machine, called a helicopter, has been invented, quite different from anything that mankind has yet started up at, in that its propellers have a diameter of 51 feet, revolve so much more slowly than the more-and-more familiar airplane propeller that they are practically noiseless, are located above the car, and also take the place of the wings of the customary airplane. The propellers, in fact, are practically moving wings; and the machine, as described by Robert G. Skerrett in the New York Sun, presents quite a list of advantages over anything that has preceded it for air navigation. It can, it is declared, descend slowly, rise and come down without difficulty anywhere, carry a considerable load and is inherently stable. Aviation, after all, is still quite young, and it may possibly turn out that the helicopter is the next forward step.—Christian Science Monitor.

Clever Work.

The pupils of the second grade had been given a test in writing, and after it was over, the teacher requested them to take their copy home to show to their mothers.

The verse which Dwight had written was: "Little drops of water, Little grains of sand," etc.

His mother examined his work and praised his effort. "But what is this little word dog doing up here in the corner?" she asked.

"Oh," explained Dwight, "I forgot how to make a 'd' and had to write dog to help me."

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report. It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

Original "Uncle Sam."

During the revolutionary war there was a man by the name of Samuel Wilson, who was engaged as an inspector of provisions. He was known by his friends as "Uncle Sam." In his work he stamped inspected goods "U. S.," which initials happened to stand for his nickname as well as his government. Thus the two became identical. Uncle Sam as an old man with whiskers was taken from Samuel Wilson.—Exchange.

Elms

No natural Gothic arch compares with that formed by two American elms, where their lofty jets of foliage shoot across each other's ascending curves, to intermingle their showery flakes of green. When one looks through a long double row of these, he beholds a temple not built with hands, fairer than any minster, with all its clustered stems and fluttering capitals, that ever grew in stone.—Holmes.

Getting Rid of House Pests.

Cockroaches or the "croton bug" may be held in check by setting out two saucers, one containing a mixture of flour and plaster paris and the other filled with water. The mixture should be four parts plaster of paris and one part of flour. Badly infested apartments may be thoroughly ridged of this pest by fumigating with hydrocyanic acid gas.

Two Splendid Rules.

Thou shalt not make unto thee any false standards of farm life, nor bow down thyself to them to serve them. Thou shalt not say or do anything in vain, but have some sensible purpose in all thou shalt say or do, for the community shall not hold him guiltless that sayeth or doeth anything in vain.—Wm. Butcher.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Princess Anne Readers

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow. Then help the weakened kidney. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home.—Read this Princess Anne woman's convincing statement.

Mrs. Earl Waller, 109 Beckford Ave., says: "I was troubled with a very severe backache. At times I had dizzy spells and little black spots flashed in front of my eyes. I seemed to ache all over and certainly was miserable until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. I got this fine medicine at Smith & Co.'s drug store and after using two boxes, I was cured of the trouble."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Waller and Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Campaign For Nurses

The present urgent need for recruits in the nursing profession will be strongly emphasized in the country-wide observance on May 12th, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing. Thousands of nurses and health workers will bring before the young women of the country the acute needs in the field of nursing.

Treatment of Common Colds

"If all who catch cold could be persuaded to remain in bed for the first twenty-four hours of such an attack," says a well-known physician, "there would be fewer cases dragging on with distressing symptoms for weeks and often ending in some more serious disease." To make sure of a prompt recovery you should also take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Whether sick or well the bowels should move each day.

NEW BOARD OF EDUCATION

Membership Increased in Somerset Board From Three To Six

On Monday of last week Governor Ritchie appointed the new members of the Board of Education for Somerset county.

The appointments are in compliance with a bill introduced by Mr. William J. Hall and passed at the session of the last legislature, which provides that the Board of Education of Somerset county shall be composed of six members instead of three as heretofore. The members of the new board follow:

William E. Dougherty, Crisfield, for six years, succeeding Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson; E. B. Lankford, Pocomoke City, R. F. D., for five years; Thomas B. Bradshaw, Deal's Island, for four years, succeeding Dr. H. G. Alexander, deceased; Dr. George P. Coulbourne, Marion Station, for three years; Dr. Charles W. Wainwright, Princess Anne, for two years, and William L. Jones, Chance Postoffice, for one year.

Sidney Columbus Long Dead

Mr. Sidney Columbus Long died at his home on Prince William street last Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock of pneumonia, aged 85 years.

Mr. Long was born near Marion Station and had been engaged in the mercantile business for 50 years. In 1864 he opened a store at Allen, this county, and at that time it was the only store for a number of miles in that section. In 1890 he commenced the mercantile business in Princess Anne, which business he conducted until four years ago under the name of S. C. Long & Son. In politics he was a Democrat.

Mr. Long was twice married. His first wife was Josephine Hayman, of Princess Anne. By this marriage two children survive—a son, Mr. S. Upshur Long, of this town, and Mrs. Florence Porter, of Loretto. He later married Eleanor Politt, who survives him. He is also survived by the following grandchildren: Mrs. George Bounds, of Pocomoke City; Mr. F. Stanley Porter, attorney-at-law, of Baltimore; Josephine and Richard Porter, of Loretto; Mr. Sidney Long, of Norwood, Pa., and Miss Lettie Long, of Princess Anne.

Funeral services were held in Manokin Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member, last Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. L. Friend, pastor of the church. The pallbearers were Col. Henry J. Waters, Messrs. George W. Brown, H. Fillmore Lankford, Frank H. Dashiell, Wilmer O. Lankford and Edward Long.

Surprise Given Mrs. Noble

The Ladies' Aid Society, of St. Peter's Methodist Episcopal Church, Oriole, gave Mrs. Charlotte Noble, of Monie, one of its oldest members, a delightful surprise party last Friday night. Mrs. Noble has been an ardent and loved member of the society for many years, and because of ill health has been unable to attend for several months.

Among those present were: Mrs. Carrie Willing, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Levin Wallace, Mrs. Annie Hall, Mrs. Kate Nutter, Mrs. Nora Shores, Mrs. Willie Nutter, Mrs. Manie Horner, Mrs. Sallie White, Mrs. Johnnie Smith, Mrs. Vivian Muir, Miss Edna Croswell, Mrs. George Wallace, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Rosa Bennett, Mrs. Maggie Phoebeus, Mrs. Ellen Parks, Miss Treasie Horner, Rev. and Mrs. George Allen, Mr. and Mrs. George Bozman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phoebeus and Mr. James Noble.

Refreshments were served by the ladies, after which they left at a late hour, happier themselves, because of the thought that they had made their oldest member happy.

Benjamin L. Lovett, of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will be at home after October 1st. No cards have been sent.

BANNER POTATO YEAR SEEN

Eastern Shore of Virginia Growers Have Big Acreage.

In the two peninsula counties of Virginia, Accomac and Northampton, the potato growers are looking forward to a banner year. The potato acreage there this year is greater by 10 per cent. than ever before, according to reports. It is true that the heavy rains and cold weather of a few weeks ago damaged some seed, but the loss to the crop from this cause is said to be immaterial.

One Accomac county grower has set out 1,400 barrels of Cobler potato seed, has bought fertilizer and manure for this crop at a cost of $21,000 and has contracted to buy 75,000 barrels for shipping the tubers at $1.10 each. It is estimated, with prices equal to those of last season and with an average crop, that this grower will net about $40,000 from his potato fields.

The barrel question is one that is causing the growers of Virginia and the Eastern Shore of Maryland more than a little anxiety. For the same reason that berry crates and baskets are scarce potato barrels are also scarce. Growers are today forced to pay from $1.10 to 1.25 for the same grade of barrel for which they paid 35 cents three years ago, and, while there were plenty of barrels in those days at that price, the supply is very narrowly limited this year, even at better than a dollar.

Accomac and Northampton counties in Virginia, in the heart of the potato season, ship on an average of 60 carloads of potatoes a day, each car containing 250 barrels and each barrel containing approximately three bushels of the tubers.

Tull-Long Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Long, at Westover, Tuesday, April 27th, at noon, when their daughter, Miss Mary Amanda, became the bride of Mr. Oscar Paul Tull. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Friend, pastor of Manokin Presbyterian Church, Princess Anne, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties.

The bride was attired in a handsome traveling suit of dark blue and wore a corsage bouquet of sweet peas. The groom's brother, Mr. R. H. Tull, of Washington, D. C., acted as best man and presented the ring during the ceremony.

The double parlors and dining room were profusely decorated with palms, ferns and spring flowers. Dainty refreshments were served, after which the bride and groom left on the 2.30 p. m. train for New York city, Niagara and other points north. Mr. and Mrs. Tull are widely known and represent two of the most prominent families in the county. They will reside at Kingtown where Mr. Tull is engaged in the mercantile and oyster business.

Messrs. Sherwood and Arthur Long, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Lillian Long Smink were home for their sister's wedding.

Edwards Enters Presidential Race

Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, last Thursday night became an avowed, active candidate for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States.

Walker W. Vick, personal friend of the Governor, issued the formal announcement of his candidacy and of the opening in New York of the Edwards campaign headquarters.

"Governor Edwards begins his campaign without any political machinery or prestige lent him from any source," Mr. Vick said.

"He runs on his record as Governor of New Jersey, as its former comptroller and as a man of affairs in the business and financial world of this country for the past 25 years."

"His rise in the business world as a self-made man, as well as his entire career, both business and political presents abundant proof of his sympathetic regard for the great productive force of the country."

Agricultural Association Meetings

Meetings will be held this week by the County Agricultural Association in an effort to get all the farmers of the county to enroll in the association.

Meetings next week will be held on Tuesday, May 11th, at Sheltown in the Schoolhouse at 7:30 p. m., at Marumco Schoolhouse on Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., and on Thursday at Hopewell Schoolhouse at 8 p. m. It is urged that all farmers in these communities attend these meetings and hear the purposes of the association discussed. The wage scale for farm labor which had been adopted by the association will be considered.

Remember the Marylander and Herald is now $1.50 a year, in advance.

PROHIBITION POLITICAL ISSUE

Can't Be Avoided, Says Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts

Prohibition enforcement will cost $88,000,000 annually. Representative Gallivan, Democrat, of Massachusetts, declared last Tuesday in the House. There are more illicit stills now than before prohibition became effective, he said, adding that the bulk of Antisaloons League funds are used to hire special agents to locate stills.

"There were 2,006 stills found in Georgia in 1910," he declared, "1,534 in North Carolina and 26 in Nebraska, the home of the first apostle of grape juice."

"Blind tigers are now surrounded by romance, if not respectability. Members of Congress could tell interesting personal interviews with bootleggers, who have become respectable citizens of the communities in which they live."

"During the year when prohibition was young over 6,000 stills were captured by prohibition inspectors and 300,000 gallons of 'moonshine' confiscated."

Besides the stills raided in Georgia, North Carolina and Nebraska, Mr. Gallivan said 752 had been found in Alabama, 488 in South Carolina, 386 in Tennessee, 546 in Virginia, 121 in Kentucky, 191 in Florida, 40 in Michigan, 41 in Texas and 40 in West Virginia. Control of Congress and the presidential election may be decided by the prohibition question, Mr. Gallivan declared.

"You can no more settle the prohibition question or keep it out of politics than you can sweep back the ocean," said he.

"Every teakettle and stewpan is placed under suspicion since the Volstead Act has become effective. It prohibits everything with more than one-half per cent. alcohol, and yet the sap of every tree flows in violation of that law."

Washington High School Notes

Last Wednesday the Boy Scout team of the W. H. S. defeated the regular High School team in a game of baseball. The Scouts put forth many "Babe Ruths" and "Ty Cobbs" and won an easy victory over the larger boys.

The members of the senior class have been busy preparing for their final examinations which began yesterday (Monday). This year the senior examinations have been scheduled earlier than usual, in order to give any members who may fail to pass an opportunity to have a re-examination before the closing of school.

On Wednesday, the town's "Clean-up Day," the Boy Scouts of the W. H. S. assisted the Civic Club in collecting and disposing of the trash and rubbish which had accumulated. As an evidence of its gratitude, the club entertained the youthful workers at a lawn supper the following Friday.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association will be held on Friday, May 21st. All those interested in the school are urged to be present.

On Friday the girls' basketball team of the Washington High School was defeated by the Crisfield girls with a score of 19 to 18. The game was played in Crisfield. At the close of the first half the score was 14 to 4, in favor of Washington High School, but in the second half the Crisfield team, by its snappy playing and quick pass-work, simply smashed its way to victory. The Washington High School line-up was as follows: Centers, E. Bailey, J. Hanley; guards, N. Boudin, M. Dashiell; forwards, D. Baltz, D. Adams.

Death of James A. Campbell, Sr.

Mr. James A. Campbell, Sr., died at his home, Champ, Md., Sunday night, May 2nd. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. G. A. Allen and interment was in the Jr. O. U. A. M. cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. George A. Somers, Noah Gibson, Henry Bedworth, Isaac Bozman, Gordy Parks and Fletcher Shores.

Mr. Campbell had been in ill health for some time. He is survived by a widow, who is ill at this writing, and five children—Mrs. E. C. Trower, of Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Frank Morgan, of Federalsburg; Messrs. William, James, Jr., and Levin Campbell; also seven grandchildren, namely: Mrs. Lois Parks, Ethel, Frances, Virginia, Roscoe, Lacey and Howard Campbell, and one great granddaughter, little Phyllis Anne Parks.

With a tax rate of $2.16, county and state, starting them in the face, the taxpayers of Harford county, Md., are going to feel the effects of another phase of the high cost of living this year. The County Commissioners, after a two-days session last week, have completed the levy for 1920 and have made a rate of $1.80 to pay the expenses of the county this year. The state tax rate is 35 cents on the $100.

ELECTION OF DR. STEPHENS OFF

State Board of Education Reconsiders Action

The re-election of Dr. M. Bates Stephens as State Superintendent of Education was rescinded by the State Board last Tuesday. The special law under which Dr. Stephens was elected, also was repealed.

This was the outcome of the conference of the members of the board called by Governor Ritchie, but came only after two members of the four who voted for the reelection had flatly refused to accede to the Governor's request. They changed their minds, however, after the Governor announced that he would prefer charges against them. One other who voted for Dr. Stephens—Thomas H. Bock, of Somerset county—is out of office, his term having expired on the previous Monday. Here is the record as Mr. Ferlman gave it out.

The State Board of Education held a special meeting at the office of the Governor at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, May 4, 1920. Present: William T. Warburton, Clayton Purnell, Sterling Galt, Dr. Henry M. Fitzhugh, Van Lear Black and Thos. H. Chambers, who were recently appointed, but had not yet qualified, were also present.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Warburton, the acting president. All members present waived notice of the meeting. Mr. Galt was elected temporary secretary. Mr. Galt offered the following resolution:

Be it Resolved, That the action of the State Board of Education at its meeting on April 28, 1920, in electing Dr. M. Bates Stephens as State Superintendent of Schools, for a term of four years, from the expiration of his present term of office, be and the same is hereby rescinded and revoked, and the action of the board at the said meeting in adopting a by-law fixing the time for the election of said superintendent be and the same is hereby rescinded and revoked, to the end that all the members of the new Board of Education may have an opportunity to express their views on these matters.

Messrs. Warburton, Purnell, Galt and Fitzhugh recorded their votes in favor of the resolution. Messrs. Black and Chambers concurred in the action of the other members, the resolution being adopted by the unanimous vote of those present.

There being no further business, the board adjourned.

After the question had been settled, the Governor added that during the conference he told the members of the Board that they had the whole month of May in which to select a State Superintendent within the time specified in the law, and then, if they did not see fit to make a choice, they could postpone it until autumn.

Baptist Convention This Week

Maryland and Baltimore Baptists will send a representation of more than 250 official delegates to the Southern Baptist Convention which meets at Washington tomorrow (Wednesday) morning, May 12, and will last through the following Monday, May 17th. It was stated last week by Rev. Dr. W. H. Baylor, one of the leading ministers of that denomination in the state, that there would be no less than 5,000 registered delegates in attendance upon the sessions, they coming practically from every state in the South. In addition to the official delegates from Maryland and Baltimore, it is expected that from 500 to 700 visitors from the various Baptist churches will attend the convention, whose sessions will be held in the old Billy Sunday Tabernacle near Union Station, known as the Liberty Hut.

The sessions of the convention will open at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and will be presided over by Rev. Dr. James B. Gambrell, who is president of the convention. The convention sermon will be delivered by Rev. John E. White, of South Carolina, or by his alternate, Rev. D. J. R. Hobbs, of Alabama. Simultaneous with this convention, the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention, will be held at the Raleigh Hotel, which will be the convention headquarters. There will be 40 delegates from each of the Southern States and the sessions will be presided over by Mrs. W. C. James, president.

G. O. P. Meets On May 25th

The Republicans, it is said, will hold their State Convention May 25.

As the National Republican Convention meets in Chicago two weeks in advance of the Democratic Convention in San Francisco, it was believed that the Republican State Convention would not be later than the State Convention the Democrats must hold. The Republicans feel that there is an advantage in trailing the Democrats, and they say they are not inclined to lose it regardless of the date fixed for holding the National Convention.

PRIMARY ELECTION IN SOMERSET

First District Gives Goldsborough 72 Majority Over Robertson

The official canvass of the votes cast in the primary election Monday of last week throughout the State was completed last Thursday night and showed no important changes from the unofficial figures.

There was a light vote polled in Somerset county. T. Alan Goldsborough led Hilton W. Robertson, Democratic candidates for Congress, by 119. The official vote follows:

DISTRICTS	For Nomination For President: HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Rep.	LEONARD WOOD, Rep.	For Nomination For Congress: T. A. GOLDSBOROUGH, Dem.	H. W. ROBERTSON, Dem.
West Princess Anne.....	70	59	47	47
St. Peter's.....	14	14	8	8
Brinkley's, Precinct No. 1.....	19	19	58	58
Brinkley's, Precinct No. 2.....	28	28	27	27
Dublin.....	13	13	7	7
Mount Vernon.....	80	80	21	21
Fairmount.....	10	7	10	10
Crisfield, Precinct No. 1.....	12	46	38	38
Crisfield, Precinct No. 2.....	12	29	31	31
Lawson's.....	34	32	17	28
Tanger.....	39	39	6	6
Smith's Island.....	38	38	3	3
Dame's Quarter.....	11	17	6	6
Asbury.....	26	38	34	34
Westover.....	12	28	24	24
Deal's Island.....	15	24	17	17
East Princess Anne.....	38	38	24	24
TOTALS.....	130	457	573	454

The returns from the nine Eastern Shore counties, comprising the First district, show that T. Alan Goldsborough, of Denton, received a majority of 72 over Hilton W. Robertson, the "damp" candidate from Wicomico county, for the Democratic nomination for Congress. Mr. Robertson has filed notice that he will contest in each county.

The vote in the First district by counties was as follows:

Goldsbrough. Robertson
Cecil.....	261	541
Kent.....	505	540
Queen Anne's.....	826	743
Caroline.....	808	340
Talbot.....	673	406
Dorchester.....	671	745
Wicomico.....		*569
Worcester.....	560	467
Somerset.....	573	454

*Majority. In Wicomico county Mr. Robertson received 1455 votes and Mr. Goldsbrough 922. Robertson's strong vote throughout the district clearly demonstrates the sentiment prevailing against the Volstead Act. The White Haven man ran on only one issue—the modification of that measure. Heretofore practically unknown on the Eastern Shore, except in Wicomico county, he opposed a widely-known and able lawyer who was supposed to have with him the support of the State organization.

Thus it seems apparent that Robertson's vote was a slap by the people of the First Congressional District at the Volstead Act.

General Wood Swept Maryland

Major General Leonard Wood defeated Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California, in an unusually light vote last Tuesday in the primaries for Maryland's Republican presidential nomination by a majority of approximately 9000, according to practically complete returns now in.

The few missing precincts cannot materially alter the returns. The vote was Wood, 15,900; Johnson, 9,859. General Wood carried all four legislative districts in Baltimore and all but two of the 23 counties—Allegany and Washington. Johnson's majority in Allegany was about 900, and between fifty and sixty in Washington.

According to the returns, Wood will have 116 of the 129 delegates to the State Convention which will name 16 delegates to the National Convention. These will be instructed in accordance with the State election laws to vote as a unit for Wood, as long as in their "conscientious judgement" he has a chance of winning the nomination.

There was no Democratic contest for the presidential nomination and the State delegates will go to San Francisco unopposed.

United States Senator John W. Smith, Democrat, was unopposed for re-nomination. His Republican opponent is Ovington E. Weller, of Baltimore county.

Poultry Demonstrations Next Week

During the week of May 17th a series of poultry demonstrations will be given in different localities of this county. Prof. H. Rickey, of the Maryland State College, will give demonstrations in culling, feeding, killing and dry-curing. District Agent, will follow up these demonstrations with the canning of chicken, egg preservation and egg cookery. The localities for these demonstrations will be stated in next week's issue.

Refuse Ice Men's Plea

Requests of independent ice dealers of Philadelphia, for a fifteen cent increase over the "fair price" recently set by the Price Commissioner, were refused last Thursday pending a detailed statement by the dealers as to increased costs.

The dealers pleaded that a small ice dealer would be "frozen out" under the ruling, setting sixty-five cents as a fair price for 100 pounds of ice. They stated the class of dealers they represented delivered to householders who bought ice in 15 and 25 pound pieces, while the dealers represented in the conference, at which prices were set, dealt largely with the consumer of larger quantities of ice.

The independent dealers asked for a rate of seventy cents for 100 pounds and upwards and 80 cents for pieces under a hundred pounds. They declared ninety per cent of their deliveries are made to the housewife who demands ice be carried into her kitchen and then half of the time does not have a place ready to receive it. An increase of twenty cents is asked over last year's prices to cover extra cost of labor and cost of maintaining horses.

Strawberry Growers To Meet

The strawberry growers in the vicinity of Princess Anne will meet in the Court House Saturday, May 15th, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing the marketing of strawberries and the advisability of having an auction block at the station in Princess Anne. It is urged that all farmers growing strawberries in this section arrange to be present at this meeting.

HERBERT HOOVER CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED IN MARYLAND

Strong State Organization is Functioning Among Men and Women

Headquarters Now Open in Baltimore City, Big Men Of This State Start Boom With Gusto—Women Very Active.

HERBERT HOOVER

Baltimore.—Reports from far points throughout this State show conclusively the Hoover boom is firmly taking root. The Maryland headquarters for Herbert Hoover are now established in the heart of Baltimore's business district, 119-121 West Fayette street, where hundreds of visitors appear daily. Though the Hoover organization for Maryland has only been functioning a short while and headquarters were just opened, the daily mail brings encouragement from all classes, parties and creeds who offer their moral and financial support.

Some of Maryland's most astute citizens in civic and professional life form the State Executive Committee. John T. Stone heads the guiding organization as President. Mr. Stone is President of the Maryland Casualty Company, and was active in war work. The Executive Committee members are: John T. Stone, H. F. Van Trump, Emory H. Niles, S. F. Evans, J. S. Wilson, Jr., W. B. Miller, William H. Maltbie, H. E. Corner, Carl C. Thomas, William B. Littleton, George S. Jackson, Henry W. Williams.

This organization was launched at a State-wide conference called by Mr. Stone on April 14th, 1920. About sixty residents of Baltimore City and the counties of both political parties attended this meeting, and letters were received from most every county in the State, endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Hoover in a most enthusiastic way. The meeting, after a talk by Mr. Stone, explaining the purpose of the meeting, unanimously resolved that a Club should be formed, to be called the Hoover Club of Maryland, open to all residents of the State in favor of the election of Mr. Hoover to the Presidency. Mr. Stone was elected President; Mr. Maltbie and Dr. Van Trump, Vice-Presidents.

Women of Maryland will play a vitally important part in the Hoover drive. They are already well organized and actively canvassing the entire State. The Hoover Club of Maryland prides itself in the fact that it has the valuable support of patriotic women. Women in the campaign are not organized in a separate auxiliary, but rather have their place shoulder to shoulder with the men workers. They are on an equal footing.

Two public meetings have been held by the women and a series of parlor meetings is being arranged. A very successful meeting has already been held at Mrs. Francis King Carey's house, at which there were about two hundred representative women of Baltimore, invited to meet Mrs. F. Lewis Slade, of New York, and hear her speak about Hoover. Mrs. Slade is very popular in Baltimore, and it will be remembered that on one of her visits she helped to organize the Junior League, which has been such a success. She is now a delegate from New York to the National Convention. Her speech aroused much enthusiasm and most of those present enrolled as members of the Hoover Club.

Women help to make public opinion. In all probability the women will have the right to vote by next November, but in any case they can be of great service in the campaign, which consists chiefly in getting signatures of men and women pledged to vote for Hoover.

The roster of the women's committee which will be enlarged from time to time is as follows:

Miss Alice Tiffany, Mrs. B. Corkran, Jr., Mrs. A. Morris Carey, Mrs. J. H. Mason Knox, Mrs. Francis King Carey, Mrs. Jacob G. Moses, Mrs. Julius W. Freeman, Dr. Lillian Welsh, Mrs. Austin McLanahan, Mrs. Mark O. Shriver, Mrs. John W. Garrett, Mrs. Francis Sanderson, Mrs. Carl C. Thomas, Secretary.

The most encouraging phase of our efforts in Maryland thus far has been the support volunteered by the man who has his nose to the grindstone," declared Mr. Stone. "Hoover supporters are developing regardless of sect or party, race or color. The letters we receive invariably convey the thought that the United States needs first and foremost a 'business administration.' They state it is their belief Hoover is the business man to handle the job properly. They are convinced of his sincerity and real ability.

"Hoover is not so much the politician as he is the capable business man. He has a mind that few leaders in our country have. The best argument for Herbert Hoover is his 'bigness.' Everyone knows of his great brain and capacity for disposing of knotty problems, either vast or infinitesimal in scope. It is not necessary to mention his unblemished record as national food administrator. Just read his record in the business world. He is a 'big man' in whatever he undertakes. And he is just what the westerner calls a 'square shooter.'

"Mr. Hoover's candidacy is open and above board. He was not seeking the office. If he had been, he made a very unbusinesslike poor start by not stating his affiliations promptly. Hoover was engaged in another merciful undertaking, the records of congress will show, when his friends were beseeching him to run for president. He did not decide to run until he completed his object, namely getting a large sum from congress for carrying on much needed foreign work.

"The main object of the Hoover clubs is to show by enrollment the extent of the public interest in national issues as expressed by Herbert Hoover. This is desired in order to convince delegates to the Chicago convention of the support of this movement from all elements in the community. This line of action is thought to be wiser than at this late date and with unequal organization to initiate new contests in the primaries.

Get out and mail to HOOVER CLUB OF MARYLAND, headquarters 117 West Fayette Street, "second floor front."

I am a supporter of Herbert Hoover for the Presidency of the United States, and I pledge myself to do all I can to further Mr. Herbert Hoover's candidacy.

Wage Successful War on Pest.

The worst enemy of the grape growers in California is a minute insect called the "thunder fly," because it appears in greatest numbers in hot and sultry weather, when thunder storms are frequent. A man out there has invented a suction apparatus, with a ten-horsepower blower, that is placed on wheels and driven through the vineyards, harvesting the pests from the vines as it goes along. It is said to work very successfully.

The Girl in Business.

The big difference between young men and women in business is that the former know they have many years of work ahead, while the latter often feel that their sojourn in the business world is to be temporary. Only to the extent that a girl considers her work as a lifetime affair, and accordingly devotes her whole heart and soul to it, can she succeed in rising above the rank and file.—Forbes Magazine.

Clover Barometers.

The ordinary clover and all its varieties, including shamrock, are barometers. When rain is coming the leaves shut together like the shells of an oyster. For a day or two before rain comes their stems swell to an appreciable extent, and stiffen so that the leaves are borne more uprightly than usual. This stem swelling when rain is expected is a feature of many flowering grasses.

His Prescription.

His father has a pronounced partiality for Bill, and the latter is diplomat enough to work this feeling of his father's whenever an opportunity offers. Quite recently young William injured his hand severely, and when his father returned home he inquired: "Well, Bill, how's the hand?" Seeing his father was in a mellow mood, William answered: "I think some ice cream would help it."

Kindness in Business.

It is a great privilege to have an opportunity many times a day, in the course of your business, to do a kindness which is not to be paid for. Graciousness of demeanor is a large part of the duty of any official person who comes in contact with the world. Where a man's business is, there is the place for his religion to manifest itself.—Helps.

Would Have Changed History.

One would have said that the most momentous event of 1788 was the fall of the Bastille. Yet, on a summer day of the same year a young artillery officer, bathing in the Saone river, was seized with cramps and nearly drowned. If he had drowned, Napoleon Bonaparte would never have added a single line to the history of Europe.

Would Be a Joke.

John had been the only child in the family for five years, when one day a little baby sister came. Several weeks later the parents were talking about the little baby, saying how sweet she was and how glad they were to have a little girl. John, listening, said: "Oh, mother, wouldn't it be a good joke on you if sister turned out to be a boy?"

Imparting Information.

Bartlett had heard his parents spell most of their conversations, so upon learning his first few words he greeted his father that evening with: "Daddy, we're going to R. A. T. (picture show)."

Duly Announced.

Mary, upon answering the door bell found a couple of women who had stopped to call. As she let them in she called to her mother: "Mother, you have a couple of customers."

Troublesome Weed.

The hawkweed, introduced from Europe into Canada and the New England states, has become one of the most troublesome weeds in grass lands.

Edenic, What?

"The bride was gowned in white chrysanthemums, and autumn leaves formed the decorations."—Boston Transcript.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Price, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child... I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time... I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble,' so he got me 5 bottles... After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved... before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

THE PEACE TREATY

By LIZZIE M. PEABODY.

There had been no love lost between the Braddigans and Cotters since a day long ago, when a bold Braddigan had persuaded a fair lady of the Cottes line to go away with him to a far country. Maybe that in itself wouldn't have been so bad, but he also persuaded the two best horses in the Cottes stables to go along with them, and they had never returned.

Two families of the warring lines still remained, and insult from either family to the other was promptly avenged. The Cotters, who lived in the valley, near the foot of Crooked Road mountain, were tall, well-built, dark and handsome. The family included father, daughter and two strapping sons, and when in the valley it was whispered that America might enter the war there was much wild talk and excitement at first, and then the family settled quietly down to await the outcome of events.

Already they had decided to be among the first to offer themselves for service, and when the word came that America could no longer, with honor to herself, keep out of the war, the boys, with all the optimism of youth, looked only on the bright side.

Soon came the day when they trod the road which led to enlistment, to training camp, to the crowded ship which sailed on its twisting way across the sea under whose smiling face lay so much danger, and finally to France, while among the shadows of the stern old mountains, which in those days were more used to smiles than frowns, their father and sister waited for news of them, now hopefully, and then with heavy hearts.

The Braddigans lived on the mountainside, and young Jack was square-jawed, his hair was of a reddish tinge, and his eyes were gray and clear.

From his home he saw the Cotters as they passed so blithely along, and suddenly and for the first time in his life he knew what it was to be envious.

They thought of him as a slacker, he supposed, and sighed impatiently. As the weeks slipped by, his friends all left the mountains, and it seemed that he alone was left to do the usual routine work, and to solve his problem. How was he to follow the others while his mother and delicate sister remained alone and nearly helpless?

Like lightning from a clear sky the news came to them that he had been called to the colors, and with a shock of surprise both women noted the varying expressions which flitted over his face as he learned that he had been drafted; and promptly decided that whatever came of it he should not be obliged to ask for exemption on their account. But Jack's luck... turned, for the next day his mother received an answer to a letter which she had written to her brother a long time ago, and he wrote that he would be glad to come to stay with them and Kitty was given a position as teacher in the small school near them. So in due time Jack Braddigan followed the Cotters overseas, and it happened that he quickly got into the thick of the fight. The people of the mountain had chuckled as they said: "If Braddigan and the Cotters catch sight of each other there'll be a fight on their own account," but the truth is that the boys found war to be so wholly beyond anything they could ever have imagined, in its horror and magnitude, that by comparison their strife, wrangling and bitter discord of the past seemed to appear as it would to an onlooker—a needless and discomforting affair.

Their views of life had broadened, and when Jack, by means of bravery, endurance, and presence of mind had played a wonderful part in rescuing the Cotters from the enemy he was not surprised to note the grateful spirit in which they accepted his service, and it was agreed upon that all grievances of the past should be forgotten. It was some months after armistice had been declared that as dusk was coming in the valley, the Braddigans and the Cotters gathered at the cross roads, and from their different stations awaited the coming of the boys, who as they came sang softly of "the long, long trail."

Nellie Cottes rushed to them, so did Kitty Braddigan, and both girls kissed and were kissed impartially.

Then, as after a while the girls started back in surprise, Tim Cottes cried: "Come, Dad, and meet the Braddigans. We've declared an armistice."

"What's an army stitch?" demanded Mr. Cottes peevishly.

Tim laughed lightly. "Tis the stitch folks patch up quarrels with, I'm thinking," he answered, and then said seriously: "Dad, Jack saved our lives at the risk of his own, or we'd never have seen the valley again; and we've seen all the fighting we want to see. Listen all! If you're willing after this to live and let live; to help, and not to hinder, raise your right hand." Each right hand was raised, and Mr. Cottes as he slowly raised his, muttered "perhaps it's best after all." So the peace treaty was settled and Nellie Cottes blushed prettily as Jack said:

"It'll be over this evening." And Kitty Braddigan's cheeks were pink as Tim, after a quick glance at Kitty, exclaimed, disappointedly:

"Why! I was going over to your house!"

"This peace treaty's going to work fine," laughed Jack.

POULTRY NOTES

Corn is very fattening, and overuse is frequent with poultry, causing the hens to fatten instead of laying eggs.

As grass makes up the bulk of feed for geese, it is doubtful whether it pays to raise them unless good grass range is available during the summer.

The hen that has free range on a farm in summer finds these same things and that is one reason why neglected farm flocks lay well in summer and very poorly at other times.

A well-kept flock of hens means a steady income—enough to keep you in spending money while you are waiting for the crops to grow.

The results found by experiment seem to prove the contention of some Leghorn breeders that their birds are light entries in comparison with some other breeds.

Frost on the walls of the house indicates too much moisture in the air and shows the need of more ventilation, unless the house is overcrowded, in which case the stock should be thinned out.

Meaning of the Name Ida.
 Ida and Ada are practically synonymous. In early times, however, Ada was believed to be derived from Adah, meaning ornament, and the name Adah was given to the wife of Lamech in the Old Testament. But later etymological authorities believe that Ada is merely a Latinized form of Ead, meaning happy or rich, and the same as the German Ida. Ida's gem is the turquoise.

Tintinnabulating Tambourines Doomed to Minor Salvation Role

TAMBOURINES AT SALVATION ARMY HEADQUARTERS, NEW YORK CITY

THE America of the old fashioned Americans is gone; it's all ended. Some still cling to primrose hopes, but with the recent announcement that the Salvation Army lassies have given up their tambourines for street collecting—pshaw! What's the use?

It started with the buffaloes. Some New York traveling men, dressed in the latest spring styles, ventured out West. The buffaloes took one squint, lay down on their spinal cords, closed their eyes, growled and died.

And then there came about the passing of another beloved American institution—the front yard. Home life hasn't been the same since. With the advent of skyscraper tenements and flats front yards vanished. Now the heads of households when they come home at night worn out with arguing golf at the office all day have to sit on the front doorsteps or go to the movies.

Suspenders have gone too. And gone are 50 cent Sunday table d'hôte dinners, and family surreys, and all-day suckers.

And now the time honored role of the Salvation Army lassie's tintinnabulating tambourine is doomed. You will find these once popular musical collection boxes piled up by the hundreds at Salvation Army headquarters.

The lassies, heartened by the country's approval of their overseas war service, have found it unnecessary to waste effort in tambourine solicitations, and they devote the time thus saved to actual slum work and general service to all distressed humanity. So they've called off the year-round tambourine collecting and appeal to the nation annually for financial approval. The 1920 Appeal is scheduled for May 10th to 20th.

The lassies will still beat the tambourines in the Salvation Army praise services, however. They quote a number of Psalms as authority. Here is Psalm 149, 3:

"Let them sing praises unto Him with the timbrel and harp."

The "timbrel" is the ancients' name for the modern Salvation Army tambourine. Well, goodbye, old tambourine. We'll miss your cheering tinkle and the acknowledging smile of your mistress, but you did your bit.

Beat Drum—Spent Night in Prison

BY hitting a big bass drum just one resounding whack for which she spent a night in jail, a resolute black eyed girl changed the police classification of Salvation Army drumming from "petty nuisance" to "music."

That was twenty-two years ago, and the black eyes have grown more gentle in years of service for the poor since those battling days, but they still twinkle when the story is told.

It was Mrs. Adam Gifford, wife of the colonel now commanding the New England forces of the Salvation Army, who wielded the drumstick and struck defiance at the Pennsylvania blue coated policeman of the town where she and her husband were then stationed. Irrate citizens had complained bitterly of the Salvation Army and its street corner meetings and musical services, but particularly of the bass drums of the band. Night after night the drums had been confiscated by the police, but to no effect. Finally a police order went out to "arrest anyone attempting to beat a drum."

Following this Colonel Gifford in an effort to test the constitutionality of the order advertised that upon a certain evening a monster meeting would be held and that upon that occasion Mrs. Gifford would beat the drum.

As anticipated, a record breaking crowd was turned out. The police reserves were called upon to quell the riots which might ensue. At a given signal Mrs. Gifford gave the drum a resounding thump and the meeting was under way. Immediately the frail little Salvation Army lassie was placed under arrest and escorted by a crowd of amused but sympathetic onlookers to the patrol wagon and thence to the local jail, where she spent the night.

The case was taken before the supreme court of the state, where eventually the contention of the "Army" was sustained.

Following the decision the entire corps, led by Colonel Gifford, marched to the city hall to demand the drums that had been confiscated by the police. Twenty-eight of the offending "prisoners" were released in the custody of the corps. From that date to the present none of the meetings of the Salvation Army has been disturbed by the police. Furthermore, the precedent established has been maintained in nearly every state in the Union.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1920

Snake story season reported rather dull under prohibition.

The fellows who are trying to corner sugar should be given a snug corner in the federal penitentiary.

A five day working week is predicted and probably at that people will quit Friday noon to get ready for the holiday.

The girl graduate is reminded that she can't prove that she has acquired brains merely by wearing a $75.00 dress.

The towns that show incredible gains in population are not seeking to verify the figures by petitioning for any recount.

Lottery companies are to be prosecuted by the government, but the matrimonial bureaus have not yet been touched.

Some people in Princess Anne won't clean up their yards because they don't want to look any better than their neighbors.

People who kick on higher prices for shaves and hair cuts, do not seem to appreciate the value of the barber's conversation.

The merchant who doesn't advertise need not bother to clean up his store as not many people are likely to discover his disorderly condition.

The people who never lift a finger to improve political conditions are about the same ones who always claim that the primaries are all out and dried.

Bird songs are supposed to be the sweetest sound of spring, but the housewives of Princess Anne would rather hear their husbands beating the parlor rug.

You can argue all day to a man that he ought to plant a garden for the good of the community, but it will be more effective to send him down to the store to ask the price of spring vegetables.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Many schools are now undertaking to prepare young men for "business administration." No doubt young men entering business need a broader training and many college graduates have not done enough work along business lines. At the same time, too many young men are fitting themselves for office positions and too few are trying to obtain skill at the ordinary mechanical tasks in factories. Only a very small part of those who enter offices will ever become factory managers. Most of the others will have to content themselves with very ordinary clerical positions that any routine worker can fill.

The "white collar job" is too popular. There should be a lot of men who are more anxious to learn the rudiments and fundamentals of business and less who study how to add up figures and post books. The ambitious fellow is more likely to advance from the bench than from the office.

MOTHER'S DAY

There are some factors in human life that are subject to constant change, hence human progress. Others remain about the same from age to age. Among those fixed elements which play a tremendous part in our affairs is the intense sentiment called mother love. The most degenerate wretch can be spurred to a moment of better impulse at the thought of his mother.

Young people do not commonly realize how intense this sentiment is and what incessant sacrifice it prompts. Children accept the constant round of loving sacrifice with scarcely a thought of obligation. As they reach maturity the girls devote themselves to their rounds of pleasure while their mothers are at home mending their finery and cooking their food. The boys early reach the point where their mother's wise suggestions are viewed with contempt. But when they are hungry or miserable they immediately rush for mother's consolations.

A great many selfish children are constantly imposing on their mothers with their incessant demands, and they become little kings and queens around whom the household revolves. If mothers have any fault it is in being too indulgent, allowing these children to form harmful habits of non-cooperation in the labors and efforts of the family.

Young folks of this type need a good deal of advice from some source outside their homes. The wise school teacher finds occasion to make her pupils realize what return should be made to their mothers for this love and service.

As people go on in life they realize better the marvelous force that mother love had in shaping their lives. The wearing of carnations on Mother's Day, (May 9 this year) has been their means of expressing this feeling. It is not mere sentimentality, but a pretty and noble custom.

THE SUGAR SITUATION

Again the housewives are lining up before the grocery store counters for their sugar supplies. In many places they consider themselves lucky to get half a pound at a time. And at that they may have to buy stuff they don't want along with it. It was confidently expected when the price limit was removed, there would be abundant sugar but it has not proved so. There is much reason to think that extortionate profiteering exists somewhere in the trade.

While a renewal of government fixed prices would relieve the situation temporarily, the only permanent remedy is a production so ample that prices will fall naturally. Meanwhile it seems absurd that the candy trade and soda fountains are allowed to consume such enormous quantities of sugar, while housewives can't get it for canning food supplies.

The government should look alive to hunt down people who are charging exorbitant prices for sugar and an attempt to corner the supply should be punishable under existing legislation. But it is probably true that the sugar production of the world is insufficient to supply the demand and while this condition exists prices are sure to remain high.

No immediate relief from this shortage can be expected. Russia was formerly the second sugar producing country in the world and its production will not be normal for years. Germany and Austria were great sugar countries, and their production will not be normal for some time.

American farmers ought to find beet sugar production an attractive proposition with present high prices. One of the most useful things the government could do would be to persuade more farmers to take it up. When sugar becomes abundant, prices will fall.

GRADUATION EXPENSES

When the poor man's daughter gets up to the last year of high school the question arises whether the family can afford to give her the final year. They might perhaps get along without her earning capacity, but when it comes to the heavy cost of graduation the situation looks different. Many struggling families feel it can't be afforded. So the girl misses the most fruitful year of her education and her whole life is stunted.

Graduating expenses have always been a burden, but are even more so present costs. The girl who used to want a $25.00 dress will desire one costing $50.00 now and that is only one of a long list of expenses.

Teachers say that costly graduating clothes are often purchased by families of struggling wage earners. They have natural pride in ability to keep up their end and dislike to see their daughter appear inferior. Sometimes she spends more than children of the wealthy, whose position is assured without display.

The schools are the foundation of democracy and their benefits should be enjoyed to the full by all. When incidental expenses become so heavy that many children are either barred out, or else compelled to spend beyond their means, democracy ceases to exist.

The schools that influence their senior girls to make their graduating clothes themselves out of simple materials, teach one of the most valuable lessons provided by the curriculum.

The Pungent Vice-President

Vice-President Marshall never speaks without being both original and entertaining. His pungent address to an interchurch meeting in Washington that was also addressed by the new Ambassador was full of points. They were not all of universal application, however, and not designed to be so; as, for instance, when Mr. Marshall said that it is idle to legislate for purity if the pastor above his book is to leer at his neighbor's wife. Another statement more general in its reach, but with the pungency that exaggeration always imparts, was the statement that it is vain to enact laws punishing murder if the elders are to continue working little children to death, or to forbid larceny if the deacons make large contributions that are wrong as excess profits from labor and the ultimate consumer.

Mr. Marshall said many other things of pungency and sense, directed at the injustice and hypocrisy of the age, which, if heeded, would go farther to bring to pass the millennium than all the social legislation that could be placed upon the books of the nation. For, he says, the church has passed over to the state its work and the state has made a failure of it. The Vice-President is a good all-round evangelist of a practical type and does not hesitate to speak his mind, and what he says is quickening to the public conscience. —Baltimore American.

One reason for the shortage of paper is the large amount it takes to convince people that they can acquire wealth by buying oil stocks.

Periodic Bilious Attacks

Skip one meal and take three of Chamberlain's Tablets and you may be able to avoid the attack. Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks should not drink tea or coffee at any time.

School Bond Issue Defeated

The $200,000 school bond issue which was submitted to the vote of the people of Wicomico county on Monday of last week for their approval or rejection was completely snowed under by its opponents. The bonding measure was carried in just one of the county's voting districts, and that district is Sharptown. Delmar was the next most loyal district to the cause of education. The majority against the bond issue in the county is 2,002, the votes for it numbering 1,092 and those opposed to it numbering 3,094. The total possible vote in the county is 6,901 and the total vote cast both for and against the bond issue was 4,096 showing that 1,805 voters were not sufficiently interested in the cause of public education in the county to vote either for or against the measure.

Treatment of Common Colds

Strawberry patches in this county were white with blossoms when the heavy frost of last week came along and blackened them. The loss is estimated as heavy in some sections while in others it is not so bad. If the berries are hurt to the extent that some estimate, it is a heavy blow to our growers who were counting upon a big crop and big prices. Early cantaloupes and tomato plants were also injured. In many cases this will necessitate an entirely new planting, which will make the crop a little late.

The Army recruiting station, 16 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, is in receipt from the war department of a very attractive poster portraying the "Decorations and Service Medals" of the United States Army, which were prepared in response from many sources sought for on account of the information, general and historic, contained hereon. The distribution of these posters is limited to the Chamber of Commerce, Banks, Newspapers, National Guard Organizations, American Legion Posts and military societies. The posters can be obtained by applying at Masonic Temple, Salisbury.

For Safety First For Maryland

A movement for what was termed safety-first for Maryland was inaugurated at a dinner at the Southern Hotel, Baltimore, last Wednesday night, at which Governor Ritchie presided. The safety idea brought out is the organization of a state military force. Since the close of the world war the militia of the state has not been rehabilitated and placed upon the same basis as that prior to the war.

Fully two hundred representative citizens of Baltimore and of the counties attended the dinner. Governor Ritchie introduced the several speakers. Adjutant General Rockford, the first speaker, dwelt upon the need of a state armed force. This need was emphasized by former Adj. Gen. H. M. Wardfield, and was approved by the speakers who followed. The discussion took a wide range. Among the suggestions advanced was the organization of a state constabulary force similar to that of Pennsylvania.

Dynamite Demonstrations A Success

The dynamite demonstrations held last Wednesday and Thursday were attended by 325 farmers. The use of dynamite in ditching was shown and the results were entirely satisfactory and convinced those present that ditches could be dug cheaper with dynamite than in any other way at the present time.

A number of the managers of the various tax ditches will use dynamite in the near future on their ditches. The use of explosives will enable a greater amount of drainage work to be accomplished under present labor conditions than would be possible if the ditches had to be dug by hand labor.

Medical Men To Convene In Baltimore

The Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland will hold its one hundred and twenty-second annual meeting Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. A session of delegates Wednesday afternoon at Faculty Hall, 1211 Cathedral street, Baltimore, will open the program, which includes scientific meetings, clinics at various hospitals and the annual smoker of the organization.

The Florence Nightingale Centennial will be celebrated by members Wednesday night at the Associate Congregational Church under auspices of the Maryland State Association of Graduate Nurses. Dr. William H. Welch will act as chairman at the session, and an invocation will be delivered by the Rev. C. Sturges Ball.

Diocese Won't Merge With Delaware

The standing committee of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Delaware and Easton, which includes the Eastern Shore of Maryland, met in Easton last Thursday night for discussion on a possible merger of the two dioceses with headquarters in Wilmington.

It was brought out in the meeting that Wilmington expected that Easton would surrender its entity to Wilmington. The Easton standing committee stated that the opposition from all parts of the Eastern Shore was so pronounced that they were compelled to say that a merger was not possible. Accordingly a resolution was passed citing that such a merger was not desirable or possible, and the matter had been settled.

This is the third attempt of Delaware to effect a merger in the past century.

Dry Heads Name Crabbe

George W. Crabbe, superintendent of the Antislavery League of Maryland, was re-elected last Thursday at the annual dinner of the trustees in the league's offices in the Equitable Building of Baltimore. Five members of the board also were re-elected. They are Louis T. Clark, the Rev. Dr. Henry Branch, T. Pliny Fisher, Thomas R. Hull and Lawrence Wooden.

In his report for the fiscal year just ended Mr. Crabbe showed collections from all sources totaled $41,805.50. Of this, Protestant churches contributed $35,034.44. The salaries of Mr. Crabbe and five male assistants totaled $13,677.63.

A committee, consisting of the Revs. C. D. Harris, F. F. Benson and Henry Branch, was appointed to prepare a declaration of the attitude of the league toward beer and light wines.

Delaware Senate Ratifies Suffrage

True to the predictions made two weeks ago, that on the reconvening of the Delaware Legislature after recess, that the suffrage resolution pending in the Senate would pass by a substantial majority, those who could crowd themselves in the small Senate chamber of the State Capitol building at Dover, Del., last Wednesday afternoon, saw the "expected" come to pass, as the resolution introduced by Senator Walker two days after the special session convened on March 22 and which had been "slumbering" in committee since that date, was passed by a vote of 11 yeas to six nays.

Just what influenced some of the Republican members of the Senate to change their attitude of four weeks ago, when they had declared at all odds that they were against suffrage, has not altogether been ascertained.

Party leaders and suffragists declare that it was because of party pressure urging ratification, more especially since the recent Republican State Convention, which urged speedy action on the suffrage amendment.

POLITICS WARM ON THE SHORE

Robertson Asks Recount—Goldsborough Leads by 28

The Democratic primary election is over on the Eastern Shore, but the political game is being played more vigorously than during the recent campaign in which T. Alan Goldsborough, of Caroline, and Hilton W. Robertson, of Wicomico, were the rival candidates for nomination for Congress. On the face of the unofficial returns Mr. Goldsborough was nominated by 28 majority.

Mr. Robertson is not satisfied that he was defeated fairly and has asked for a recount of the ballots in each of the nine counties of the district. In order to forestall this action Boards of Election Supervisors in several counties began the canvassing of the returns. A. M. Jackson, of Salisbury, Mr. Robertson's campaign manager, and Lorie C. Quinn, Jr., of Crisfield, also a supporter of Mr. Robertson, hastened to Baltimore last Wednesday and employed Isaac Lobe Straus as counsel for Mr. Robertson. With Mr. Straus they called upon Attorney General Armstrong, who ordered that the canvassing of the returns should stop at once. With the certificates of nomination issued to Mr. Goldsborough by the county supervisors, there would be legal obstacles to be overcome by Mr. Robertson in his demand for a recount.

The result of the primary will not be definitely known until the recount shall have been completed. As less than 33 per cent of the Democratic vote was cast in the district the recount should be completed in two or three weeks. Supporters of Mr. Robertson charge that the ballot box was tampered with in at least one district, 20 Goldsborough ballots being substituted for as many Robertson ballots. They say that boxes in other districts may have shared a like fate.

The returns for Cecil county had been canvassed before orders to discontinue the count were received. The canvass shows a gain of three votes for Robertson, thus reducing Goldsborough's lead to 25.

PREPARE FOR COLLEGE NEW CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE
MAY 14 TO GIVE STIMULUS TO IMPORTANT MOVEMENT.

Public schools here have been requested to observe May 14, which has been designated "Prepare for College Day" in this state and in the other states comprising the Fifth Federal Reserve District.

During chapel exercises, or at other specified periods that day, it is suggested that addresses be made in the high schools by leading business men and prominent educators, and in the elementary schools by the teachers. The purposes of the observance, it is explained, are to stress the importance of a college education and to offer suggestive methods whereby the pupils, and their parents, may plan ahead with a college course definitely in view.

Women's clubs are being asked to help in the movement, and the Rotary clubs also are expected to take part, while many churches have expressed their interest and indicated their desire to participate. Further, the United States Treasury Department, through the district War Loan Organization, is lending assistance, and the general plan, it is announced, has received the heartiest approval of practically every college president in the state.

Miss Mary G. Shotwell, director of the educational division of the War Loan Organization of this district, recently discussed the project before the convention of the Virginia Association of Women's Colleges and Schools. The association, by resolution, pledged its "sincere and hearty co-operation in carrying out all the plans."

It is proposed by the Treasury Department that parents who desire to send their sons and daughters to colleges and that boys and girls who wish to provide a college fund for themselves—that they definitely plan for the future and make regular systematic saving a part of their plan. As safe, productive investments for such funds government securities, such as Treasury Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps, are suggested.

Observance of "Prepare for College Day" will be fruitful of extensive results, it is believed, and the stimulus toward higher education is expected to be very valuable, particularly since the statement has so frequently been made recently and so authoritatively that never before has the country been in more imperative need of men and women of trained minds and broad vision.

BREAK IN BOND PRICES IS NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

LARGE YIELD MADE POSSIBLE TO ASTUTE INVESTORS WHO SEIZE HIS OPPORTUNITY.

Investors who bought Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes at recent market prices were thus able to earn considerably more than the bond rates of interest on their money, according to figures compiled by stock and bond brokers. Moreover, income tables recently completed by the War Loan Organization of this district show that the bonds, inasmuch as they are exempt from all state and local property and income tax (except estate or inheritance taxes) are equivalent in their net yield to taxable stocks and bonds paying rates of interest substantially higher.

The property tax on stocks and bonds is sometimes considerable. From these property taxes, state and city, Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes, of course, are exempt. This means, therefore, brokers point out, that the government securities yield a net income equal to that of taxable stocks and bonds paying much more.

The following figures show in the order named the issues of Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes, their respective periods to maturity, recent market quotations and the approximate annual interest based upon these prices and conditional upon the securities being held to maturity.

First 2 1/2, 27 years; $93.20; 3.90 per cent.
First 4, 27 years; $95.50; 5 per cent.
First 4 1/4, 27 years; $95.50 5.5 per cent.
Second 4, 22 1/2 years; $95.50; 5.15 per cent.
Second 4 1/4, 22 1/2 years; $95.50; 5.5 per cent.
Third 4 1/4, 19 1/2 years; $99.00; 5.63 per cent.
Fourth 4 1/4, 18 1/2 years; $95.00; 4.67 per cent.
Victory 4 3/4, 1 year; $99.50; 6.00 per cent.
Victory 2 3/4, 3 years; $94.50; 5.95 per cent.

In comparing the income from Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes with the net yield of taxable stocks and bonds the usual taxes should be added to each of the percentage yields given above.

It must be with the legislature, however, point out, to increase the taxes here. This then would make the income yield of non-taxable government bonds far more than greater and the bonds would therefore be all the more valuable, bankers and business men say, as investment securities.

AUSTRIAN DESPOT IN ITALY

Excellent Reasons Why Commandant in Town of Buje Was Feared and Detested.

During the war, Austria, fearing and hating the Italians of Istria, placed every town under drastic military control.

It was the chief task of Colonel Vogelhuber, commander of Buje, to make the Italians feel his presence. They had felt it one day. Incensed by his latest decrees, they had come in crowds below his windows, discussing, gesticulating, angrily demanding an audience, until his troops had rammed them in the stomach with the butts of rifles and driven them off—to their homes where they would find that during their absence a few more objects had mysteriously disappeared, woolen clothing, perhaps, or some pieces of furniture or a cherished picture. Not stolen, of course, but "requisitioned." It was neat.

He had had a good day but he would have a better evening. They had wanted an audience. Very well. That evening he would grant an audience to their leading citizens. More than that—he would dine them!

The leading citizens of Buje will not soon forget that dinner. The meal itself was excellent—indefinitely better than any that they had had for months. It consisted of meats "requisitioned" from their own herds and flocks, grains from their own fields, wine from their own cellars. The host, Colonel Vogelhuber, sat at the head of the table, all smiles and benignity. He was solicitous that every one should have plenty. When the repast was finished, he rose.

He called the attention of the Italians of Buje to the fact that he had sent very few of them to Austrian internment camps. He emphasized his tolerance and liberality in this matter. His action, however, had been guided by a definite purpose. It might please them to be informed as to the purpose which he had had in mind.

"I do not care to intern you," he said, in a smiling climax, "because I prefer to execute you!"

"The troops of Italy are at present making some advance. I wish simply to announce to you now that before they ever reach Buje I shall have the pleasure of seeing every man of you shot. Good night, gentlemen. The pleasure has been mine."

Then, showing the yellow streak always present in such natures, he hastily summoned his soldiers, and every guest was escorted to the street at the point of a bayonet.

A gay, dashing wag was Vogelhuber. Dashing he was certainly, a few weeks later, when the Italian Bersagliere swept into Buje so suddenly that he did not have time to make good his promise, but found it prudent to run to save his own skin, even leaving a precious carload of stolen treasures behind him.—Willard Price, in World Outlook.

Thermometers Vary.

The readings of old mercury thermometers are often too high, while spirit thermometers with age are liable to give indications lower than the actual temperatures. Shrinkage of the bulb, forcing the mercury up the tube, has been suggested as the cause of the high readings. For the opposite effect, several theories have been offered—such as taking up some of the spirit in an invisible film wetting the bore of the tube, or chemical combination of the spirit with the glass or evaporation through invisible cracks—but it is now believed that an explanation simpler than the early ones is available. Mercury thermometers sealed off when almost filled, contain practically no air, the tubes thus being given the reduced internal pressure favoring shrinkage. But spirit thermometers are sealed with the bulbs in a freezing mixture, so that they may contain as much air as possible, and such bulbs are constantly subjected to an internal pressure greater than outside. This gives the tendency to expand, allowing the spirit to fall too low in the tube.

The Helicopter.

A new flying machine, called a helicopter, has been invented, quite different from anything that mankind has yet stared up at. In that its propellers have a diameter of 51 feet, revolve so much more slowly than the more-and-more familiar airplane propeller that they are practically noiseless, are located above the car, and also take the place of the wings of the customary airplane. The propellers, in fact, are practically moving wings; and the machine, as described by Robert G. Skerrett in the New York Sun, presents quite a list of advantages over anything that has preceded it for air navigation. It can, it is declared, descend slowly, rise and come down without difficulty anywhere, carry a considerable load and is inherently stable. Aviation, after all, is still quite young, and it may possibly turn out that the helicopter is the next forward step.—Christian Science Monitor.

Clever Work.

The pupils of the second grade had been given a test in writing, and after it was over, the teacher requested them to take their copy home to show to their mothers.

The verse which Dwight had written was: "Little drops of water, Little grains of sand," etc.

His mother examined his work and praised his effort. "But what is this little word dog doing up here in the corner?" she asked.

"Oh," explained Dwight, "I forgot how to make a 'd' and had to write dog to find out."

Edith Logan vs. Henrietta Johnson and Sarah Johnson.
No. 3334 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Somerset County.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate situated in said Somerset county, of which Denard Johnson, late of Somerset county, deceased, died seized and possessed.

The bill states that the said Denard Johnson departed this life during or about the year eighteen hundred and ninety-six, intestate, leaving surviving him a widow, Sarah, late Johnson, who has since died, and the following children and grandchildren as his sole heirs at law, to wit:

(1). The defendant, Henrietta Johnson, a daughter, who is of full age and unmarried, and resides in said Somerset county. (2). A son, John A. Johnson, who departed this life during the year nineteen hundred and nineteen, unmarried, and leaving no children or descendants. (3). A son, Isiah Johnson, who died during the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, intestate, leaving no widow, but leaving as his sole heir at law, a daughter, the defendant, Sarah Johnson, who is of full age and resides in said Somerset county. (4). The plaintiff, Edith Logan, a granddaughter of the said Denard Johnson, being the only child of Mary Ann Logan, daughter of the said Denard Johnson, who died before her said father, the said Edith being of full age and unmarried, and residing in Northampton county, State of Virginia.

That the said Denard Johnson in his lifetime and at the time of his death was seized and possessed of certain real estate situated in Lawson's Election District, in said Somerset county, which said real estate is now held by your oratrix and the said defendants as tenants in common; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition or division among the parties entitled to interests therein without material loss or injury to said parties, and that in order to make division thereof it will be necessary that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds of said sale divided among your oratrix and the said defendants, according to their respective rights and interests.

It is thereupon this 5th day of April, nineteen hundred and twenty, ordered by the Circuit Court for Somerset county, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Somerset county once in each of four successive weeks before the 14th day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty, give notice to the said Sarah Johnson, for whom three successive subpoenas have been issued out of this Court and returned non est, of the object and substance of this bill warning her to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 31st day of May next, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

MORE THAN ONE-HALF OF ADULTS IN U. S. LACK CHURCH INFLUENCE

Older Communities Are Better Supplied With Churches Than the Newer Districts of the West and Southwest.

Striking figures revealing the number of adults in the United States who are without church affiliation are shown on a chart which has just been issued by the Interchurch World Movement. This chart brings out a comparison of unchurched inhabitants by states, indicating that the older communities of New England are relatively better supplied with churches than those of the newer states of the west and southwest.

Conditions such as these, brought to light by the home and foreign surveys, form the basis for the great appeal of thirty co-operating denominations, through the Interchurch World Movement, for $336,777,572 in the United Financial Campaign which begins April 25 and ends May 2.

Totals: Catholics 17,049,000 Jews 3,387,200 Other Non-Prots 739,700
Protestants 24,354,300 Not members of any church 58,110,000

ly better supplied with churches than those of the newer states of the west and southwest.

Conditions such as these, brought to light by the home and foreign surveys, form the basis for the great appeal of thirty co-operating denominations, through the Interchurch World Movement, for $336,777,572 in the United Financial Campaign which begins April 25 and ends May 2.

Possibly many persons will be surprised to learn that Nevada leads with the greatest number of unchurched persons, including children—87.8 per cent of her population. Oklahoma is second, the statistics revealing that 82.2 per cent of that state's inhabitants have no church connections.

Wyoming is third with 75.2, Arizona fourth with 73.9, Washington fifth with 73.3, Oregon sixth with 72.7 and West Virginia seventh with 71.2 per cent of the population unchurched.

On the credit side the chart discloses that Connecticut leads with the lowest percentage of unchurched and, consequently, the best showing in church attendance for its population. Connecticut's percentage of unchurched in-are as follows: Massachusetts, 41.9 per cent; Utah, 43.7 per cent; Louisiana, 46.3 per cent; Pennsylvania, 49.9 per cent, and South Carolina, 48.6 per cent.

The percentages of 'unchurched' in the remaining states in each of which more than half the population is not affiliated with any church are as follows:

Alabama 58.9, Arkansas 70.8, California 55.8, Colorado 70.1, Delaware 51.2, District of Columbia 51.2, Florida 62.3, Georgia 57.3, Idaho 68.8, Illinois 51.2, Indiana 61.2, Iowa 61.1, Kansas 69.7, Kentucky 62.1, Maine 53.5, Maryland 58.7, Massachusetts 55.2, Michigan 62.2, Minnesota 57.7, Montana 68.0, Nebraska 66.1, New Hampshire 59.7, New Jersey 64.9, New Mexico 64.9, North Carolina 63.6, North Dakota 64.9, Ohio 58.6, Oklahoma 64.7, Oregon 73.3, Pennsylvania 72.7, Rhode Island 71.2, South Carolina 48.6, South Dakota 61.2, Tennessee 61.1, Texas 64.7, Vermont 53.5, Virginia 58.6, and Wisconsin 58.6.

The Interchurch World Movement survey for the United States reported that the 45,330,343 Americans in church memberships accounted for were distributed as follows: Catholic 17,049,074, Jewish 3,877,238, Protestants 24,352,316; children of Protestant parentage 7,413,240; all other faiths 739,715.

WHY THIRTY DENOMINATIONS PLAN TO RAISE $336,777,572 IN THIS UNITED CAMPAIGN

What are the purposes to which the churches plan to put the large sum of money represented by the united budget of the thirty denominations co-operating through the Interchurch World Movement? What are the needs which American Christianity feels itself called upon to meet?

The sum for which the churches are appealing is $336,777,572, to be collected by means of an intensive campaign during the week of April 25 to May 2.

The money will be spent on home and foreign missions, education, Sunday schools, ministerial salaries and pensions, and hospitals and homes.

Here are some of the reasons for the appeal. There are 58,000,000 people in the United States who are connected with no church. If these people wanted to attend church they would be unable to do so, for not more than one-third of the population of the United States has an opportunity to attend church regularly Sunday by Sunday.

Pastors are paid on an average throughout the country $937 per year. This is the explanation of the dearth of young men willing to enter the ministry, and hence the explanation of the fact that thousands of churches can only hold service once a month.

Twenty-seven million young people in the United States are connected with no Sunday school, get no regular religious training. If they wanted the training there are not buildings or teachers enough to give it to one-half of them.

Yet Roger W. Babson, the statistician, speaking recently on business principles, declared that "the greatest factor in business life today is religion" and that "your real security is the integrity, the righteousness of the people of the community."

All over the world the non-Christians outnumber the nominal Christians by two to one. The enlightened races are Christian, the backward races are non-Christian. The backward races, so long as they remain backward, constitute a standing menace to the ideals and institutions of the more enlightened peoples. A simple illustration shows this. From time immemorial plagues have originated among the backward peoples and spread from them to the more civilized. Today a medical missionary in India or China may be the means of saving thousands of lives in America and Europe by checking a disease at its source.

The Dandelion Is Liked Now

Once the dandelion was a pest, a mal-ediction to every man who owned a lawn or tried to keep a grassy sward in proper order. To be sure, they were beautiful in their first speckling of golden color against the green, but after that they meant nothing but toil and ugliness.

Yet this spring—why, it is said that thousands of American citizens scan their lawns every morning to see if the dandelion has yet poked its head above the ground. Some men are said to be contemplating building trespass-proof fences to protect the once despised crop.

Why? Well, it is whispered that the blossoms and stems, when properly treated, according to an old wives' recipe, will produce something that is not only peculiarly intriguing, but also has a decided "kick."

Shad have been plentiful in the Pocomoke river this season. The fishermen report good catches and big prices.

Since 1914 the cost of clothing has jumped 177 per cent. And the increase in patches has been in a proportion.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Princess Anne Readers

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow. Then help the weakened kidney. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home.—Read this Princess Anne woman's convincing statement.

Mrs. Earl Waller, 109 Beckford Ave., says: "I was troubled with a very severe backache. At times I had sharp pains and little black spots flashed in front of my eyes. I seemed to ache all over and certainly was miserable until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. I got this fine medicine at Smith & Co.'s drug store and after using two boxes, I was cured of the trouble."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Waller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL MADE

Organizer Ashby Solicits Aid From Somerset County People

I have been in the Counties of Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset for over a month now trying to perfect an organization in each one, capable of raising a sum of money for the Salvation Army. Naturally my first object was to get hold of some man or group of men who were big and broad enough and capable of doing this.

Even after my first week of disappointments and being turned down so many times I still clung to my idea that this was a section of the country that contained big men with big ideas.

However, my efforts produced but little results. Every single man had his excuse and with but few exceptions he brought it out just as if he knew it by heart. Of course the answers were varied and numerous but the most frequent has been the plea of having had so much war work.

This has been such a favorite reply that I have about come to the conclusion that the battle of the Argonne must have been fought somewhere between Salisbury and Berlin, the St. Mihiel Drive carried through between Princess Anne and Crisfield and the other notable engagements along the Berlin, Snow Hill and Pocomoke City Sector. If the average holds good for the rest of the country we should have something like 99,000,000 war heroes in addition to the boys who were at the "French Front."

Another rather common excuse seems to be "We are sick of Drives." In the first place permit me to observe that this is not a "drive" but an appeal of the Salvation to the people of the country to give so that the Army may be the means of salvaging for better things those persons who have dropped so low they are unable to help themselves. The Salvation is not a "front parlor" organization.

As to being sick of "drives" that is quite natural because they seem to be never ending. On the other hand, who is to say where to stop. Is it fair to pick out the Salvation Army as the organization to which you will first say no to? It would be well to think a bit before making oneself responsible for any such thing as that. If you will but read the Geographic Magazine and the Ladies Home Journal for April and see what each has to say regarding the Salvation Army, which is merely a reiteration of what all, every one of the big people of this country have said, I am quite sure you will come to the conclusion that there really is no more effective organization in existence for reaching the sore spots of humanity. The Salvation Army lives for and with its work.

A number of people have said they wanted a little time in which to catch their breath, but the Salvation Army does not ask for time in which to catch its breath. While you are catching your breath they must needs reduce their activities and should the country at large ask for time also it would mean abandoning their work almost entirely. I feel confident there is not a man who would care to be responsible for such a catastrophe.

So many other people say they have asked people for money so much they are ashamed to do so again. I can see no reason why anyone should be ashamed to ask for a contribution to such a cause. It is an appeal for the support of God's own cause. Dollars contributed go down deep into the places that need it most. No way is too dark; no climb too weary for the Salvation Army Lasses who are helping to wage the long war against crime and poverty, suffering and hunger. Is it a human being in pain, in distress? That is all she asks. She cares naught for creed, color or nationality.

The Salvation Army are on the job 24 hours a day and the sun never sets on their activities for they encircle the globe. They never ask for time in which to catch their breath. They do not say "we are sick of all this filth and misery in which we live." They are never too busy to lend a helping hand. They ask no questions of those who need assistance except "Won't you let me help you?" They work where the human wreckage and driftwood accumulates and prove the statement that there is much worth saving by the results they obtain. Two out of every three derelicts make good!

When some forlorn, betrayed woman comes to them asking their aid they do not say they are too busy; tired out by their war work, or sick of such work. The Salvation Army replies to such an appeal, "Of course we will help. No matter if the baby is nameless it is worth its weight in gold to the nation, if brought up into a worth while citizen."

The mother who brings her child to the day nurseries to be cared for during the day while she works for a living is cordially welcomed and the baby given the best of care. The Salvation Army believes in better babies, because better babies make better men and women and that is sure to make a better country for us all to live in. It hits a vital spot.

It was soup, soap and salvation on the front lines of France with the doughnuts thrown in for good measure and its soap and salvation on the fighting line of the home sector.

The Salvation Army is not asking to be paid for its patriotism and its efforts to make the life of our boys in France a little easier and better. Their record is clear on that and can be pointed to with pride. What they do want is for funds with which to carry on their great program of Americanization and "raising the bottom." They are offering you the most practical and direct method of aiding your fellow man.

The Salvation Army asks for a free vote of confidence from the Nation. It hasn't such a very large share to raise. There are so many who can help in this country and all it needs is to have everybody put their shoulder to the wheel and over the top she goes.

Sincerely,
W. T. ASHBY.

It is claimed that only half as much food is required when it is thoroughly masticated. Digestion begins in the mouth and a thorough mastication of the food is of the greatest importance. ## Fifteen Counties To Bond For Schools

During the session of the Maryland legislature just concluded, school bonds were authorized to 8 counties without the referendum, and five counties, including Wicomico, were forced to resort to the referendum, in order to have their needed school bonds legally authorized.

Those counties to which bonds for school purposes were made available without the referendum and the amounts of the bonds authorized are: Allegany, $700,000; Anne Arundel, $150,000; Calvert, $20,000; Baltimore, $500,000; Caroline, $120,000; Frederick, $250,000; Dorchester, $150,000; Washington, $550,000.

Those Counties to whose bonding measures the referendum must be applied are Carroll, $300,000; Charles, $100,000; Garrett, $250,000; Worcester, $15,000; Wicomico, $200,000. It is a significant fact that those counties which are compelled to use the referendum on their school bonding measures, rank low in the educational circles of the state, Wicomico and Worcester counties being among the very lowest of the lot.

PRINCESS ANNE

MARYLAND

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB—AND ITS SCOPE

Every year the Presidency of the United States grows more important, until now it is recognized as the biggest job in the world. Yet few people realize that the president is not chosen by a majority vote and that several of our presidents have not been the most popular choice of all the people. This fact is clearly discussed in the story of the Presidency, one of the series of articles on Our Government, which we are issuing monthly.

If you are not receiving this material, drop in and let us add your name to the list of those to whom we are sending it each month.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

Delegates To National Convention Is Chief Purpose Of Meeting

The Democratic State Convention will convene at the Academy of Music in Baltimore on Thursday at noon. Dr. J. Hubert Wade, of Washington county, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, will call the convention to order and preside until the selection of a permanent chairman. The names of former Congressman Jesse D. Price, of Wicomico county, former Judge J. Harry Covington, of Talbot, former Mayor James H. Preston, of Baltimore, W. Mitchell Diggs, of Charles county, former United States Senator Blair Lee and others have been suggested as chairman of the convention. Messrs. Edward B. Lankford, Albert B. Fitzgerald, Thomas P. Bradshaw and James H. Cullen will represent Somerset Democrats at the assembly, having been chosen without opposition.

The chief problem confronting the State convention will be the selection of delegates to the National convention to be held next month in San Francisco. Maryland will follow its usual custom and name sixteen delegates, each with a half vote at the national gathering. Chief interest lies in the selection of the "Big Four" delegates at-large. Governor Ritchie and Senator Smith are sure to be chosen for two of these places and it is thought that the other two will be selected from among Comptroller E. Brooke Lee, Senator Blair Lee, James H. Preston, Judge Covington or Joshua W. Miles.

Old Fashioned Spelling Bee

An old-fashioned spelling bee was held at the Court House Monday evening of last week under the auspices of the Civic Club. It was conducted by Mr. H. Fillmore Lankford, head master. The captains were Mrs. Columbus Lankford and Miss Susie Collins. The exercises were opened by singing "Wait for the Wagon," led by Rev. S. S. Hankins, the audience joining in. The spelling bee then followed. The old-fashioned gowns worn by some of the class was an interesting feature. Mrs. Joseph G. Scott was the happy winner of a large cake, the prize given to the best speller. The audience was entertained with songs by Mrs. L. Creston Beauchamp and the Chorus Club of the Washington High School. Ice cream cones were sold during the singing. The entertainment closed by singing "Auld Lang Syne." The proceeds amounted to $151.26, to be used in watering the streets.

The club wishes to thank the county commissioners for the use of the Court House; Mrs. Douglas Wallop, Mrs. L. Creston Beauchamp, Rev. S. S. Hankins, and the chorus club for their sweet music; Mr. H. F. Lankford, Miss Susie Collins and Mrs. Columbus Lankford for their able assistance; the gentlemen and Boy Scouts who helped in serving the ice cream, and the public for their generous patronage.

Styles Of 1920

The girls of the Washington High School invite you to the Fashion Show and Exhibition of their sewing on Friday afternoon, May 21st, at 8.30 o'clock. The girls have done splendid work and will welcome you to this, the climax of their year's work.

Give liberal to the Salvation Army.

COUNTERFEIT STAMP HAS MUMPS

Postmaster Polk Warns Persons of Fake Savings Stamps

Postmaster Earle B. Polk issues a warning to thrifty persons hereabouts to be on their guard against buying counterfeit War Savings Stamps. Fraudulent blue stamps of the 1919 series have been made by counterfeiters, the postmaster has been advised, and are being sold to the unwary.

"But the frauds can be easily detected," the postmaster said. "Ben Franklin's picture appears on the stamp, and in the counterfeit stamp, old Ben seems to have the mumps in his left jaw. Indeed, there is a pronounced swelling. Then under the portrait the lower of the two left dots is comparatively indistinct, and the vertical opening between the lines in the lower left part of the numeral '2' in the date '1924' is closed. The principal feature of the fraud, however, is the swollen cheek."

"It should be remembered that the counterfeit is only of the 1919 series, and, like the original, is blue. Blue War Savings Stamps can no longer be bought from post offices or other authorized agencies. Only the 1920 stamps, which are red, are now being sold by agencies. Sales of last year's stamps are not legal. No one should buy a 1919 stamp, though it is true that some have been improperly offered for sale."

"Everyone who bought 1919 stamps last year may feel perfectly safe," the postmaster said in conclusion, "because the counterfeit was not made until after the first of this year. The blue stamps had then been withdrawn from sale by the authorized agencies, and the red 1920 stamp was being sold. Don't buy any 1919 stamps, and keep a lookout for the man with the mumps. If you see one let me know."

Public School Notes

Mr. William J. Holloway, State rural supervisor, spent last Wednesday in Somerset county. During his stay he visited several of the rural schools in company with County Superintendent W. H. Dashiell. In all of his visits he made an examination of the school buildings and took photographic views of them. He also took views of the children at their various games to be used in connection with a lecture he is preparing upon the natural sports of children.

The Board of Education of Somerset county held no meeting last Tuesday, as but three of the members were present. The meeting of the full board is expected to be held to-day, when it will duly organize. As Dr. Atkinson was not reappointed and Dr. Wainwright had resigned, no arrangements could be made to pay the teachers for April until the new board organizes to-day.

The annual examinations for the elementary grades will be held on May 25th, 26th and 27th. Questions for this examination have been prepared by the county superintendent and they will be sent to the teachers before May 25th.

The colored schools closed for the year on Friday, April 30th.

Goldsborough Gains On Record

Recount of the vote cast in the First Congressional district in the recent Democratic primary fight between Hilton W. Robertson and T. Alan Goldsborough began last Thursday. A recount was made in Dorchester and Somerset counties. Robertson's majority of 74 in Dorchester remains the same after the recount, but in Somerset Goldsborough gained three votes, leaving his majority 122. In Talbot county Goldsborough gained three. His total is 674, instead of the 673 the official canvass gave him. Robertson lost two votes, having a total of 404 instead of the 406 reported by the canvassers. The ballots for Wicomico county were recounted on Friday and Goldsborough gained 7 votes. Robertson's majority of 567 in the county was cut down to 560.

Yesterday (Monday) the Worcester vote was recounted. The Robertson vote was recounted. The Robertson people have not yet decided whether to go ahead with the recount in the upper part of the district, which includes Caroline, Queen Anne's, Kent and Cecil counties.

Flea Beetle On Plants

The flea beetle is causing some damage to tomato plants in the bed and potatoes. The tomato plants should be sprayed with Bordeaux mixture 4-4-50 and arsenate of lead 1½ pounds to 50 gallons of water. Commercial Bordeaux Mixture can be purchased already prepared and Pyrox, a commercial mixture of Bordeaux and arsenate of lead, is used by a number of farmers for spraying plants in the bed. It is important that the flea beetle be controlled as the injury caused by this insect will weaken the plants and make them susceptible to disease.

Washington High School Notes

The championship basketball game, which was to have been played between Crisfield and Princess Anne on Friday, was called off at the eleventh hour by Crisfield. In spite of the stress of preparing for final examinations, the W. H. S. team had been practicing regularly for the game and were in fine shape to trim Crisfield. The team, as well as the general public and school children who had assembled to witness the game, were greatly disappointed when the note announcing that Crisfield would not play was delivered.

The annual manual training exhibit will be held in the Washington High School on Thursday, May 27th, from 9 until 4 o'clock. Those interested are cordially invited to come and inspect the work done by the department during the session.

On Thursday, May 13th, the town nine defeated the high school team in a game of base ball. This is the second game that the "old-timers" have given the boys, the first one resulting in an easy victory for the high school team. The public anxiously awaits the championship game, which will decide whether the youthful "ball-tossers" or the old guards are to take first place in the League.

On Monday, May 17th, the girls and boys of the sophomore class entertained the faculty at a picnic. Senior exams, which have been in progress for the last week, are practically completed. The senior class is now devoting its attention to preparing for commencement and class day.

Contrary to her usual custom, Miss J. Frances Moore spent the week-end in Salisbury.

On Wednesday, May 26th, the seniors will have their class day exercises in the Auditorium. Besides the usual class-day exercises, "Tommy's Wife," a play in three acts, will be presented.

On Tuesday, May 18th, the Faculty All Stars will meet the W. H. S. girls basketball squad in a game on the school court. The game will be the most spectacular of the season, as the faculty have had physical as well as mental gymnastics. The public is urged to come out and root for the wielders of the rule and ferule. General admission, 10 cents. Doctors and undertakers admitted free.

Many of the people who complain because Liberty Bonds have declined in value are helping send them still lower by their failure to save any money and thus assist in establishing rates of interest.

ROAD WORK SHOWS GAIN

Commission Report For 1916-1919 Covers 1,518 Miles.

The report of the State Roads Commission, covering operations for the years 1916-1919 inclusive, has just been issued, the period covering the administration of Governor Harrington, under the present Roads Commission, Frank H. Zouk, G. Clinton Uhl and John F. Mudd.

The report explains delays in road construction caused by the war, measures taken to protect contractors who had bid on road work but who had to suspend operations because of war time regulations, and prices for labor and material which rose enormously while they were unable to work. Other states took similar action, but Maryland was the pioneer.

Announcement is made of the policy of building shoulders of concrete to macadam roads, thus widening them, and protecting them from raveling; of the banking of curves and of the cutting away of embankments that obstructed the view on curves to lessen the danger of accidents. "The commission feels," states the report, "that there are a great number of such places (Winter's Run, just south of Belair), which should be removed and it is the intention to remove them as rapidly as funds are available."

In discussing use of prisoners on the roads, the commission states that during 1919 seven gangs were used, aggregating 327 men. "The price charged by the Board of Prison Control," the report says, was a little more than the current rate of wages. The reason contractors and the commission were willing to pay was because they were assured of a full gang at all times.

The report shows that on January the main system of State roads outside of Baltimore city contained 1,341 miles, the State-aided roads constructed prior to 1916 and not yet taken into the State roads system consisted of 152 miles, and turnpikes purchased and under maintenance but not yet reconstructed, amounted to 25 miles or a total of 1,518 miles. Net proceeds of State Roads bonds authorized by successive legislatures and sold to date amount to $21,154,407.

Truck Tour On The Shore

At a recent meeting of a number of motortruck dealers held in Baltimore it was decided to get in line for National Ship-By-Truck Week—May 17 to 22.

A tour started from Baltimore yesterday (Monday) on a route through Belair, Elkton, Chestertown, Denton, Hurlock, Salisbury, Berlin, Pocomoke City, Princess Anne, Cambridge and Easton. Return will be made from Cambridge via ferry to Annapolis, if the number of trucks is not too great, otherwise it will be necessary to return to Baltimore by way of Centerville, Chestertown and Elkton. The tour will make a total mileage of from 350 to 400 miles. It will run on scheduled time and stop in the larger cities over night, where big demonstrations will be held. Members of the press will accompany the tour and a number of good speakers will address the people at all stops.

The caravan of trucks will arrive in Princess Anne next Friday morning. There will be 25 trucks in the tour and ten four-minute speakers will make addresses, telling the story of "horse-flesh vs. steel brains."

Mr. H. T. Walker, manager of Ship-By-Truck Bureau, Baltimore Branch, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, who is recuperating from a long illness at the residence of Mr. G. P. Tyler, at Crisfield, will have charge of all the arrangements for tour in Princess Anne and Salisbury, and he will co-operate with the dealers in making the tour a success.

Big Store Opening On May 22nd

For the purpose of showing its appreciation of the patronage given since four years ago, when its store was the scene of a remarkable opening and reception, Kennerly & Mitchell, men's clothing and outfitters, of Salisbury, will give another opening and reception on Saturday, May 22, this year.

Four years ago the affair given by this firm was the talk of the peninsula. People came from far and near to be present; but this year, with its new day-light store, its greatly increased floor space, its modern store fixtures and its very large and strictly up-to-the-minute stock, Kennerly & Mitchell plans to give all visitors a reception and opening worthy of a city much larger than Salisbury.

Handsome and appropriate souvenirs will be given to the men and cut flowers will be given to the lady visitors. A specially selected orchestra will be hidden behind a bank of ferns and greenery and will play sweet music through the hours of the affair.

CAN'T DODGE THE WET ISSUE

Will Be The Paramount Question In Democratic Convention

The conviction is settling over Maryland Democrats that Senator John Walter Smith will make an effort in the State convention on Thursday of this week to keep the wet issue in the background. It is argued by Senator Smith and his friends that the State delegation to the San Francisco convention should be free of pledges, both as regards candidates and platform. Wet Democrats say that this joining of the two questions would be satisfactory to Senator Smith, who has a dry record in the Senate, and who is said to be disposed to evade the issue in Maryland, trusting that the national platform of his party can be so framed as to meet home conditions.

Democrats of the wet and damp types will not, however, permit the convention to dodge the issue. There will certainly be a warm fight on a wet plank in the State platform. William L. Marbury, of Baltimore, has drawn this plank which will be laid before the convention by Eugene Beer, president of the Eleventh Ward Democratic Club of Baltimore City which, took the initiative during the last session of the General Assembly in efforts to draw some of the teeth from the Volstead act by permitting the manufacture and sale of 3½ per cent. beer. This bill was so amended in the House that it would be operative only in case the Supreme Court should upset the Volstead act wholly or in part. The Senate defeated this bill. The same fate befell the joint resolutions asking for the rescinding of Maryland's vote two years ago in favor of the ratification of the Prohibition Amendment and also instructions to the Governor to join New Jersey and Rhode Island in proceedings before the Supreme Court to test the validity of the amendment and the Volstead law.

The failure of the legislature to act favorably upon these propositions was a bitter disappointment to Mr. Marbury, Mr. Beer and others, who had espoused the wet cause. They are determined to carry their case to the State convention with a view to obtaining an expression of opinion by that body on what they think will be the paramount issue before it. They are encouraged in their conviction that the convention will take their view because of recent Democratic primary election returns from the Eastern Shore, from the Second district, from the Fifth and Sixth districts, and from the two Baltimore districts.

Mr. Dennis And Mr. Latane Resign

James A. Latane, Assistant United States District Attorney, announced Wednesday that he would follow his chief, District Attorney Samuel K. Dennis, into private practice. Mr. Dennis resigned Tuesday, requesting that he be relieved of the office May 15. Mr. Latane will become associated with the firm of France, McAnahan & Rouser, of Baltimore.

Mr. Dennis and Mr. Latane are getting out of public office because they feel that they owe it to themselves to go into private practice, where the rewards are greater than in the positions they hold.

"We both held on during the war and through the period succeeding it because we felt it was our duty. The work kept piling up every day and we had to stick on the job week days, Sundays and holidays, and often work until late at night, to keep up with it," said Mr. Dennis. "Now that things are settling down somewhat we feel we owe it to ourselves and our families to earn more than the Government pays us."

The District Attorney's salary is $4,000 a year and his assistant's $3,700. Mr. Dennis and Mr. Latane have worked together for five years, both having gone into office in January, 1915.

France's Hat In G. O. P. Ring

A belated toss of a hat into the Republican political ring was accomplished gracefully last Wednesday by Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, who announced his receptive candidacy for the Presidency.

Senator France says he does not expect to make a scramble for delegates this late in the campaign, but that there possibly will come a time and a deadlock in the national convention which will find the G. O. P. without an acceptable candidate, and then he will be available if the party accepts his views of national issues.

Campaign headquarters will be opened for Senator France in New York, but the Senator was noncommittal Thursday afternoon regarding the personnel of the staff at headquarters. This detail, as well as the location of headquarters, he said, would be handled by certain friends in New York.

NEW LICENSE FEES IN OPERATION

Soda Water Fountains And Moving Picture Places Hit

Applicants for traders' and other licenses are finding that the fees following the general tendency of the times, are costing more than formerly. The increases were made by the last Legislature.

The act raising the fees was classified as an emergency measure and hence became operative upon its approval by the Governor. That the law is in effect is proving to be news to license applicants.

An effort was made in the General Assembly to have the assessment and collection of all license fees in the state placed in the hands of a single agency, but it did not get far. The bill, which was introduced by Mr. McIntosh, chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, was thought to be adequate to meet present conditions. The increase in revenue to the state under the new law is placed at $100,000 annually. The following are the new schedules of fees on traders' licenses in both city and counties:

For each stock of merchandise not exceeding $1000, $15.
For stock in excess of $1000 and not more than $1,500, $18.
In excess of $1,500, and not more than $2,500, $20.
In excess of $2,500 and not more than $4,000, $25.
The present fees on stocks in excess of $4,000 remain.

For the exhibition by any automatic moving picture machine, phonograph, graphophone, or similar musical machine, except for benevolent, charitable or educational purposes, where the price of admission does not exceed five cents, the following license fees are exacted annually:

Places of amusement having a seating capacity of less than 200, each $30.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 200 and less than 300, each $50.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 300 and less than 400 each $70.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 400 and less than 500, each $80.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 500 and less than 1,000, each $90.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 1,000 each $100.

Where the price of admission to exhibitions is more than five cents, the following license fees are charged annually:

Places of amusement having a seating capacity of less than 200, each $50.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 200 and less than 300, each $75.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 300 and less than 400, each $100.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 400 and less than 500, each $150.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 500 and less than 1,000, each $225.
Those having a seating capacity of more than 1,000, each $300.

For all moving-picture shows where the exhibitions given do not exceed three nights of performance in any one week the fee shall be one-half of the amounts above for all moving-picture shows charging five or more than five cents, as above recited.

Other exceptions to apply to towns which are enumerated in the law.

From soda-water fountains large revenues are expected to be derived. For each fountain an annual fee of $25 will be charged.

Daughters of America Elect Officers

The twenty-fifth annual session of the Daughters of America closed its sessions last Wednesday in Baltimore, with the election of officers for the ensuing year. About 125 delegates from all over the state were present and there were several from state councils of Virginia and the District of Columbia. The officers elected are as follows:

Mrs. Mattie Brown, state counselor; Mrs. Emma Hanauer, associate state counselor; Mrs. Elizabeth Primrose, state vice counselor; Mrs. Etta Lumm, associate state vice counselor; Mrs. Mary E. Cox, assistant state secretary; Mrs. Sophia Wiesbaugh, treasurer; Mrs. Lucy Blakemore, state conductor; Mrs. Amelia Meedter, state warden; Mrs. Susie Stephens, state inside sentinel; Mrs. Nettie Gavey, state outside sentinel, and Mrs. Annie T. Keirl, state judiciary.

Four national representatives were elected. They are Mesdames Ida Horseman, Dora Brink, Maggie Robust and Kate Thomas.

Entertainment At Marion School

The pupils of Marion Central School gave a pleasing entertainment Tuesday night of last week to a large and most appreciative audience. The entertainment was held in the school building and the program consisted of a farce entitled "The Country Aunt's Visit to the City," a dialogue, recitations, vocal and instrumental music. The proceeds, which amounted to $46.00, will be applied to the laying of a pavement from the entrance of the school grounds to the school building. All who took part in the entertainment acquitted themselves with credit and the success of the affair was largely due to the efforts of the principal, Miss Mary L. Tull, and her assistants, Misses Carrie L. Gunby and Gussie E. Haynes.

The Chipmunk.

The chipmunk is a provident little chap, and stores up a prodigious quantity of food, sometimes a peck or more of nuts and grain; and when snugly hidden in his winter burrow, the mouth of which he closes when the cold season arrives, a hard winter has no terrors for him. His enemies, the hawks, owls and weasels, may go hungry, but safe in the bosom of mother earth, with the warm mantle of snow above him, the chipmunk passes a cozy winter, in the midst of comfort and plenty, dreaming of the time when the south wind will blow and the squirrel cups shall open once more.—Boys' Life.

Relics of Long Ago.

A clothes chest of King Charles I, bearing the initials "C.R." and crown realized $260 at Rushbrooke hall, near Bury St., Edmunds, at a sale of the contents of this Elizabethan mansion. Two cambric day shirts and a night-cap worn by Charles I realized $52. A silk brocade suit, consisting of coat, waistcoat, with sleeves, and a pair of knee-breeches, also worn by King Charles, brought $185. A pair of silk stockings of the same period, with colored zigzag stripes, made $26, and a jester's coat of painted leather, $85.

Waterproof Glue.

Casein glues are exceedingly resistant to the action of water and retain a very high percentage of their original strength, even after long immersion under water. They are comparatively inexpensive, and the materials from which they are made are readily available in the market. They are applied cold and will set without the application of heat.

Two young Swedish students of geology named Wadell and Ygberg, after an expedition in Iceland, have discovered what is believed to be the largest crater in the world, measuring five miles long and a quarter mile wide, and further claim to have discovered warm springs.

Going Back to the Beginning.

The first hole that early man made in a piece of shell or stone was by a blow of a stone hammer, which happened to strike in such a way as to knock out a small bit of the stone or shell, says Dr. Clifton Harby Levy.
When this man saw the hole and noted its convenience, he slipped the sinew of a deer into the shell or stone and hung it around his neck as an ornament. Others began to ask themselves how they could make holes in things and, taking a bit of pointed stone, they worked with that until the hole was drilled.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 18, 1920

The people who work only five days a week are kicking hard about the scarcity of all the necessities of life.

The folks who are so sore because it has been a cold spring will soon be grouchy because of the hot weather.

People are told to clear the cobwebs out of their brains, but what a lot of people want is to wash them out of their throats.

Profound satisfaction is felt by the people when the producers are assessed a tax which they will pay by raising their prices.

The boys who are anxious for muscular development are reminded of the splendid results they can get by mowing the lawn this summer.

The only apparent reason why the Sherman anti-trust law has remained on the statute books so long, is that no one has any idea what it means.

Having prepared to clothe every American in a silk shirt and $75.00 suit of clothes it is an awful shock to the clothing makers to find out that they all want overalls.

With the approach of the time for the appointment by Governor Ritchie of the members of the Maryland Conservation Commission, residents of Somerset county are becoming more hopeful that one of the Governor's selections will be Mr. S. Frank Dashiell, of Princess Anne. Oyster and crab packers, oystermen, crabbers and those engaged in every branch of the seafood business, as well as bankers, farmers, merchants and prominent men in every line of industry in Somerset, have either written the Governor personal letters or signed petitions, urging the appointment of Mr. Dashiell. He is generally recognized as exceptionally well qualified for membership on the Conservation Board and it is believed that his appointment would have a tendency to bring the public and the Commission together on a basis of better understanding.

THE DAY'S WORK

The scarcity of dwellings all over the country is leading to high rents and high cost of real estate. This becomes one of the biggest items in the cost of living. If a sufficiency of dwellings could be provided, prices of rents and of owning a home would come down. Yet in spite of this deplorable condition, the carpenters and very likely others of the building trades, are working in some localities only five days a week. These short hours of work aggravate the high price situation and make it difficult or impossible to build homes at reasonable costs.

The country can not get back to normal conditions until it can secure normal production. Heretofore it has taken a 10 hour day to provide the necessities of life. Now the eight hour day is rather general, with Saturday afternoon off in many cases.

It was perhaps inevitable that when this reduction in hours of labor began production should show a sharp decline. Hence there resulted a scarcity of all commodities which was inevitably followed, under the law of supply and demand, by very high prices. The workman has obtained easier hours, but he is paying a high price for them in the tremendous addition to his living costs.

The shorter work day is so beneficial to the worker that it ought not to be necessary to return to the ten hour system. It should be possible to produce an adequate output on an eight hour basis. But it will be impossible to do it unless everyone works hard and co-operates to his utmost with the effort to stimulate production. And a five day week, until the people learn how to do as much in five days as they used to in six, would be followed by still more pronounced failure of production and further advance in prices.

WHAT THE FALL IN STOCKS MEAN

The stock market has just seen a decline averaging 75 points in 20 standard industrial stocks and running up much more than that in some speculative pairs. This does not necessarily mean that the country is in for a business depression.

But it does mean that the stock market operators see that the period of extravagance and inflation is passing. They feel the resentment among the people at the high prices. They can see that an era of greater economy has begun. This means that the time has passed when producers and distributors can ask any price for their goods and know that they are going to get it.

These industrial corporations have come down to earth and do business on the close margins that used to be. A period when many corporations could make 24 to 40 per cent. on their stock is almost and cannot possibly continue.

Congress Has Sorry Record

Bent upon adjournment or recess early in June, the present Republican Congress will have written a sorry record. To date, a general legislation promised the people in the 1918 campaign, it has passed a railroad bill. Granting that it will pass a budget law and soldier bonus bill prior to June, neither of which is yet certain, its record will consist of three general pieces of legislation, added to the usual annual supply bills. It will have done nothing to adjust the tariff and revenue law inequalities; it will not have solved the problem of what to do with the merchant marine and will have done nothing to encourage foreign trade; it will have neglected its opportunity to create land settlements for discharged soldiers, and will have done nothing for the encouragement of better relations between capital and labor.

In a sentence, it will have done little but criticize the Administration for what it has done and for what it has tried to do, but has been unable to do because Congress blocked the way, and it has been in session approximately one year.

The people will hardly be fooled again by such promises as were made by the Republican leaders in the campaign of 1918.

A Good Record

Maryland has a right to be proud, we think, of the record made by Mr. Samuel K. Dennis as United States District Attorney during the last five years. That he has discharged the duties of that office with unusual ability and fidelity is the testimony not only of Attorney General Palmer, but of all members of the legal profession who have had an opportunity of observing his work. We understand that no one appreciates more highly the fine quality of the service that Mr. Dennis has rendered than Judge Rose, who has been closer to it than almost anyone else, and who, not being of the same household of political faith, is not likely to be even insensibly influenced by anything but its absolute merit.

The five years during which Mr. Dennis has been United States District Attorney have been big years in every sense, unusually exacting years, involving exceptionally arduous professional labor, and many questions of exceptional delicacy and difficulty. That he fully measured up to his task, that he threw himself into it with extraordinary earnestness and energy, is a source of satisfaction not simply to his personal friends but to his State. Maryland is glad always to see any of her sons make good, and Mr. Dennis will return to private life with a record for capacity and conscientious performance of duty peculiarly gratifying and commendable.—Baltimore Sun.

Remembered that profiteers are all good at addition, but they are even stronger at multiplication.

Periodic Bilious Attacks

Persons subject to bilious attacks at regular intervals know about when to expect an attack. They find that they have no desire for food when an attack is due but usually eat because it is meal time. Skip one meal and take three of Chamberlain's Tablets and you may be able to avoid the attack. Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks should not drink tea or coffee at any time.

Treatment of Common Colds

"If all who catch cold could be persuaded to remain in bed for the first twenty-four hours of such an attack," says a well-known physician, "there would be fewer cases dragging on with distressing symptoms for weeks and often ending in some serious disease." To make sure of a prompt recovery you should also take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Whether sick or well the bowels should move each day.

FERTILIZE! INTENSIFY!

All the world is crying for more production. Products of the farm are just as vitally needed today as they were during the war. Farmers should take advantage of this situation by intensifying the cultivation of their acreage. In other words, without increasing your acreage, which can be termed overhead, intensify your production by fertilizing your present acreage.

The right use of Tilghman's Fish Fertilizers will enable farmers of this section to increase their yield without any additional expense, because the increase in production and profits through the right use of Tilghman's Fish Fertilizers will more than offset your fertilizing cost.

Farmers Obtain Purebred Seed Corn

A number of the farmers of this county have ordered purebred seed corn, through County Agent C. Z. Keller, from the Harford County Seed Corn Growers Association. This Association has done considerable work in improving seed corn and the members of the Association won a number of the prizes in the State-wide Corn Show held at Hagerstown last fall. Farmers by growing a few acres of pure bred seed corn will be enabled to have good seed for another year, not only for their own needs but also that of their community.

Big Advance In Wholesale Prices

Figures published in a recent memorandum of the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference show that general wholesale prices have advanced since 1913 approximately as follows:

United States	120 per cent.
Great Britain	170 per cent.
France	300 per cent.
Italy	300 per cent.
Belgium	300 per cent.

Retail prices undoubtedly have advanced to an equal or greater extent in this country according to the memorandum. In publishing these figures the Supreme Council pleads for increased production, economy and saving as remedies for the situation and as a safeguard against still higher price levels.

Farmers' Day at College Park

Saturday, May 29, will be Farmers' Day at the Maryland State College of Agriculture, College Park, and it is expected that the usual large attendance will be present to take part in the celebration of this seventh annual event. The program for the day is rapidly being completed and promises to be more than ordinarily attractive. Plans are being made for the entertainment of the visitors who arrive during the morning hours. Special committees, composed of officials of the State Extension Service and the College, have been appointed to greet those who attend and to aid them in making their visit both pleasant and profitable. The orator of the day will be the Hon. E. T. Meredith, the new Secretary of Agriculture.

Andrews To Run As A Dry

Representative William N. Andrews, of the First Congressional district, will make his campaign for re-election as an ardent supporter of the Volstead prohibition enforcement law, according to a special dispatch from Washington, which says: "Reports had reached Washington that Mr. Andrews was being importuned by some Republican leaders of Maryland to indicate that he would be willing to see the Volstead law modified, even though the modification was just a trifle, but now with the primary election in the background, Mr. Andrews is ready to announce that he is as strong as ever for the Volstead kind of enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. "Mr. Andrews reviewed his record and showed that he had been consistently 'dry' whenever the opportunity was given him to cast a vote. He was as 'dry' as anyone could be 'dry' when the test came on the Volstead act. And he insisted that he was going to remain 'dry' throughout this campaign."

We certainly feel very much pleased at the response our subscribers have made to our subscription notices and bills, paying for the paper up to 1920 and 1921. The plain white paper on which the Maryland and Herald is now printed costs, together with the postage, about $1.20 a year, so we do not believe any one will fail to act promptly in sending their subscription if in arrears. Look at the pink label on your paper and if it is 1919 send or bring your subscription at once. The subscription price is now $1.50 a year in advance. All subscribers who are in arrears will be removed from our list June 30.

Canvassing For Salvation Army

Canvassing for funds for the Salvation Army was started yesterday (Monday) in Princess Anne by a committee under the direction of Mrs. John E. Holland and Miss Mildred Beauchamp. The committee is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. R. F. Duer, Mrs. A. E. Krause, Mrs. J. T. Smith, Mrs. G. H. Myers, Mrs. Joseph Scott, Mrs. J. T. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. Columbus Lankford and Mrs. Fred. A. Culver. These ladies will solicit funds for the appeal made by the Salvation Army to carry on its home service in Maryland and Somerset's allotment in this drive is $2,850.

On Saturday the Boy Scouts, in a decorated float, made a tour of the town and surrounding locality in the interest of the drive and the Girl Scouts, assisted by a number of their little friends, were untiring in their efforts to tag every man, woman and child in the town as well as all visitors from the rural districts. In the afternoon a meeting was held in the Auditorium, presided over by Mr. George W. Maslin. Sergeant Nelson C. Hildreth gave an interesting address, Miss Irene Taylor sang a Salvation Army song and a chorus of six young ladies, under the direction of Mrs. L. Creston Beauchamp, rendered two excellent selections. The exercises were preceded by moving pictures.

Spraying Potatoes

There was a considerable loss to the early potato crop last year from blight and other diseases which can be controlled by spraying. Farmers in a large number of the potato growing sections of the county are spraying potatoes not only for the potato bugs, but also for diseases which have given a large loss to the crop.

It is recommended by the Extension Service of the Maryland State College that potatoes be sprayed with Bordeaux mixture 5-5-50, to which is added 1 1/2 pounds of dust or 3 pounds of paste arsenate of lead. Plants should be sprayed with power sprayer having 200 pounds pressure and using three nozzles to the row, one nozzle to spray down and two to spray the undersides of the leaves. First application should be given when plants are six inches high and second application about three weeks later. Later applications will depend on weather conditions. Damp and wet weather will increase blight and frequent applications of Bordeaux will be necessary to keep the disease under control. Commercial Bordeaux mixture 4-4-50 can be obtained as well as Pyrox, which has given good results. It will pay to spray potatoes for diseases along with the spraying for insects. Farmers interested can obtain additional information from County Agent C. Z. Keller.

Crisfield Election To Be Hot

From appearances at this time the municipal election in Crisfield June 2 will be hard fought, with probably three tickets in the field. The period for filing nomination papers expired last Wednesday. Of the present officials Lorie C. Quinn, Jr., has filed for Mayor and Benjamin F. Somers seeks re-election as a Councilman. Mr. Quinn is at present president of the board of Councilmen. Mayor Richardson and Councilman A. B. Riggins will retire.

Six more names were filed by Mr. Quinn as candidates for Councilmen just prior to the closing of the list. They were Dr. R. R. Norris, Charles T. Maddrix, George R. Nelson, H. Gordon Mears, Severn R. Sterling and William E. Ward. Of these Dr. Norris has withdrawn and Maddrix and Nelson have signified their intention to withdraw.

Others who have filed for the mayoralty are Edward P. Wyatt and C. Hubbard Daugherty. The councilmanic candidates, of whom three are to be elected, include besides Mr. Somers, James C. W. Tawes, A. W. Woodland, Elward S. Holland, M. B. Thawley, J. Millard Tawes, William H. Pierce and David Saltz. The firemen have endorsed Woodland, J. M. Tawes and Pierce.

The Facts About Rheumatism

More than nine out of ten cases of rheumatism are either chronic or muscular rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. All that is required is to massage the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment. You will be surprised at the relief which it affords. (Advertisement.)

Little Journeys to Local Industries

Some cities are making an effort to familiarize their business men and other citizens with the industries of their home town and the near-by country. They organize parties that visit manufacturing plants, farms, etc., to learn more about what the city and district is doing.

The old time business man would say he had no time to bother with such curiosity seekers. But nowadays, successful men want the home town to identify itself with their industries and know what they have achieved. Every successful enterprise is a commercial and mechanical triumph. Most people would be surprised to know all that has been accomplished by the manufacturing and agricultural industries of Somerset county in service to the world. When people learn this story of achievement they acquire a warmer faith in the future of their community and more enthusiasm for boosting it.

Columbia Summer School A Big Affair

Maryland will be represented in a large contingent of eastern educators who have been appointed to the teaching staff of Columbia University Summer Session in which nearly one thousand courses, covering a wide range of subjects, will be taught by hundreds of instructors. The faculties of leading universities, colleges and schools, east and west, have been drawn upon by Columbia for this year's session, which lasts from July 6th until August 13th, and which will attract students from practically every state and from many foreign countries.

Last year the summer school attendance approximated 10,000. This year these figures promise to be greatly exceeded. The number of teachers and others from Maryland seeking professional instruction is likely to be far more numerous, applications for enrollment from that section, according to Professor John J. Coss, the new director, being about double those of 1919.

Almost one thousand courses covering such a wide range of subjects as Assyrian, law, business, journalism, engineering, medicine, arts and education, as well as courses in clay modeling, advanced painting, short story writing, dancing and household chemistry will be offered at the Columbia summer session.

FORESAW A LENGTHY SESSION

Little Lady Had Terrible Fear When the Congregation Began to Sing Number One.

The very small lady found a certain difficulty in maintaining an air of Christian resignation as she entered the church. To begin with, she had on a perfectly new summer frock, and she was quite aware that her hair, just combed out of curl papers, looked a little nicer than usual. Furthermore she was being allowed to come to church like a grown-up, as the chosen companion of an entirely grown-up uncle. It was the first time, too. So, at the beginning of things, she struggled to overcome an un-Christian pride, feeling at the same time quite sorry for children who were still allowed to go only to Sunday school.

Then, after what seemed a very long time of very long speeches, which obviously were not original because the rector read them out of a book, and much singing of music of a not particularly interesting sort, things began to seem a little dull. Try as she might, she couldn't escape a consciousness of the fact that the sun was shining brightly outside, and that it was getting on toward the hour when everyone would be going to take a swim or paddle in a canoe or do something else interesting. Then the congregation rose to sing a hymn, and the grown-up uncle gravely opened a hymnal and held it so that she might see the words. It was opened at hymn No. 1. She could see that, and she had heard the rector announce it.

The grown-up uncle observed restiveness on the part of the very small lady, which he translated as a desire to whisper. He leaned down to listen. "Uncle Henry," she said, "they—they don't go straight through the book, do they?"—Cincinnati Times-Star.

HAS REGULAR TIME TO EAT

Vegetable Plant in South Pacific Islands Demands Its Food and Seems to Appreciate It.

"Tui-tui," as the natives call it, is the most wonderful vegetable plant in the world.

It grows on certain South Pacific islands, and in appearance is like a giant turnip, but blood-red in color.

To the white man it is a very tough and tasteless vegetable. To the natives, however, it is a main item of their diet. They cook it and mix it with their coconut and breadfruit, for it is supposed to be very nourishing. They cultivate the plant in a rough sort of fashion in large ditches or swamps.

Its most peculiar feature is that it has to be fed, and for this purpose the native children go over the island collecting all decayed vegetable matter. This is soaked in plenty of salt water, and is then taken in handfuls to the plants and put in the center of the leaf stems or on the short, thick stem from which the leaves spread out on every side.

Slowly but surely the decayed matter disappears, the leaves stiffen and spread out erect—signs, apparently, that the plant has dined heartily, for it really is a case of feeding a plant. There is no opening of the stem or the leaves; the food is slowly and gradually absorbed in a silent and wonderful manner.

Bird Migration.

For many years the annual migration of the birds, although a perfectly familiar fact, was shrouded in mystery, says the New York Sun. Except in the case of a few birds like the robin, which winters not far south of its summer home, no one knew where the song birds or the shore birds went in the fall, or when they began their northward journey in the spring.

But the subject has been carefully and patiently studied by so many observers and naturalists that it is no longer impossible to answer these questions. The cliff swallows and black-poll warblers spend their winters in tropical South America; the golden plover, which nests on the Arctic sea, winters 8,000 miles away in the Argentine; the scarlet tanager is to be found in December and January in Ecuador and Peru, and the bobolink in southern Brazil.

For Historians to Worry Over.

Was Joan of Arc burned? The question will throw a bomb into human thinking. Documentary evidence of the most authoritative character completely negatives the story of her being burned—shows that she was alive and happily married several years after the date of her "execution" in Rouen, 1431. These documents are in the registry of the city of Mayence. They show she came thither in 1433. Her brothers, Pierre and Jean, recognized her. Her marriage contract to Robert d'Ambroise, knight, and bearing her name, Jeanne d'Arc, in pucelle d'Orleans, has been discovered. What does it all mean? No question is more interesting save that perennial one—did Shakespeare write Shakespeare?

In Memory of Nell Swynn.

There is always an orange in a plate placed on a chair near the door in the Berry chapel, in London, on the Sunday after Christmas. The custom is very old, done in memory of Nell Swynn, who, when a well-to-do housewife, sold oranges in a little court near Berry Lane. At all times she was a generous giver to the church and to the poor, even if her life was not so long. While she lived it was the custom to place the orange on the plate.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or any other car using 30x3, 30x3½, or 31x4-inch tires, you can well take advantage of the high relative value built into all Goodyear Tires.

You can well do so because you can secure in the smaller Goodyear Tires the results of such skill and care as have made Goodyear Tires the preferred equipment on the highest priced automobiles of the day.

You can well do so because these smaller Goodyear Tires are easy to obtain, being produced at the rate of approximately 20,000 a day, and because their first cost usually is as low or lower than that of other tires in the same types and sizes.

Go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for these tires, and for Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. He supplies many other local owners of the smaller cars.

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure $21.50

WOMAN LEADER TO AID SALVATIONISTS

Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, Wife of Maryland Congressman, Heads
Women's Branch.

Mrs. J. C. Linthicum

Of extreme interest to the women of Maryland is the announcement that Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, wife of the Maryland Congressman, has accepted the Women's State Chairmanship of the Home Service Fund of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Linthicum is prominent in women's work in the State and recently presented the dreadnaught Maryland with its flag.

She is Maryland State Chaplain of the Daughters of America, and during the war was a member of the Women's Branch of the National Defense League and chairman of several other organizations having in hand war work.

She has always been deeply interested in the Salvation Army, and has accepted the Maryland State Chairmanship with the belief that no work is more important at this time than the raising of funds to carry out the plans of this organization in the purchase of a Girls' Home, and other enterprises of equal importance.

Mrs. Linthicum will ask that every woman in Maryland who realizes the wonderful performance of the Salvation Army before, during and after the war, put her hands to the wheel and help raise the $200,000 which is necessary for this most laudable enterprise.

The drive will be made from the 10th to the 20th of May, and everyone in the State will be expected to lend a helping hand.

Under date of April 13, writing to Brigadier William Escott, head of the Salvation Army in Maryland, Mrs. Linthicum paid a high tribute to the Salvationists, saying:

"In response to your request that I accept the State Chairmanship of this work in Maryland, I beg to say that realizing the wonderful work which the Salvation Army performed while in France, and their great follow-up system since their return at home, it would be difficult indeed for me to refuse to accept any work laid down by this great organization for my performance."

"Wonderful opportunities were afforded and grasped by the many organizations in war work in the encampments and cantonments in this country, and during hostilities abroad, and I may say since the return of the boys to America. There is no organization, however, which stands more prominently before the public, and whose work is more generally approved than is that of the Salvation Army."

"It is therefore incumbent upon all of us to do everything we can to further its work, and to make more helpful its every effort. It is very laudable indeed that this organization has determined to establish a home in Baltimore for the working girls, and to procure money for other purposes just as essential."

"I take pleasure, therefore, in accepting the State Chairmanship for the work in hand, and assure you it will give me great pleasure at all times to do my utmost for its success."

Number Flatirons.

Nowadays the housewives who use electric irons are legion, but the day of the old flatiron is not quite past. For those who still use them, an easy way to insure getting the right irons in turn is to number each with a piece of white chalk, 1, 2, 3, 4, and so on.

Apparently Contradictory.

Recently I attended an evening party where "chill con carne" was served. During the repast the five-year-old daughter of the family looked up and said: "Daddy, why do we call it chilly when it is so hot?"—Exchange.

Just an Idea.

Little Wilbur, age three and one-half years, was watching his grandmother while she was scaling fish and, after the operation said: "Do their backs itch, 'cause you scratch 'em, granny?"

Edith Logan vs. Henrietta Johnson and Sarah Johnson.
No. 2334 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Somerset County.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate situated in said Somerset county, of which Denard Johnson, late of Somerset county, deceased, died seized and possessed.

The bill states that the said Denard Johnson departed this life during or about the year eighteen hundred and ninety-six, intestate, leaving surviving him a widow, Sarah Lem Johnson, who has since died, and the following children and grandchildren as his sole heirs at law, to wit:

(1) The defendant, Henrietta Johnson, a daughter, who is of full age and unmarried, and resides in said Somerset county. (2) A son, John A. Johnson, who departed this life during the year nineteen hundred and nineteen, unmarried, and intestate, and leaving no children or descendants. (3) A son, Isaiah Johnson, who died during the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, intestate, leaving no widow, but leaving as his sole heir at law, a daughter, the defendant, Sarah Johnson, who is of full age and resides in said Somerset county. (4) The plaintiff, Edith Logan, a granddaughter of the said Denard Johnson, being the only child of Mary Ann Logan, a daughter of the said Denard Johnson, who died before her said father, the said Edith being of full age and unmarried, and residing in Northampton county, State of Virginia.

That the said Denard Johnson in his lifetime and at the time of his death was seized and possessed of certain real estate situated in Lawton's Election District, in said Somerset county, which said real estate is now held by your oratrix and the said defendants as tenants in common; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition or division among the parties entitled to interests therein without material loss or injury to said parties, and that in order to make division thereof it will be necessary that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds of said sale divided among your oratrix and the said defendants, according to their respective rights and interests.

It is thereupon this 6th day of April, nineteen hundred and twenty, ordered by the Circuit Court for Somerset county, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Somerset county once in each of four successive weeks before the 14th day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty, give notice to the said Sarah Johnson, for whom three successive subpoenas have been issued out of this Court and returned non est, of the object and substance of this bill warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 31st day of May next, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

The Good Sense of This Sedan

Only 200 Pounds Heavier Than the Touring Car. Rides on Triplex Springs with Comfort of Heavy Car

EVEN SUMMER EVENINGS sometimes are cool! Dust sometimes blows—or rain. You drive more—more chances with weather. And summer clothes, especially women's clothes, soil easily. Then isn't it good sense to buy a Sedan—Now? Instead of a collapsible top which you never lower, the Overland Four-Door Sedan provides a thick permanent top with greater coolness in hot sun. Plate glass windows give you control of your comfort but never cut off your vision. Triplex Springs make touring easy. Light weight provides economy.

GOOD QUALITIES OF GUINEAS

Have Large, Plump Breasts and Gamy Flavor That is Enjoyed by Many Epicureans.

Guineas have large, plump breasts and a gamy flavor that is much enjoyed by some farmers. They are good foragers and easy to raise and their clacking will frighten hawks or sound an alarm if other intruders come to the poultry range. Their disadvantages are not serious, but they will fly into the garden and sometimes do a little damage and the old birds are often quarrelsome with the young poultry. They can be allowed to roost in the house with the old birds and they will lay their eggs in the same nests.

It pays to watch the flock closely in winter and early spring.

Pernanganate of potash is fine to keep roup away as well as for its digestive value.

Painting adds greatly to the appearance and service of all poultry buildings and appliances.

The Emden is probably the most beautiful of all domestic water fowl, it being a pure white, and, like the Toulouse, very large.

Leaky roofs on poultry houses, and bad draughts in the walls are likely to cause colds, roup, rheumatism and other troublesome diseases.

Don't figure why a black hen lays a white egg, but get the egg.

Root crops make excellent succulent food for hens where plenty of green grass or rye can not be had.

Keep the drinking vessels clean. Put a little lime into the bottom of them twice a week. Don't forget to give the fowls a little salt, in some form, every day.

If hens are crowded too closely, the house soon gets foul and the birds cannot obtain sufficient exercise because they have not sufficient space to move around.

Order of the Bath.
"Do you know what the Order of the Bath is?" the teacher asked Mickey.
"Sure, ma'am," replied the boy. "In our house it's Katy, then me brudder, then me."

COUNTY QUOTAS ARE ANNOUNCED

Salvation Army Appeal For Home Service Funds Start In Maryland Monday.

The Salvation Army appeal for funds with which to carry on its home service here in Maryland, will be made next Monday, May 11. Every county in the State has been organized and has its county chairman, treasurer, teams and workers, all on their toes and ready to put the appeal across.

Honorable Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior, is chairman of the national appeal committee. In Maryland Governor Ritchie is state chairman for the men's division, with Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, chairman of the women's section.

Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop John Gardner Murray, General John J. Pershing, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, the Secretary of War, Newton D. Baker, and the Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, are among the thousands of prominent men of the country who have heartily endorsed the Salvation Army and who ask the people of the country to give as freely to this appeal as the Salvationists have given of the time and labors, both before, during and after the war.

The Maryland General Assembly, at its session this year, passed resolutions endorsing the Salvation Army's work at home and on the battlefield.

The quotas asked of the different counties in Maryland are as follows: Allegany (Cumberland), $33,500 (Bldg.); (Frostburg), $4,150.

Calvert, $1,150.
Caroline, $2,050.
Carroll, $3,450.
Cecil, $2,500.
Charles, $1,750.
Dorchester, $3,200.
Frederick, $5,000.
Garrett, $2,300.
Harford, $2,850.
Howard, $1,750.
Kent, $1,750.
Montgomery, $3,450.
Prince George's, $3,700.
Queen Anne's, $1,750.
St. Mary's, $1,740.
Somerset, $2,850.
Talbot, $1,850.
Washington, $5,500.
Wicomico, $2,850.
Worcester, $2,300.

Salvation Army officials hope not only to continue all their present humanitarian activities, but to widen the scope of many of them. If the answer falls short, the plans for expansion and extension must be abandoned and the present work perhaps curtailed.

Only a small portion of the Army's work is self-supporting. The rescue homes for unfortunate women; the hospitals, including the maternity hospitals which care for thousands of mothers of the poorer classes; the slum settlements which are such bright spots in the squalor of the tenement districts, demand constant financial aid. The fresh air camps, the prison work, and the founding homes are supported wholly from the Home Service fund. The evangelical work, the bureaus which yearly give away great amounts of food, clothing and supplies to those in dire need, as well as many other activities and institutions of the Salvationists, derive their means of existence from the same source.

The name of the fund indicates the purpose for which subscriptions are sought. It is to make possible the Home Service of the Army in America, to insure the continuation of its labors in the communities of America.

His Chance for a Dig.
"John" asked his wife, who was writing to one of her married friends, "which is proper to say, 'I differ from you' or 'I differ with you?'"
"Tell her you differ from her. She lets her husband have a part of his salary to buy cigars and such things."

Environment

We are very much what others think us. The reception our observations meet with gives us courage to proceed or damps our efforts. A man is a wit and a philosopher in one place who dares not open his mouth and is considered a blockhead in another. In some companies nothing will go down but coarse, practical jests, while the finest remark or sarcasm would be disregarded.—Haslett.

THAT BACKACHE SPELLS DANGER

Action Today May Save Princess Anne People Future Misery

A bad back isn't a bad thing if it serves as a warning of hidden kidney disorders. Kidney diseases are frightfully common today. We over-do so much. We don't give the kidneys a chance to rest up, and while a bad back, some urinary disorder, an occasional dizzy spell or a persistent headache may be the only outward sign, the kidney trouble that is behind it all may be overlooked or neglected. Put your signs to use. Take them as warnings. Fight off kidney weakness. It takes only a slight kidney disorder to start a case of fatal Bright's disease, from which 100,000 people die in the United States every year. Prompt treatment at first—that's all that's necessary to keep kidney weakness from turning into gravel, dropsy, gout, heart trouble or Bright's. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the oldest, the most widely used, the best recommended kidney pill. Fifty thousand Americans recommend them publicly. Here's one Princess Anne case:

Mrs. James A. Hayman, Beechwood St., says: "I was in a bad way some years ago with a severe backache, which caused me untold pain. Whenever I stopped over and then tried to straighten up, sharp pains like a thrust of a knife struck me in the small of my back. I was very miserable until I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used a box. I was then rid of the trouble."

A new drinking fountain with "bubble" attachment has been installed in Miss Bissell's school room to the great satisfaction of teacher and pupils. The fountain was purchased with funds raised by school entertainments.

Rehoboth Dodge Ball Team, supported by two teachers and a score of relations and friends, came up Wednesday afternoon to play with Westover. What they did to us was a shame; it was like taking candy from a baby. All right, Rehoboth, we will do our best when we return your visit.

A joyous party from Westover met an equally joyous party from Kingston last Wednesday evening and proceeded to surprise Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tull at their new home near Kingston Station. They "showered" Mrs. Tull with useful articles for her kitchen. They also carried refreshments and in every way tried to make the newlyweds feel perfectly at home.

Going Back to the Beginning.

The first hole that early man made in a piece of shell or stone was by a blow of a stone hammer, which happened to strike in such a way as to knock out a small bit of the stone or shell, says Dr. Clifton Harby Levy. When this man saw the hole and noted its convenience, he slipped the sinew of a deer into the shell or stone and hung it around his neck as an ornament. Others began to ask themselves how they could make holes in things and, taking a bit of pointed stone, they worked with that until the hole was drilled.

Ranked High in Literature.

"O. Henry," whose real name was William Sydney Porter, was born at Greensboro, N. C., in 1862. After leaving school he spent a number of years wandering in the southern and southwestern states, and engaged in a varied journalistic career. He finally settled in New York city, where some of his best works were written. For some time he was a fugitive in South America because of financial difficulties in which he became involved. He died June 5, 1910.

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB—AND ITS SCOPE

Every year the Presidency of the United States grows more important, until now it is recognized as the biggest job in the world. Yet few people realize that the president is not chosen by a majority vote and that several of our presidents have not been the most popular choice of all the people. This fact is clearly discussed in the story of the Presidency, one of the series of articles on Our Government, which we are issuing monthly.

NEW NAME FOR N. Y. P. AND N. R. R.

New The "Norfolk Division" of the Pennsylvania System

For operating purposes, the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad will hereafter be known as the "Norfolk Division" of the Pennsylvania System. This designation will include the rail line from Delmar, Del., to Cape Charles, Va., and the boat lines between Cape Charles, Old Point Comfort, Port Norfolk and Norfolk.

The Directors of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company have authorized this step in conformity with the general policy which is being followed of unifying the organization of the Pennsylvania System and treating all of its component parts, as far as practicable, from the operating viewpoint, though they constituted a single railroad, regardless of differences in corporate ownership. In the case of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company own all the capital stock.

The Directors of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company have approved the change, and as far as physical operation is concerned, the new divisional instead of the old corporate name will be used. In financial and accounting matters, however, all corporate distinctions will be preserved and the rights of security holders fully preserved.

M. Fillmore Bounds Dead

After a lingering illness of several weeks, Mr. M. Fillmore Bounds died at his home in Mt. Vernon Monday morning of last week. He had been in poor health for two years, but during the heavy sleet last February he fell, breaking his right hip, which no doubt hastened his death as he has been an invalid since that time.

Mr. Bounds was 63 years old, and during his younger life was very active in politics in the district and county. He was overseer of the almshouse for several years, also Justice of the Peace under Democratic rule. He was a lifelong Episcopalian, being vestryman and treasurer of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church at the time of his death. He also held the position as agent for the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Co. at Mt. Vernon Wharf.

The following children survive him: Mrs. Margaret Hopkins, Miss Ruby N. Bounds, Messrs. James, Albert and Willard Bounds, three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, conducted by Rev. J. A. Brown, of Princess Anne, after which he was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. The pallbearers were: Messrs. W. T. Holland, W. T. Barben, Archie Jackson, W. B. Renshaw, Daniel W. White and H. T. Costen.

Mr. Tull Not a Candidate

Mr. Harding P. Tull, of Somerset county, last week telegraphed Governor Ritchie, withdrawing his name from further consideration by the Governor in connection with appointments soon to be made to the Board of Conservation Commissioners. Mr. Tull assigned no reason for his action, simply stating that he made the request in order that the Governor might make the appointments unencumbered by his candidacy.

There are two other Somerset county candidates—Mr. S. F. Dashiell, of Princess Anne, who was the defeated Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset county last fall, and Mr. Gordon Milbourne, of Crisfield, a member of the House of Delegates at the recent session of the General Assembly. Mr. Milbourne, it is said, was ready to withdraw and endorse Mr. Tull, but the latter concluded to get entirely out of the contest, which was getting so bitter as to make it entirely unlikely that Governor Ritchie would turn to Somerset county if political consideration should enter into the appointment.

Two New School Buildings

Two new school houses, duplicate buildings, will be erected at Chorton and Capeville, Northampton County, Va., at a total cost of approximately $150,000. Each building will consist of a basement, first and second floor, will be of brick construction and have a flat roof. The basement will contain toilets, heating and ventilating plant, domestic science and manual training departments. The first floor will contain four class rooms, superintendent's office, library and large auditorium, while the second floor will be devoted to class rooms. Each building will also have independent light and water systems and the latest approved mechanical fan heating and ventilating system.

Navy Dead Brought Home

The Navy Monday of last week brought back to the homeland the first of its dead to perish overseas during the World War. The naval transport Nerens, docking at the naval supply base in Brooklyn, N. Y., carried below decks more than 150 flag-draped coffins. As each coffin was borne ashore it passed through a double line of sailors and marines standing at salute.

Religious and patriotic services were held Wednesday afternoon. Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Rear-Admiral John H. Glennon, commandant of the Third naval district, and the navy yard chaplain were among the speakers. The services were attended also by navy officials from New York and Washington and by as many relatives as were in the city at the time.

After the ceremony Wednesday the caskets were shipped by train—some to finally rest in the National Cemetery at Washington, others to burial plots in their home cities and towns.

Home Brew Given A Jolt

Every home in which, at the present time, wine is being made out of the humble dandelion or beer of veroboten strength out of malt and hops, is branded by the Volstead prohibition enforcement act as a "public nuisance."

To learn what prohibition officials think of the Government thought on this subject Richard S. Dodson, Maryland Director of Prohibition, was asked regarding reported activities of spring brewing and fermenting in dwellings of the city and country and its environs. "It is absolutely forbidden," he replied, "and they are breaking the law."

Here is what the Volstead act has to say on the subject:
"Any room, house, building, boat, vehicle, structure or place where intoxicating liquor is manufactured is declared to be a common nuisance, and the persons maintaining such nuisance are guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than $1000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both."

Worcester County School Budget

The Worcester county school budget for 1920-21 has been handed to the County Commissioners by the Superintendent of Education Edward W. McMaster. The total amount asked is $275,170. Of this amount the State will pay $63,377. It is proposed that the county pay the remainder, or $211,793.

The items provided for are new schools at Whaleyville; Swamp School, Stockton; for colored school, Mount Wesley; for colored school, Acquango branch; colored school at Pocomoke; high school at Stockton; improvements and upkeep. The amount asked is six times more than the school levy of five years ago.

SOMERSET BOYS' CLUB CONTESTS

Hundreds of Boys Enrolled to Grow Corn, Potatoes, Tomatoes, Etc.

There are nearly one hundred boys enrolled in the boys' club contests to be conducted this year in the county in corn, potatoes, tomatoes and pig growing. A number of boys will obtain registered Duroc pigs from the boys who took up pig breeding work last year.

Thirty-five certificates of award were received last week from the Maryland State College of Agriculture and will be awarded to the following boys who satisfactorily completed their club work last year and sent in their record books:

Corn Contest—Bryce Bounds, Francis Cluff, Wilfred Froelich, William Brittingham, Maurice Dryden, Fred Leach, James Dryden, James H. Rue, Albert Rich, Jr., Charles Cannon, Martin Polycette, Granville Brittingham, Clarence Dryden.

Potato Contest—Theodore Schmeiding, Francis Cluff, Benjamin Gunby, Emmett Cox, Wilfred Froelich, William Froelich, Harold Orvis, Walter Miller, Arthur Froelich, Malcolm Matthews.

Fat Pig Contest—Wilfred Froelich, William Price, Isaac Bozman, William Froelich, William T. Rue, Harry Cottman, James H. Rue, Martin T. Bendon, Philip Long.

Registered Duroc Breeding Contest—Theodore Schmeiding, Robert Green, Waldon Richards, Andrew Brittingham, Marion Hickman, Gilbert Pollitt, Chas. Layfield, Jr., R. A. Hastings, Granville Brittingham.

The requirements of club work are as follows: Boys between 10 and 18 years are eligible for membership. They are required to do all the work as far as practical in growing their crop of corn, tomatoes, potatoes or raising their pig, either for a fat pig or for breeding. An accurate record in a book provided for that purpose must be kept and submitted at the end of the contest. Instructions and bulletins are furnished by the Extension Service of the Maryland State College. The following contests will be held:

Corn Contest—One acre of corn is grown, any variety. Some of the boys are growing purebred seed corn and expect to sell part of their crop for seed purposes.

Potato Contest—One-fourth acre, for canning purpose.

Fat Pig Contest—Fig is obtained at weaning, 8 to 10 weeks old, at last of May, weighed and fed for 24 weeks or 168 days and weighed. A record is kept of feed and boy showing greatest net profit wins contest.

Registered Duroc Breeding Contest—Registered Durocs are grown and bred for purebred pigs which are sold at weaning time as registered Duroc pigs. There were nearly 800 boys in Maryland last year who did club work and the value of their crops amounted to nearly a hundred thousand dollars. The boys in this county who completed their club work grew crops to the value of nearly $3000, not counting the fat pigs with a value of $300, or the twenty-six registered Durocs.

The winners of the various contests will probably receive a trip to the Maryland State College and Washington. Boys who are interested in club work can enroll and receive further information by writing County Agent C. Z. Keller.

State Bar Meeting In June

A printed circular, containing advance information of the annual meeting of the Maryland State Bar Association, to be held at the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City, June 24 to 26, was sent out last week to members of the association by James W. ## BOARD OF EDUCATION ORGANIZES

Dr. Coulbourne President—Mr. C. W. Long Succeeds Dr. Wainwright

The Board of Education of Somerset county met for organization last Tuesday morning. Those present were Wm. E. Dougherty, of Crisfield; Dr. George C. Coulbourne, of Marion; Edward B. Lankford, of Costen Station; Thomas P. Bradshaw, of Deal's Island, and William L. Jones, of Chance. Of the former Board, Dr. H. G. Alexander had died, Dr. G. T. Atkinson had not been reappointed and Dr. Charles W. Wainwright had resigned. All the members present had recently been appointed by Governor Ritchie. Charles W. Long had been appointed to succeed Dr. Wainwright, but as his commission had not arrived he was not present. The election resulted in the naming of Dr. George C. Coulbourne for president and Edward B. Lankford for vice-president.

The Board at once settled down to a mass of business that had accumulated since the meeting in March. After a review of the financial situation the report of the committee of the taxpayers of the county, consisting of George H. Myers, Charles W. Long, Egbert L. Quinn, A. L. Murrell and E. B. Lankford, was read and his suggestions were adopted. The committee had been appointed to consider the imperative school needs of the county as to building. An additional new building for the colored school at Crisfield; the purchase of the former Stanford property, on Prince William street, to care for part of the elementary department of the Washington Academy, or, if this purchase cannot be made, a new wing to the High School; a new building or suitable alterations for the colored school at "Union Free," about five miles east of Princess Anne, and possibly some repairs at the Asbury school, near Crisfield, were among the committee's suggestions.

The school at Mount Vernon was not reported upon by the committee as it is understood that a central building is to be erected there as soon as possible. The budget that is soon to be submitted to the County Commissioners was also gone over and the indications are that the county will be asked to levy about $91,000 to conduct the public schools next year.

The Board also reappointed the trustees whose terms expire in 1920, or made changes where necessary. The changes are as follows:

School No. 2, district 2—Thomas Shores, vice Edward L. Muir.

School No. 2, district 3—Emory Payne, vice J. C. Branner.

School No. 5, district 3—J. H. Adams, vice J. C. Carver.

School No. 1, district 4—Robert Harris, vice Harry Miller.

School No. 2, district 4—J. L. Payne, vice W. A. Long.

School No. 1, district 6—Isaiah French, vice L. J. Ford.

School No. 2, district 7—I. George Tawes, vice George M. Collins.

School No. 3, district 13—W. L. McLane, vice Joseph Brown.

School No. 4, district 13—Lloyd Widdowson, vice F. M. Widdowson.

School No. 2, district 14—Mrs. Anna Northam, vice Arthur Andrews.

The changes made in the colored schools are as follows:

School No. 3, district 1—Jerome Dennis, vice Noah Fields.

School No. 3, district 4—George Johnson, vice Horace Cottman.

School No. 1, district 12—J. J. Brittingham, vice Samuel H. Sterling.

The Board adjourned to meet to-day at 2 p. m.

James A. Fleming Dead

Mr. James A. Fleming, aged 75 years, died at his home near Whitesburg last Tuesday night from general breakdown. His remains were taken to Pocomoke City and funeral services were held in the M. P. Church of that place on Thursday and interment was made in the Methodist Protestant cemetery. The burial service was conducted by the Rev. E. L. Bunce.

The deceased is survived by six children: Messrs. Marion and H. T. Fleming, of Whitesburg; E. D. and J. W. Fleming, of Jessup, Md.; William Fleming, of Princess Anne and J. C. Fleming, of Westover. He is also survived by one brother, Mr. John B. Fleming, of Princess Anne, and one sister, Mrs. C. G. Dale, formerly of Pocomoke City.

The Girl Scouts of Princess Anne will hold a bread and cake sale on Saturday afternoon, May 29th, in Dr. Fisher's office. Contributions from the public will be acceptable.

DEMOCRATIC WETS WIN IN STATE CONVENTION

Plank Favoring Modification Of Volstead Act Is Carried By Congressman Benson—Wilson's Administration Indorsed—Smith Re-Elected

The Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, having been declared ratified, we believe that while this provision remains in the Constitution it must be upheld.

We further believe that the law-abiding people of this country will never be satisfied with the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment under the terms and provisions of the present enforcement law known as the Volstead act, which was passed by the Republican Congress over the veto of the Democratic President.

We, therefore, favor the enactment by Congress of such laws, under the Eighteenth Amendment, as will permit the making and use of homemade wines and cider and the manufacture and sale of beer in original package for home consumption only, and to that end we urge the repeal or modification of the Volstead act.

The above plank was incorporated in the plank of the Democratic State Convention, which was in session almost all of last Thursday afternoon in the Academy of Music, Baltimore. After a warm and protracted fight, the convention rejected a damp plank favored by Senator Smith, the party's nominee for re-election, and adopted one regarded as damper and supported by the forces of Governor Ritchie, Comptroller Lee and John Mahon.

The convention also adopted a strong plank indorsing the administration of President Wilson in toto. The last seven years, the platform said emphatically, under the President's leadership surpassed any like period "in wealth of achievement for a better America, a better world and in the spirit of honor, peace and enlightenment of the universe." The domestic accomplishments of the Wilson administration were set forth in detail, and the plank closed with a demand for the League of Nations without nullifying reservations and with condemnation of the partisan obstructionism of the Republicans.

The Convention was called to order at 1:35 o'clock by J. Hubert Wade, chairman of the state committee. The convention was over an hour in assembling because of outside conferences among leaders in efforts to get together on the wet and dry issues involved.

Albert Almany, secretary of the committee, called the roll.

Former Congressman Jesse D. Price, of Wicomico, was named as temporary chairman. Senator Humphrey D. Wolfe, of Howard, and F. Watson Webb, of Dorchester, were elected temporary secretaries.

Mr. Price set the pace for the coming campaign in Maryland in a speech which was frequently punctuated with applause. Upon the conclusion of Mr. Price's speech the committees on credentials and resolutions were appointed as follows:

Washington High School Notes

Last Friday afternoon the domestic science department of the school held a Fashion Parade in which the girls wore dresses they had made during the season. After the parade a ballot was taken to ascertain the best-made and most becoming costume. The dress made by Miss Sarah White, a member of the graduating class, was awarded the prize. Besides the dresses, many other articles were on exhibition. The aprons and sewing bags made by members of the grammar grades were the subject of much favorable comment. The domestic science department has been greatly handicapped in its work this year. The sewing classes have been held in the laboratory and the equipment has been so poor that it has been almost impossible to obtain results. Much credit is due Miss Frances Moore, the head of the department, for the splendid exhibit held last week.

On Monday, May 17th, the town team defeated the High School team in a game of base ball by a score of 14 to 13.

On Thursday, May 27th, the annual manual training exhibit will be held. The public is cordially invited to attend.

On Monday, May 17th, a most spectacular game of basket ball was staged between the "Faculty All Stars" and the High School girls' team. The playing was fast and furious on both sides, the second half ending with a tied score of 8 to 8. The next goal was made by the High School team, giving them the victory. The most sensational playing of the day was done by Miss Elizabeth Cahill, a member of the Faculty team, who became entangled with the enemy center. After some little effort the two centers were untwined and established in their normal positions. The consensus of opinion is that the Faculty played a remarkably good game considering their size and approaching senility. The Faculty line-up was as follows: Centers, E. Cahill, E. Hanley; guards, F. Moore, S. Joyner; forwards, F. Ashby, W. Bowland, High School line-up: Centers, E. Bailey, J. Hanley; guards, N. Bonds, H. Anderson; forwards, D. Baltz, D. Adams.

Last Friday evening the Parent-Teachers' Association held its regular meeting. The committee which had inspected the school building suggested several improvements which would add greatly to the convenience of the building. They also pointed out the need for several additional drinking fountains, as the single fountain now in use cannot possibly accommodate all of the children. A committee consisting of Mrs. Garwood, Mrs. J. D. Wallop and Mr. W. O. Lankford was appointed to see about securing a piano for the school.

On Friday, May 28, the Juniors will entertain the Seniors at a banquet. Suppose you fell desperately in love with a beautiful girl you saw on the street, would you shrug your shoulders, mutter "Some Girl," light a cigarette and saunter on your way? Pierre Le Bouton, the impulsive Frenchman in "Tommy's Wife," did none of these things. He clasped his Parisian hands in ecstasy, murmured "Mon Dieu" and trailed "the rose of his heart" to her apartments and then—"Tommy's Wife," the Senior play, will be presented in the Auditorium on Wednesday, May 26 at 8:15.

On Wednesday, May 26, the annual class night exercises will be held in the Auditorium.

EVENTS THAT MADE HISTORY

Anniversaries of Independence Declaration and Landing of the Pilgrims Are Both Near.

Our country approaches two notable dates in its history.

Philadelphians have already begun to talk about a great international celebration for 1826 to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Independence.

But next year comes a still more historic birthday. It will be 300 years next November since the pilgrims landed in America, writes "Girard" in the Philadelphia Press.

People refer constantly to them as the "Pilgrim Fathers," but as Roland Usher, in his book points out, "Fathers" is scarcely a justified title.

Of the 102 persons who came over in the Mayflower, only nine had reached forty years of age. But two of them were fifty.

Thirty-nine were children and there were 19 grownup women, one of whom was unmarried. As there were 25 bachelors on board the Mayflower, that lone maiden probably was never a wife.

The three most famous characters, Bradford, Allen and Miles Standish, were all young fellows, aged respectively thirty-one, twenty-one and thirty-six.

One of the most fatal epidemics on record smote that little colony in four months; 44 of the 102 pilgrims were dead. It was a disease akin to tuberculosis.

TIMBER SUPPLY RUNNING LOW

Government Planning Measures to Protect Supply on Hand and Encourage Future Growth.

A larger program of public acquisition of forests by the federal government, states and municipalities, and protection and perpetuation of forest growths on all privately owned lands which may not be deemed better for agriculture, is recommended in the annual report of the forester of the department of agriculture.

This policy is made necessary, the report said, by the diminishing timber supply. The rate of depletion of the forests is more than twice what is being produced by growth in a form serviceable for purposes other than firewood.

"Already the supplies of all the great Eastern centers of production are approaching exhaustion, with the exception of the South," the report said, "and even there most of the mills have not over ten to fifteen years' supply of virgin timber."

"The Southern pine is being withdrawn from many points as a competitive factor and its place taken by Western timbers. This inevitably results in added freight charges, which the consumer must pay."

The report suggested that the federal government work primarily through state agencies.

New Process for Drying Beets.

By the recently devised new process in sugar making, it is claimed that nearly 70 per cent of the water of beet roots can be extracted on the spot where they are grown. Thus dried, the material keeps indefinitely; it can be transported to places where fuel is plentiful, even over long distances; and it can be accumulated in stocks sufficient to keep factories running continuously, instead of requiring to be used up in a short season. The same process is suggested for treating fruits and vegetables designed for industrial alcohol distilleries.

Shoe Mending at Home.

The calling-up of the village boot-maker or "cobbler" has seriously affected domestic convenience in many rural districts.

His importance is suddenly recognized, and his loss has, in several isolated midland hamlets, given a remarkable stimulus to shoe-mending at home.

Technical classes in soles, heeling and patching have been arranged, and country women are rapidly acquiring the art of cobbling. Lady Petre declares that it should be as natural to do this at home as to darn stockings. —London Chronicle.

Making Play Pay.

A Bay City sociologist urges all fathers to learn to play games of make-believe with their children, whatever the expenses of energy or time, saying it will in the end prove well worth while, and we can fully agree with this because of the excellent results we have already obtained pretending we are the sleeping child when Santa Claus comes, or the black bear that has holed up for the winter when the Indian comes hunting for him. —Detroit News.

Australia's Search for Oil.

While thoroughly testing Papua and German Guinea, with British assistance, for oil wells, Australia is also looking within her own borders. The prime minister, Mr. Hughes, has announced that the federal government will pay a bonus of $5,000 for the discovery of commercial oil in the commonwealth. Probably the discovery of oil in payable quantities in Great Britain has encouraged the Dominion government.

They Should Worry!

The dried raw sugar is going to be scarce. That will make no difference to us. We always use the cooked kind. —Cleveland Press.

LIGHT THAT PRODUCES SOUND

May at First Seem Incredible, But Experiments Have Proved It to Be a Fact.

Incredible as it may seem, a beam of light can be made to produce sound. A ray of sunlight is thrown through a lens onto a glass vessel containing lampblack, colored silk or worsted, or any like substance. A disk having slits or openings in it is made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light, so as to "cut it up," thus causing alternate flashes of light and shadow. When one places his ear to the glass vessel he hears strange sounds so long as the flashing beam falls upon the vessel.

A still more extraordinary effect is produced when the beam of sunlight is made to pass through a prism so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum. The disk is turned and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it. Now if the ear be placed to the vessel containing the silk or other material, as the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given out by the different parts of the spectrum, and there will be silence in other parts.

For instance, if the vessel contains red worsted and the green light flashes upon it loud sounds will be given forth. Only feeble sounds will be heard when the red and the blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel. Other colors will produce no sounds at all. Green silk gives out sound best in a red light. Every kind of material gives more or less sound in different colors and no sound at all in others.

HAD ITS BIRTH IN RIDICULE

Explanation of Frequently Heard Expression "Giving Him a Roland for an Oliver."

The expression "A Roland for an Oliver," meaning to match one incredible story with another still more incredible, is derived from the fanciful tales told by the old chroniclers concerning the marvelous deeds accomplished by Roland and Oliver, the two most famous palladins of Charlemagne. It is said that these two wonderful heroes were so marvelously matched that neither was able to surpass the other, and, accordingly they met in single combat for five consecutive days on an island in the River Rhine without either gaining the least advantage over the other. At the end of the battle of Roncesvalles, it is said Roland was actually wounded by Oliver, who had himself received a death blow. From the ridiculous manner in which the adventures of these two heroes were recounted, the saying, "A Roland for an Oliver," grew the matching of one lie with one still greater.

Glass Tumblers.

Years ago Max Miller was giving a luncheon at All Souls college, Oxford, to Princess Alice and her husband. The curiosity of all strangers present was aroused by a set of little round bowls of silver about the size of an orange. They were filled to the brim with the famous ale brewed at the college. When one of these little bowls was empty it was placed upon the table, mouth downward. Instantly, so perfect was its balance, it flew back to its proper position, as if seeking to be filled again. No matter how it was treated—trundled along the floors, balanced carefully on its side, dropped suddenly upon the soft, thick carpet—up it rolled again and settled itself with a few gentle shakings and swaying into its place, like one of the India rubber tumble dolls that babies delight in.

This was the origin of the word tumbler. At first the vessel was made of silver. Then, when glass became common, the round glasses that stood on a flat base superseded the exquisitely balanced silver spheres, and stole their names so successfully that you have to go to All Souls to see the real thing. —Dearborn Independent.

A Gentleman.

It appears that the most general idea which people have formed of a gentleman is that of a person of fortune above the vulgar, and embellished by manners that are fashionable in high life. In this case, fortune and fashion are the two constituent ingredients in the composition of modern gentlemen; for whatever the fashion may be, whether moral or immoral, for or against reason, right or wrong, it is equally the duty of a gentleman to conform. And yet I apprehend that true gentility is altogether independent of fortune or fashion, of time, customs, or opinions of any kind. The very same qualities that constituted a gentleman in the first age of the world, are permanently invariable and indispensably necessary to the constitution of the same character to the end of time. —Henry Brooke.

Grub for Goldfish.

In Japan, where fancy varieties of goldfish are highly esteemed, the "lion headed" sometimes fetching $100 a pair, silk worm cocoons (after the silk is wound off them) are used to feed the young in breeding ponds. For this purpose they are dried, pounded to a fine powder and mixed with wheat starch. Chopped earthworms and mosquito larvae supplement this item of nursery diet.

A curious practice of the Japanese is that of ornamenting goldfishes with coats-of-arms, floral devices, etc., the designs being etched with dilute hydrochloric acid.

Shape of Shells.

"Modern long-range shells are cigar-shaped. They taper both at the front and at the rear. This tapering of the rear end is called 'boat-tailing.' You have noticed that racing automobiles have torpedo-shaped sterns. A square-tailed shell or automobile is actually held back at high speeds because of the vacuum created behind it by the velocity of its movement. Tapering the tail leads the air gently and easily into the hole that the shell or the racing car bores in the atmosphere and thus lessens vacuum's impeding grip on the flying object." —Everybody's Magazine.

Taught Chinese Lacemaking.

The art of lacemaking was first taught to the Chinese of the Chefoo district by foreign missionaries about twenty-five years ago. They believed that by teaching lacemaking the women and girls would find profitable employment within their own homes, and the subsequent spread of the industry has fully justified their efforts. Although first taught in Chefoo, Chi Hsia Hsien was the first district in which lace was extensively made.

After greetings were over Helen, standing at a distance, looked at her grandparent and appraisingly said: "Grandma, I'm so glad you're so full of youngness."

Like Some Grown People.

BREEDING PAYS IN POULTRY

Records of Three Flocks of Leghorns Show Specifically Value of Purebred Males.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That the value of purebred males counts as much in poultry raising as in stock raising is shown by the records of three flocks of Leghorns, the data for which have been supplied the United States department of agriculture by the North Carolina experiment station. Flock 1, the egg production of which is included in these records, consisted of common hens; flock 2 was produced by breeding these hens to common males; flock 3 was produced by breeding flock 1 to a rooster from a high-producing hen. The following year the original flock laid 80 eggs a hen; flock 2 laid an average of 88 eggs a hen; and flock 3 laid an average of 136 eggs a hen. This increase of 54 per cent in one year tells very specifically the benefits of using a purebred male. But the percentages alone do not tell the whole story, for a big proportion of the increase came at a season—May and June—when the production of flocks 1 and 2 was relatively low and the prices were good.

POULTRY CULLING PAYS WELL

In One Demonstration in Iowa County 609 Hens Out of Flock of 1,548 Were Discarded.

In poultry culling demonstrations held on the farms of the farm bureau members in Emmet county, Iowa, records kept for eleven flocks showed 609 hens were culled out of a total of 1,548 in the flocks, according to the United States department of agriculture. The average number of eggs laid a day by the entire flocks before culling was 401.5, and the average number of eggs laid a day by the 939 hens left after culling was 346.8. The average number of eggs for ten hens a day before culling was 2.6; after culling, 3.5. The average number of eggs laid a day by 363 of the culled hens which were not immediately sold

TWO BREEDS IN SAME FLOCK

Crossing Is Prevented by Keeping Male of One Breed One Year and Another the Next.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

While keeping two distinct breeds of poultry in one yard without mixing the breeds seems difficult, it can be accomplished easily and with satisfactory results, as shown by the account of an experience just received from a New England poultry raiser. One of the kinds kept is a so-called egg breed, the other being a general-purpose variety of poultry. The method of preventing crossing is as follows:

One year, foosters of the egg-laying breed are retained and used for breeding, no other males being kept. The following year roosters of only the general-purpose stock are kept. The difference in the color of eggs of the two breeds selected is so great that hatching eggs have always been selected with a certainty as to the breed laying them. The plan necessitates introducing new males, but the advantages of keeping the blood lines of two breeds separate outweigh the slight cost of purchasing the males. The department of agriculture points out that when this method is followed on two neighboring farms an exchange of roosters might readily be arranged.

REMODELING POULTRY HOUSE

Many Stuffy Old Structures Can Be Rebuilt With Little Trouble—Cost Is Small.

Many farms have old style, closed-up poultry houses with poor light and ventilation; also old sheds and other buildings of little use for other purposes that can be remodeled or built over with little difficulty into satisfactory poultry houses, according to the United States department of agriculture.

A building of that kind usually can be made over for less than one-half the cost of constructing a new one, and if the work is well done should give just as good results. Furthermore, the work performed in remodeling the building serves as a good poultry club demonstration in poultry house construction.

KEEP ALL PROFITABLE HENS

Close Attention and Study Must Be Given to Each Individual Fowl—Some Are Layers.

Keep all hens as long as they are profitable. This calls for close attention and the study of each individual hen, but it is work that pays. The man who turns off every hen that reaches the age of two years is pretty sure to sacrifice some of his best layers.

Clean, dry litter, clean water pans and mash hoppers are essential to the health of good layers.

All air that is admitted for ventilation should be so handled that it will not blow on the fowls, especially when they are on the roost at night.

It is necessary to provide the hens with some reason for exercising in winter because they have no incentive to exercise naturally, as they do in summer hunting for bugs and worms, etc.

The birds in the farm flock should have at least four square feet of floor space per bird in their house.

A warm, comfortable henhouse will do much to secure a good egg yield, for fowls that are not comfortable cannot lay well.

One of the best ways to furnish green food is to hang a cabbage head just high enough so that the fowls will have to jump for it.

There is not much danger that

LOVE HOLDS THESE CLUB MEMBERS TOGETHER

In a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, where thousands of nameless babies first see the light of day. (Insert) Play time in the nursery of a Rescue Home and Maternity Hospital.

Out-of-Love Club members, whose little nameless babies first saw the light of day in a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, meet once a month in each of the twenty-three cities in this country in which there is a Salvation Army Rescue Home. They discuss their problems, their work, their gratitude to the organization that sheltered them when they were friendless, their plans for the future.

The members of the club, which is one of the biggest women's organizations in the country, numbering more than 30,000, were all at one time inmates of a Salvation Army Rescue Home for unfortunate women. They are all employed now in positions which the Salvation Army has found for them, and they are all making good. They come back from time to time to the meetings of their club to help the girls who are still inmates of the institutions, to bring a little sunshine into their lives and give them new hope for the future.

This is the system that the Salvation Army uses to keep in touch with the girls who have passed out of the Rescue Homes. This is one of the reasons why more than 85 per cent of all the women who are graduates of the Army's twenty-six institutions for erring girls are now supporting themselves and their children and leading self-respecting lives.

The Salvation Army Rescue Homes are one of the many activities to be supported by the Salvation Army's $10,000,000 Home Service Fund, for which an appeal will be made from May 10 to 20.

IN "CHURCH" WITHOUT ROOF SALVATIONISTS PREACH TO MORE THAN 18,000,000 YEARLY

A few of the 18,000,000 persons who attend Salvation Army outdoor meetings each year. (Insert) A penitent at the "Mercy Seat."

More than eighteen million men and women make up the congregations that attend in a single year the street meetings of the Salvation Army in this country. Six millions of these, according to conservative estimate, would never hear the gospel preached but for the practice of the Salvationists of taking the church to the people.

That practice was not an easy one to start. Between the rough-house methods of rowdies who tried to break up even their indoor services in the early days and the unwillingness of the police at first to permit the holding of street meetings the Salvationists had a strenuous time of it.

But they persisted, and the Army with the bass drum and the tambourine has kept marching on. When its officers were not preaching they were establishing hospitals, nurseries, rescue homes and institutions of all kinds for the aid of the poor and were giving themselves in unselfish service.

For forty years they financed their humanitarian efforts with the pennies, nickels and dimes collected by bluebonneted lassies in their tambourines. Then the lassies laid the tambourines aside to serve doughnuts and home cheer to Uncle Sam's boys over in France, and they suddenly awakened a public interest that made it unnecessary for the Army to depend any longer for its existence on tambourine collections.

Under the new dispensation the Salvationists present annually to the country a budget of their financial needs. To maintain their homes, their activities for children, for down-and-out men and women, for the sick and poverty stricken, they will require $10,000,000 in 1920. Their appeal for this amount will be made between May 10 and 20.

BACK AND FORTH.

"How could you have walked so many miles when you've been in all day."

"What with the children playing in the back yard and a family moving in across the street I haven't had a minute's rest."

ADDED TO ROLL OF HONOR

Soldiers Reported "Missing in Action" Have Been Classed as "Presumed Dead."

According to The Home Sector there are still between 250 and 300 members of the American front line army still unaccounted for.

In speaking of this war mystery of missing men the ex-soldier's magazine says: "Soldiers who go into battle are like men who go down to the sea in ships. There are those who return and those who do not, those who live and those who die. And then there are those who dwell for years in a twilight zone of uncertainty, neither life nor death, from which no word ever comes back to the shores called home."

"A few weeks ago the newspapers of the country announced that there were no more members of the A. E. F. 'missing in action.' The only reason they are not missing in action is that they have been 'presumed dead.'"

"There are still between 250 and 300 members of the American front line army unaccounted for, who, carried on the rolls for months and months as missing in action, seem to have disappeared from the battle field as if by the wave of a magician's wand, leaving neither the ripple of a rumor behind them, the testimony of an eye, nor a footprint in all the paths of the world."

"They are the irreducible minimum of the 50,000 lost, strayed or stolen men that the A. E. F. carried on the morning of Nov. 12, 1918, as missing in action. To guard against injustice to their relatives or friends, the war department has ordered that from henceforth they be carried as 'presumed dead' instead of 'missing in action,' in order that their war risk insurance benefits may be paid. That in brief explains why the American army as it stands demobilized today technically has no 'missing in action.'"

SLEPT AMONG THE DEPARTED

Travelers in Auto Unknowingly Selected Peculiar Place in Which to Pass the Night.

They lived in Milwaukee and "flivvered" through to Indianapolis with their two children. They left home early in the morning, arriving at Gary just before dark. Anxious to reach their destination as soon as possible, they left Gary after getting a supply of gasoline.

A few miles out of Gary a heavy rainstorm checked their progress and shrouded the countryside in pitch darkness. Losing their way they decided to turn in at the first gate and spend the rest of the night in the automobile, rather than take chances of traveling by night in the darkness on unknown roads.

A few miles further on the outline of a tree just beyond an open gate was seen, and the auto was guided beneath. The couple and children slept in cramped quarters in the auto and awakened at daybreak next morning. Imagine their horror when they discovered they had slept all night in their auto in a cemetery.—Indianapolis News.

Too Beautiful.

A man and his wife went to one of the most beautiful islands in the Caribbean sea seven years ago to spend the twilight of their lives in the serene beauty of the tropics. It was a place which the husband, a seafaring man, had chosen as the nearest approach to terrestrial paradise for those who have enough money to live without working hard.

The couple landed in New York the other day with their lures and penates and a parrot. The ideal season is just about to begin in the Caribbean, but it will start and continue without this particular pair of humans. "We want an old-fashioned New England winter," said the wife. The husband was more specific. "It was great for a while, but finally it got too doblasted beautiful. We are going back to Connecticut to see some rocks and barren fields."—New York Sun.

Siberian Y. W. C. A.

Over in Siberia a staff of Y. W. C. A. workers are slowly but surely making headway in organizing an association and in interesting girls in the various activities planned for their benefit. Overcoming the mountains of difficulties which arise from the abnormal educational and social situation in Vladivostok has been a problem to be approached slowly and with eyes open.

The workers report finding a few people interested in the things which have to do with girls and with whatever information they have gathered they are carefully developing their activities. There are sewing classes and one of the workers is conducting classes in spelling and letter writing.

Prize-Fighter Congressman.

The report that Carpentier, the prize fighter, is ambitious to become a member of the French parliament, recalls the election of John Morrissey to congress on November 5, 1867, from the "Bloody Sixth" ward of New York city, says the Springfield Republican. Morrissey's famous fight, in which he defeated Heenan, took place October 29, 1858, in the no-man's land adjoining Boston Corners in Berkshire county, afterward conceded to New York by Massachusetts. The pugilist had a long record of indictments for assault and burglary and had served nine months in the penitentiary for nine breaches of the peace. He served his district in congress satisfactorily enough to be re-elected.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 25, 1920

The people who inquire the price of things before ordering are less likely to suffer an apoplectic shock.

The more the country suffers from the lack of production, the less some folks are willing to work.

Those people who are swapping their Liberty bonds for gasoline are kicking because gas prices rise while the bonds drop.

Merchants that can't get all the advertising space they need in these times are beginning to realize the value of publicity.

The time has gone by when a man would hand out a $100 bill for a $75 suit of clothes and tell the clerk to never mind about the change.

All the men who laugh at the freakishness of feminine styles always put on their straw hats at just the same day regardless of the weather.

Those strikers who tied up the production of nails and thus held up house construction, will probably strike again soon because rents have advanced.

The housewives of Princess Anne need not expect to get any sugar for canning food products as it will all be needed for candy and soft drinks.

While the country can't get capital enough to equip its railroads and its farms, $100,000,000 a month is being spent on luxuries in New York city alone.

Those people who don't like the home stores are perhaps the ones who patronize the style shops in the big cities where they buy shoes for $6.00 and sell 'em for $20.00.

While the farmers of Maryland can't get help enough to cultivate their land and raise food, the soda-fountains and peanut stands in the cities employ great numbers of able bodied men.

In making nominations the conventions should not forget that the next president will have something more to do than read the constitution, gaze at the pictures of his predecessors and try to keep from offending anybody.

THE DISABLED SOLDIERS

The number of American soldiers disabled by war service constitutes a great army of 641,000 men, a far larger proportion than would have been thought possible. People have felt that permanent disabilities would be mostly confined to the crippled men. Yet the War Risk Bureau's figures show that 76,588 are suffering from neuro-psychiatric disease, that 46,310 developed tuberculosis, with many cases of insanity, eye and ear troubles, etc.

A large proportion of these should be restored to health and working ability. Yet the burden of those who suffered permanent impairment will be heavier than expected. The country must be generous to those men, remembering that they offered their all while the rest of us remained at home in peace and prosperity.

FUTURE OF MEMORIAL DAY

The National Memorial Day observances of May thirtieth have changed during recent years, and seem likely to undergo further modification.

But their spirit must be preserved. Twenty and thirty years ago, when the Civil War soldiers were in their prime, they were a most impressive demonstration of vigorous patriotic spirit. To-day when a remnant of elderly men are carried to the cemeteries to honor their fallen comrades, they convey pathetic as well as inspiring suggestions and they need the co-operation of younger lives to preserve the occasion permanently as a national force.

The time will soon come when the soldiers of the world war are likely to take most of the responsibility for these occasions. In many localities the Sons of Veterans will carry on inspiring and enthusiastic exercises. But in the long run this tribute to heroism will probably be conducted by men who themselves have undergone the terrific experiences of war and who know from personal experience what heroism really is.

The National Memorial Day seems likely to become a day for honoring all the men who have died in the American wars. It should include both the Blue and the Grey of the Civil War since both parties gave their lives with equal devotion to an unselfish ideal.

All the political and economic differences that created that tragic separation have fortunately passed. Such slight frictions as still remain are merely such as will always exist between different sections of every country, so long as men are selfish and grasping and illiberal. Thus Memorial Day will forever be the occasion when all men are asked to turn for a moment from their materialistic Me and honor those who have placed duty and love of humanity higher.

FLOWER CULTURE

In these times when labor is expensive, some people in Princess Anne may be tempted to give up the culture of flowers. But it would seem that in these days of short hours and labor conveniences, the modern family could find time to decorate itself with flowers. The old fashioned home with its lovely garden was no beauty bought with cash. Usually the busy housewife, already burdened with the imperative cares of a big family, could yet find chinks of time for her beloved hollyhocks and roses. And how they did glorify the simple old home!

The modern dwelling may be more tasteful than the old time home was, but if it gives up the old flower garden, its handsome brick or stucco or shingles are no substitute for the gay loveliness of the flowers. It does not take such a lot of time to develop a beautiful garden, and the results are a glorious compensation for the effort.

Insurance Claims Settled

Settlement of 127,151 insurance claims, for death and total permanent disability, and representing a total value of $1,135,552,173.45, is announced by Director R. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. Only 5,119 claims are pending, and in these cases the claimants are beneficiaries in many instances residing in foreign countries where disturbed conditions render communication impossible. It now requires only about five days from receipt of final evidence of death in an insurance case for the issuance of the first check, and frequently cases have been handled even more rapidly in the Compensation and Insurance Claims Division of the Bureau.

Periodic Bilious Attacks

Persons subject to bilious attacks at regular intervals know when to expect an attack. They find that they have no desire for food when an attack is due but usually eat because it is meal time. Skip one meal and take three of Chamberlain's Tablets and you may be able to avoid the attack. Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks should not drink tea or coffee at any time.

No. 3409 in Equity. In the Circuit Court for Somerset County.

Mary E. Taylor vs. Edward Taylor

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The Bill states that the parties were married to each other on the 25th day of August, 1910, and that they lived together until about the 15th of September, 1916; that, though the conduct of the plaintiff towards the defendant has been kind and above reproach, the defendant has, without any just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the plaintiff, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for at least three years, and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that the parties have no children born to them from said marriage; that the plaintiff is a resident of the State of Maryland, but that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and is supposed to reside in the State of New York.

It is therefore on the 20th day of May, 1920, ordered by the subscriber, Clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset County, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Somerset county once in each of four successive weeks be-

Levi P. Morton

In the death of Levi P. Morton the people of the United States are reminded of a career and life of activity that was most remarkable for its range and for the long period of time it covered. The former vice-president of the United States died upon his ninetieth birthday. A Vermont boy born of parents in frugal circumstances, he worked his way through the hard and devious avenues of ambition until he became known as one of the great international financiers of the world.

As minister to France and congressman when the free and unlimited issue of silver was the burning issue and as vice president in association with President Harrison, Mr. Morton was a figure of the first consequence in the world of business and political affairs. More than a bit of color is added to his biography by the fact of the warm place he won for himself and his country in the hearts of the French people, so that the street in front of his official residence was named after the United States, and when the Statute of Liberty, the gift of the French people, was to be erected he drove the first nail.

Mr. Morton saw a world of history and lived in an era of fine, earnest American policies, uninvited by the cross that appeals to some men in public life. His career was progressive, inspiring and in a sense monumental.—Baltimore American.

Treatment of Common Colds

"If all who catch cold could be persuaded to remain in bed for the first twenty-four hours of such an attack," says a well-known physician, "there would be fewer cases dragging on with distressing symptoms for weeks and often ending in some more serious disease." To make sure of a prompt recovery you should also take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Whether sick or well the bowels should move each day.

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY BALTIMORE

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

State Scholarships in Engineering Courses

Entrance Examinations for the Department of Engineering, as well as for the College of Arts and Sciences, will be held in the Civil Engineering Building, Homewood, Monday to Saturday, June 21st to 26th, 1920, beginning at 9 a. m. each day, under the auspices of the College Entrance Examination Board. Applications for Scholarships in the Department of Engineering, established under the provisions of the Laws of Maryland, Chapter 90, 1912, will now be received. If there is more than one applicant for a particular scholarship, a competitive examination must be taken Friday, September 17th, 1920, beginning at 9 a. m. Appointments will be made soon thereafter.

Each Legislative District of Baltimore City and each county of the State, with the exception of Cecil, Harford, Queen Anne's, Talbot and Worcester counties, will be entitled to one or more scholarships for the year 1920-21, in addition to those which have already been assigned. In the five counties mentioned above, all the available scholarships have been awarded.

Under the provisions of the Act of Assembly, the County and City Scholarships in the Department of Engineering are awarded only to deserving students whose financial circumstances are such that they are unable to obtain an education in engineering unless free tuition be granted to them. The scholarships entitle the holders to free tuition, free use of text-books and exemption from all regular fees. One of the scholarships in each county and each Legislative District of the City carries also the sum of $200. The expense of attendance for those who do not receive scholarships is not greater than other Maryland institutions.

Scholarships may be awarded to graduates of Loyola College, St. John's College, Washington College, Western Maryland College, Maryland Agricultural College, St. Mary's College, Rock Hill College. One scholarship will be awarded "At Large."

Applicants should address The Registrar, The Johns Hopkins University, for blank forms of application and for catalogues giving information as to examinations, award of scholarships and courses of instruction. The next session begins Tuesday, September 28th, 1920.

State School Teachers Scarce

Lack of public school teachers and lack of money to induce or further the growth of a teacher reserve is a problem faced by Maryland in a little more acute form than in any other section of the country. M. Bates Stephens, State Superintendent of Public Instruction last Wednesday told the State superintendents' section of the National Citizens Conference on Education in Washington, D. C.

How Maryland is fighting its battle was related by Mr. Stephens. With a shortage of approximately 700 teachers, an effort is being made, he said, through reduction of tuition costs at the Normal School, to induce girls to study for the teaching profession. A bonus of $25 is being given, he said, to young girls entering upon summer study to prepare for teaching the following year, and he hoped that the counties would add another $25 to this State bonus. He added also that an effort was being made to induce women who were successful teachers before their marriage to either accept all day or part day work, to assure them of sufficient money to provide a servant.

Among other Marylanders who attended the sessions of the conference, were Charles J. Koch, city superintendent of Baltimore, Norman W. Cameron, director of training at Baltimore, J. Walter Huntington, supervisor of the colored schools, G. H. Reavis, assistant State superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Thomas Fall, president of St. John's College, Annapolis.

POOR HATCHES IN INCUBATOR

Carelessness in Manipulation of Machine is Sure to Bring Disastrous Results.

Many causes for poor hatches of chicks in incubators can be traced to the operators not educating themselves on what is necessary in the way of fertile eggs, saving eggs for incubation and taking care of them. Eggs for incubation should be kept in a well ventilated room with medium temperature. All eggs should be turned at least once every 24 hours, and no eggs should be over ten days or two weeks old at the outside.

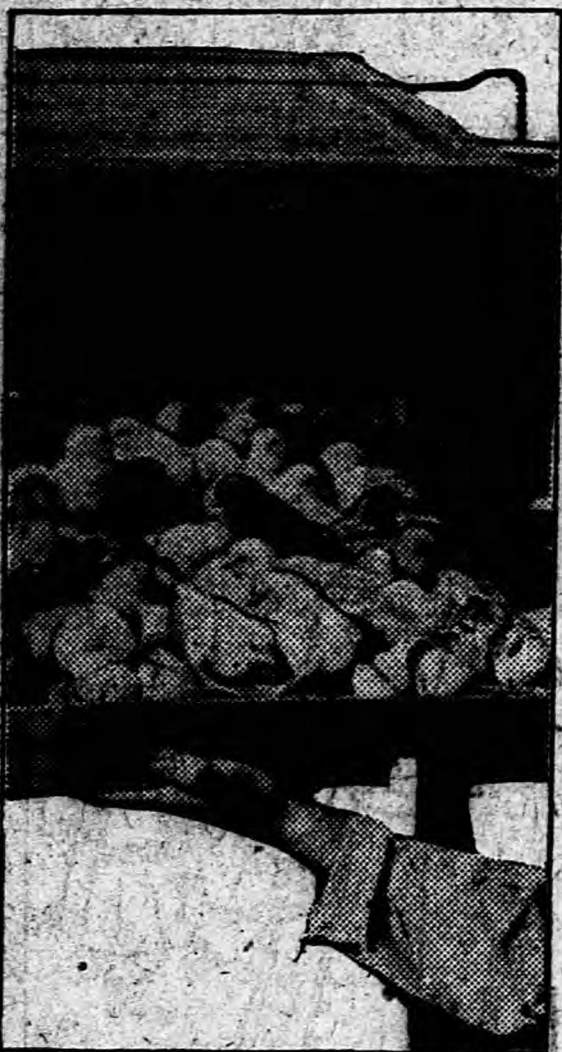

One should be careful to strictly follow the directions accompanying the incubator. The directions for one make of machine do not always do for that of another make; for the ventilation, regulation, etc., may be different.

The principal reason why young chicks die in the shell about the eighteenth day is a poorly ventilated room.

Other causes than poorly ventilated rooms are poorly regulated incubators, and eggs are not properly fertilized. An egg poorly fertilized will start to grow and die for lack of vitality. Opening up the incubator during the latter part of the hatch, or about the time the chicks begin to pip, lets out the moisture and dries the chicken up in the shell, or, in other words, stops the pores of the shell, and causes a great many to die. Under no condition should the incubator be opened after the eighteenth day until the chicks are entirely hatched.

As a rule, beginners with incubators do not read the book of directions properly. Many a person who has seen an incubator, and probably run a hatch of some other make, thinks he knows all about it, does not read the directions and makes a flat failure every time. Sometimes no consideration is given to the ventilation of the room in which the machine is placed. Possibly there may be decayed vegetables therein, or the air is stale.

There are few failures nowadays by poorly regulated incubators, except in the cheaper line of machines where the temperature will change 10, 12, and 15 degrees. One point I have noticed here at home by having a green hand set an incubator, says a writer in an exchange. He reads the directions, maybe thinks he has learned them by heart, sets his regulator as soon as the thermometer gets to 103, turns the thumb screw where he supposes is right, and places the eggs in the machine.

Now, the thumb screw and regulator is a very tender affair, and one turn of the thumb screw will cause a change in the atmosphere inside the incubator of three to four degrees. It should be turned slightly, about one-fourth of the way round, so the temperature stands just at 103.

A great mistake is made by paying too much attention to an incubator. I never see to my machine more than twice a day, once in the morning and once in the evening. I see that the regulator is set properly and everything running nicely before putting in the eggs, and then place the eggs in it and do not touch the regulator. At first it will lower the temperature a little when the eggs are put in, but if the regulator is properly set, the temperature will rise to the proper degree.

Bath of Road Dust, Tobacco and Sulphur is Excellent—Dipping is Also Favored.

One of the best methods to keep poultry free from lice is to provide a "dust bath." This may be made of a box large enough to accommodate several fowls at a time and partly filled with road dust, tobacco dust and sulphur, according to the following proportion: Road dust, six parts; tobacco, one part; sulphur, two handfuls.

Big Value in Tires for The Smaller Cars

Back of the manufacture of Goodyear Tires for the smaller cars is the same purpose to supply high value in the product that is behind the manufacture of the Goodyear Tires that equip the most expensive automobiles built.

This purpose is expressed by the enormous resources, extraordinary skill and scrupulous care applied to the manufacture of Goodyear Tires in the largest tire factory in the world devoted solely to the 30x3, 30x3½, and 31x4-inch sizes.

The effect of this endeavor is noted in the fact that last year more cars using these sizes were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

It is also noted in the fact that if you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car requiring one of the sizes mentioned, you can secure Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Goodyear Service Station.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure
Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $23.50

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure
Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread..... $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water-proof bag..... $4.50

TESTING EGGS FOR HATCHING

Satisfactory Candler May Be Made With Shoe Box Large Enough to Cover Lamp.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An egg, whether impregnated or not, has a small grayish spot on the surface of the yolk known as the germinal spot. As soon as a fertile egg is placed under a hen or in an incubator development begins. All eggs should be tested at least twice during the period of incubation, preferably on the seventh and fourteenth days, and the infertile eggs and dead germs removed. White eggs can be tested on the fourth or fifth day, while the development in eggs having brown shells often can not be seen by the use of an ordinary egg tester until the seventh day. Dead germs soon decay and give off a bad odor if allowed to remain under the hen. Infertile eggs make good feed for young chickens and are often used in the home for culinary purposes. Most incubator companies furnish testing chimneys with their machines, which will fit ordinary lamps. Electric or gas lamps may be used in a box with a hole slightly smaller than an egg cut in the side of the box and at the same level as the light. They may also be tested by sunlight or daylight, using a shutter or curtain with a small hole in it for the light to shine through.

A good homemade egg tester, or candler, can be made with a large shoe box, or any box that is large enough to go over a lamp, by removing the end and cutting a hole a little larger than the size of a quarter, in the bottom of the box, so that when it is set over a kerosene lamp the hole in the bottom will be opposite the blaze. A hole the size of a silver dollar should be cut in the top of the box to allow the heat to escape.

The eggs are tested with the large end up, so that the size of the air cell may be seen as well as the condition of the embryo. The testing should take place in a dark room. The infertile egg, when held before the small hole, with the lamp lighted inside the box, will look perfectly clear, the same as a fresh one, while a fertile egg will show a small dark spot, known as the embryo, with a mass of little blood veins extending in all directions, if the embryo is living; if dead, and the egg has been incubated for at least 48 hours, the blood settles away from the embryo toward the edges of the yolk, forming in some cases an irregular circle of blood, known as a blood ring. Eggs vary in this respect, some showing only a streak of blood. All infertile eggs should be removed at the first test. The eggs containing strong, living embryos are dark and well filled up on the fourteenth day, and show a clear, sharp, distinct line of demarcation between the air cell and the growing embryo, while dead germs show only partial development, and lack this clear, distinct outline.

FLOORS IN POULTRY HOUSES

Must Be Kept Dry, as Dampness is Fatal to Both Young and Old Fowls—Also Keep Clean.

Poultry houses may be built with or without floors. In either case they should be dry, as damp floors make damp litters, and dampness is fatal to both fowls and chicks. If the house is on dry, sandy soil, a dirt floor is usually quite satisfactory, but as a rule it is more damp than board or cement floors, according to the United States department of agriculture. Dirt floors should be scraped and new soil put in two or three times a year to keep them sanitary. If board floors are used they should be both tight and smooth so far as to make them dry and easy to clean. If possible they should be eight or ten inches from the ground to allow a circulation of air and to prevent rats from harboring under them.

Mixture of Cornmeal, Ground Peas, Bran and Middlings is Fine for Young Fowls.

HOW EUROPE CAN ESCAPE COLLAPSE

We Must Aid by Extending Credits, Says Davison.

GRAVE MENACE TO U. S. A.

European Ruin Would Involve America—Starvation and Disease Rampant.

Des Moines, Ia.—Speaking before the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Board of Governors of the League of Red Cross Societies, said:

As chairman of the Convention of Red Cross Societies, composed of representatives of twenty-seven nations that met recently in Geneva, I am custodian of authoritative reports recording appalling conditions among millions of people living in eastern Europe.

One of the most terrible tragedies in the history of the human race is being enacted within the broad belt of territory lying between the Baltic and the Black and Adriatic Seas.

This area includes the new Baltic States—Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Ukraine, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Montenegro, Albania and Serbia.

The reports which come to us make it clear that in these war-ravaged lands civilization has broken down. Disease, bereavement and suffering are present in practically every household, while food and clothing are insufficient to make life tolerable.

Men, women and children are dying by thousands, and over vast once-civilized areas there are to be found neither medicinal appliances nor medical skill sufficient to cope with the devastating plagues.

Wholesale starvation is threatened in Poland this summer unless she can procure food supplies in large quantities. There are now approximately 250,000 cases of typhus in Poland and in the area occupied by Polish troops.

Worst Typhus Epidemic in History.

This is already one of the worst typhus epidemics in the world's history. In Galicia whole towns are crippled and business suspended. In some districts there is but one doctor to each 150,000 people.

In the Ukraine, we were told, typhus and influenza have affected most of the population.

A report from Vienna, dated February 12, said: "There are rations for three weeks. Death stalks through the streets of Vienna and takes unhindered toll."

Budapest, according to our information, is one vast city of misery and suffering. The number of deaths is double that of births. Of the 160,000 children in the schools, 100,000 are dependent on public charity. There are 150,000 workers idle.

Typhus and smallpox have invaded the four countries composing Czechoslovakia, and there is lack of medicines, soap and physicians.

In Serbia typhus has broken out again and there are but 200 physicians to minister to the needs of that entire country.

In Montenegro, where food is running short, there are but five physicians for a population of 450,000.

America Overflowing With Riches.

Returning to the United States a few weeks ago with all these horrors ringing in my ears, I found myself once more in a land whose granaries were overflowing, where health and plenty abounded and where life and activity and eager enterprise were in the full flood.

I asked myself: "What if this plague and famine were here in the great territory between the Atlantic seaboard and the Mississippi valley, which roughly parallels the extent of these ravaged countries and that 65,000,000 of our own people condemned to idleness by lack of raw material and whose fields had been devastated by invasion and rapine were racked by starvation and pestilence and if we had lifted up our voices and invoked the attention of our brothers in happier Europe to our own deep miseries and our cries had fallen on deaf ears, would we not in our despair exclaim against their heartlessness?"

Only Three Ways to Help Europe.

There are only three ways by which these stricken lands can secure supplies from the outside world. One is by payment, one by credit, and the third is by exchange of commodities. If these peoples tried to buy materials and supplies in America at the present market value of their currencies Austria would have to pay forty times the original cost, Germany thirteen times, Greece just double, Czechoslovakia fourteen times and Poland fifty times. These figures are official and are a true index of the economic plight of these countries.

It is clear, therefore, that they cannot give us gold for the things they must have, nor have they either products or securities to offer in return for credit. If only they could obtain raw material which these idle millions of theirs could convert into manufactured products they would have something to tender the world in return for its raw material, food and medicine. But if they have neither money nor credit how are they to take this first great step towards redemption?

One-half the world may not eat while the other half starves. How long do you believe the plague of typhus that is taking a hideous death toll in Estonia and Poland and the Ukraine and eating along the fringes of Germany and Czechoslovakia will confine itself to these remote lands? Only last Saturday our health commissioner of New York, Dr. Copeland, sailed for the other side just to measure the danger and take precaution against such an invasion.

This is one menace at our threshold. The other, more threatening, more terrible, is the menace of the world's ill will. We can afford to die, but to be despised forever as a greedy and pharisaical nation is a fate that we must not incur.

The French government has many serious problems to solve, but the French peasant is working and the French artisan, while still sadly in need of raw materials, has not lost his habit of industry and thrift. The most encouraging fact about France today is that her people are alive to the seriousness of France's problem, and they are going forward bravely to solve that problem.

Italy, despite her great shortage of raw material, is looking forward and not backward. Italy can be relied upon to do her part.

England is meeting the problems of reconstruction just as those who knew her past should have expected her to meet them.

Plan to Aid Central Europe.

It is not for me perhaps to give in detail a formula for solution of the world's ills, but as I have been asked many times, "What would you do?" I am glad to give my own answer.

Accordingly, I would ask:

1. That Congress immediately pass a bill appropriating a sum not to exceed $500,000,000 for the use of Central and Eastern Europe.

2. That Congress call upon the President to appoint a nonpolitical commission of three Americans, distinguished for their character and executive ability and commanding the respect of the American people. Such a commission should include men of the type of General Pershing, Mr. Hoover or ex-Secretary Lane. I would invest that commission with complete power.

3. I would have the commission instructed to proceed at once, accompanied by proper personnel, to survey conditions in Central and Eastern Europe and then act for the restoration of those countries under such conditions and upon such terms as the commission itself may decide to be practicable and effective. Among the conditions should be provided that there should be no local interference with the free and untrammelled exercise by the commission of its own prerogative of allocating materials. Governmental politics should be eliminated; unreasonable and prejudicial barriers between the various countries should be removed, and such substantial guarantees as may be available should be exacted in order that the conditions imposed should be fulfilled.

4. As to financial terms, I should make them liberal. I would charge no interest for the first three years; for the next three years, 6 per cent, with provision that such interest might be funded if the economic conditions of the country were not approaching normal, or if its exchange conditions were so adverse as to make payment unduly burdensome. I should make the maturity of the obligation 15 years from its date, and I should have no doubt as to its final payment.

5. Immediately the plan was adopted I would have our government invite other governments in a position to assist, to participate in the undertaking.

6. To set forth completely my opinion, I should add that in the final instructions the American people, through their government, should say to the commission:

"We want you to go and do this job in such a manner as, after study, you think it should be done. This is no ordinary undertaking. The American people trust you to see that it is done right."

I would also say to the commission: "Use so much of this money as is needed." Personally, I am confident that with the assistance and co-operation which would come from other parts of the world the sum of $500,000,000 from the United States would be more than enough to start these countries on their way to self support and the restoration of normal conditions.

The whole plan, of course, involves many practical considerations, the most serious of which is that of obtaining the money, whether by issuing additional Liberty bonds, an increase in the floating debt or by taxation. But I think we could properly say to the treasury department:

"We know how serious your financial problems are; we know the difficulties which are immediately confronting you; we know the importance of deflation, and we know that the government must economize and that individuals must economize, but we also know that the American government advanced $10,000,000,000 to its allies to attain victory and peace. Certainly it is worth making the additional advance in order to realize the peace for which we have already struggled, for nothing is more certain than that until normal conditions are restored in Europe there can be no peace."

Above all things, I would say that whatever action is taken should be taken immediately. The crisis is so acute that the situation does not admit of delay, except with the possibility of consequences one hardly dares contemplate.

The situation that I have spread out here is far beyond the scope of individual charity. Only by the action of governments, our own and the others whose resources enable them to cooperate, can aid be given in sufficient volume. I am also confident that our action would be followed by the governments of Great Britain, of Holland, of the Scandinavian countries, of Spain and Japan, and that France and Belgium and Italy, notwithstanding all of their losses, would help to the best of their ability.

MARYLAND FARMERS TO HEAR MEREDITH

SEC. OF AGRICULTURE WILL BE FARMERS' DAY SPEAKER AT COLLEGE PARK, MAY 29.

BIG PROGRAM PLANNED

Demonstrations Will Cover All Phases Of Rural Work Including Features Of Interest To Women—Baseball Game In Afternoon.

An address by the Hon. E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, demonstrations of the value of labor saving machinery on the farm and in the home, motion picture presentations of rural activities and a baseball game between Maryland State College and Johns Hopkins University, will be the outstanding features of Farmers' Day at the Maryland State College of Agriculture, College Park, on Saturday, May 29.

The program for this seventh annual event promises to be more than usually interesting and arrangements are being made to care for hundreds of visitors from every part of the State. Every effort has been made by the faculty of the College and the corps of specialists connected with the Extension Service and the Experiment Station to make the day one of profit and pleasure to those who attend.

In addition to the regular train and trolley service to the College, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will operate several specials, both from Baltimore and Washington, to handle the passengers between those two cities and College Park.

PROGRAM COVERS WIDE FIELD.

The program for the day will cover a broad field of agricultural activities, so that there will be some particular feature of special interest to each visitor who will have the opportunity of watching such demonstrations as he most desires to see. A varied and entertaining program has been arranged for the women by the Home Demonstration Department.

The demonstration work will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning and from that time until 1 o'clock, representatives of each department will be present to explain the various exhibits. Guides will be on hand to meet the visitors and show them to the points where the demonstrations are in progress.

At 11 o'clock motion pictures will be shown in the auditorium in the Agricultural building and at 2 o'clock the address of the day will be delivered by the Secretary of Agriculture. The ball game is scheduled for 4 o'clock.

Owing to the high price and scarcity of labor, it is expected that the farmers will show particular interest in the demonstrations of labor saving machinery and the specialists in charge of this part of the program will take the opportunity to point out that the more extended use of machinery on the farm is one of the very best methods of combating the present labor situation.

TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION.

In this connection the use of the tractor in belt work will be demonstrated. Many farmers have wrongly come to the conclusion that the tractor has little value outside of its function in pulling the plow and the cultivator. Consequently the tractor is put to work on many farms for a period of approximately one month and stands idle during the remainder of the year. The many uses to which this valuable machine may be put by applying the power from the belt will be demonstrated, the idea being to show that the tractor should be kept busy every month during the year.

FEATURES FOR WOMEN.

Extensive plans have been made to entertain and instruct the women visitors. On the second floor of the Agricultural Building there will be a number of exhibits.

THAT BACKACHE SPELLS DANGER

Action Today May Save Princess Anne People Future Misery

A bad back isn't a bad thing if it serves as a warning of hidden kidney disorders. Kidney diseases are frightfully common today. We over-do so much. We don't give the kidneys a chance to rest up, and while a bad back, some urinary disorder, an occasional dizzy spell or a persistent headache may be the only outward sign, the kidney trouble that is behind it all may be overlooked or neglected. Put your signs to use. Take them as warnings. Fight off kidney weakness. It takes only a slight kidney disorder to start a case of fatal Bright's disease, from which 100,000 people die in the United States every year. Prompt treatment at first—that's all that's necessary to keep kidney weakness from turning into gravel, dropsy, gout, heart trouble or Bright's. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the oldest, the most widely used, the best recommended Kidney Pill. Fifty thousand Americans recommend them publicly. Here's one Princess Anne case:

Mrs. James A. Hayman, Beechwood St., says: "I was in a bad way some years ago with a severe backache, which caused me untold pain. Whenever I stooped over and then tried to straighten up, sharp pains like a thrust of a knife struck me in the small of my back. I was very miserable until I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used a box. I was then rid of the trouble."

ever exhibit or labor saving devices, which can be employed by the farmer's wife. These will include all manner of electrical appliances such as washing machines, electric irons, dish washers and toasters.

On the lower floor of the same building in the offices devoted to the Home Demonstration work, there will be an extensive display designed to show the conservation of clothing. Women's and children's garments and even center pieces and other fancy work will be shown as a part of this demonstration in the utilization of old clothing.

Miss Madge Reese, of the United States Department of Agriculture, will be in charge of the milk show and will demonstrate the uses and explain the value of this commodity. At 10:30 o'clock a fashion show with living models will be staged in the auditorium of the Agricultural Building and it is expected that this will be one of the most attractive features for the women visitors. Mrs. Richardson, of the Woman's Division of the War Loan Organization, Fifth Federal District at Richmond, will be present and will make a talk on household accounts and budgets.

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST JOB—AND ITS SCOPE

Every year the Presidency of the United States grows more important, until now it is recognized as the biggest job in the world. Yet few people realize that the president is not chosen by a majority vote and that several of our presidents have not been the most popular choice of all the people. This fact is clearly discussed in the story of the Presidency, one of the series of articles on Our Government, which we are issuing monthly.

TILGHMAN'S FISH FERTILIZERS

Help Solve the Farm Labor Problem

The farmer, as are many big manufacturers, is up against a shortage of labor. One of the big problems of present day farming is how to solve the labor problem. It is having the serious consideration and attention of not only the farmers themselves, but all economic experts who realize that the prosperity of the country depends upon keeping up and increasing farm production.

All authorities agree that one of the most practical ways to meet this situation is to increase the yield per acre. In other words, enable the farm owner and the help he has left to produce as much as formerly by intensive production. To bring this about the use of fertilizers is vitally necessary, for fertilizers enrich the soil, increase the yield and improve the quality.

It is much more economical to fertilize your present acreage and make your present labor more efficient than it is to plow up more acres, so use plenty of Tilghman's Fish Fertilizers and let it help you keep up your production despite your lack of help.
